High School Graduation May Take Place Outdoors as Large Class Graduates

Superintendent Tells Kiwanians Of School Costs—Miss Roy Talks on Education

Because there isn't a hall in Newton large enough to accommodate the 630 young men and women, who will be graduated from Newton High school next June, and at the same time provide seating for their friends and relatives who desire to attend the graduating exercises, Superintendent Ulysses G. Wheeler of the Newton school department announced at yesterday's meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club that for the first time in the school's history the exercises will take place out of doors in the huge football stadium. Graduation day has been set for June 10th and cannot be changed so that if inclement weather prevents the outdoor program, the 1932 class will be obliged to hold the ceremonies in the high school hall and will be limited to one ticket per pupil for father or mother.

Mr. Wheeler, who is a Kiwanian, addressed the club on the subject of school costs pointing out that education isn't expensive if we view it, as we would in the purchase of merchandise, from the standpoint of whether or not we get our money's worth. Moreover, he furnished informative facts and figures to prove that the percentage of increase in the cost of education in Newton during the past 10 years is far less than the increased cost of most of the other branches of city government. Miss Calista Roy, Assistant Superintendent of the Newton schools, who was introduced as "the hardest worker in the Newton school system," also addressed the club. She described the work that the schools are doing by comparing the present educational methods with those of the days "when we went to school."

Ten boys and girls, representatives of the 12,000 school children who make up Superintendent Wheeler's family of students, attended the meeting. They were pointed to as 10 of the reasons why Newton annually spends $1,400,000 for education, employing a force of 570 teachers and executives. The speaker decried the prevalent tendency to attack education as a major factor in the increased cost of government, declaring that education is the most important function of government because of the fact that the boys and girls we are educating today will soon be called upon to take our places, to carry on all of the varied activities of business and professional and governmental life. In a great measure, he pointed out, the success they will achieve and the prospects of our nation rest upon the training they receive in our schools. Therefore, in his opinion, they will get just about as much out of education as we are willing to put into it.

"It is not altogether what Education costs," declared Mr. Wheeler, "it is what you get out of it. Are we getting our money's worth? That's the question you should ask yourself. In buying a suit of clothes or a pair of shoes you ordinarily get value in proportion to what you are willing to pay. The same applies to Education."

Then he compared the increased costs of various civic government activities during the past 10 years. In that period in Newton the school costs have increased 72 per cent. They compare favorably with the cost of the Fire department which increased 107 per cent in the same period; of the Playground department which increased 259 per cent; Engineering, 80 per cent; City Clerk's department, 95 per cent; Law department, 204 per cent; Accounting, 94 per cent; Street department, 78 per cent; Police department, 72 per cent and Public Buildings department, 33 per cent.

"There is no reflection intended on any department in these figures," explained Mr. Wheeler, "but I just want to put the School department in the proper perspective with the others."

Kindergarten, primary grades, Junior High school and Senior High school work was explained by the speaker. He also told interestingly of the special class work that is being conducted for crippled children who are taught in the homes by teachers who go from one house to another "carrying education to the crippled youngsters" and of the lip-reading classes formed to aid those who are deaf or hard of hearing. He described the extensive and successful health program that is carried on at our schools and the physical education that is given to the pupils. The work in practical arts, in sewing, cooking and manual training was described. Vocal and instrumental instruction, evening schools, vacation school and vocational school efforts also were explained.

For her part, Miss Roy emphasized the fact that Education in the past 50 years has traveled "as fast and as far as light and transportation." School work, she declared, has advanced from the carriage days to the automobile age, from the era of the kerosene lamp to the electric light period. For instance, she selected arithmetic as "the much maligned subject". In no way is this, or any other fundamental, being neglected, she said. The subject, however, is being approached from a different angle and with different emphasis. In her opinion, more arithmetic is being taught in the schools today then ever before, but students are being taught this

Will Resurface Two Miles of Washington St.

Await Action On County Request for $30,000

It has been definitely decided by Mayor Weeks that the whole stretch of Washington street between the railroad bridge at West Newton and Peabody street, Newton Corner, will be resurfaced this Spring and Summer. Recently it was announced that probably only half of this very execrable highway would be repaired this year, but this plan has been abandoned. Already the City of Newton has received from the Commonwealth $23,000 for damage done to the street by the laying of the big Metropolitan District water main in it. In addition to this sum the Stae is going to pay the city $35,000 towards the cost of he resurfacing. The city also expects to obtain $30,000 from Middlesex County as a contribution to the cost of the big job. County officials have agreed to give this amount and the Legislature has been asked to authorize this payment. It has been roughly estimated that the work will cost about $200,000.

The State Department of Public Works will have charge of the project. It will advertise for bids and its engineers will supervise the work. There will be a 40 foot concrete roadway in the centre of the street while this will be flanked on either side by macadamized roadways permeated with tar or asphalt. It has been agreed by State officials that the work of regulating traffic on the street while the reconstruction job is in progress will be performed by men who formerly served as reserve policemen on the Newton Police Department. These men were deprived of employment when it was decided to have the police in this city do patrol duty nights in automobiles instead of on foot. Most of the reserve policemen have since been without work and the employment they will obtain when the Washington street job starts will aid them.

Weeks Campaigns As G.O.P. Delegate

Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton and Rep. Albert F. Bigelow of Brookline on Wednesday began an active campaign for election on April 26th as delegates from the ninth congressional district to the Republican National Convention. Plans for the campaign were made at a meeting in Newton in which Mrs. Ella M. Vaughn of Waltham and Mrs. Henrietta M. Cazmay of Cambridge, candidates for alternate delegate in the same district, were present.

Committees are now being appointed in every ward of the cities and towns which comprise the Ninth district—Newton, Brookline, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, Weston, Lincoln, Ward 22 of Boston and Wards 4 to 10 in Cambridge. The Weeks-Bigelow group is pledged to work for the renomination of Hoover and all four were selected on the slate prepared by Louis K. Liggett, Republican National Committeeman of Massachusetts.

Mayor Weeks, who is in his third year as chief executive of Newton, has established a state-wide reputation because of the program of economy he has instituted in municipal government. With Rep. Bigelow he is primarily interested in the renomination of Herbert Hoover for president, and the promotion of economy and reduced taxes in federal government.

K. of C. Observe Their Fiftieth Anniversary

Several Speakers At Banquet At Newton Catholic Club

Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, observed the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Order at the Newton Catholic Club, West Newton, on Tuesday night. The banquet, held to celebrate the occasion, was in charge of Walter J. Connor of West Newton, Grand Knight of the Council. Edward H. Powers officiated as toastmaster and the speakers included Rev. Robert Mantle of Newton, Joseph M. Kirby, State Deputy; James Dempsey, representing Mayor Weeks; ex-Congressman Peter Tague, James P. Gallagher, P.G.K.; John E. Riley, P.G.K., and Daniel J. Gallagher, Past State Deputy. Among the 150 guests present was Rev. Francis Cronin of East Boston.

Rev. Fr. Mantle praised the K. of C. for its co-operation with the Church in many commendable projects. State Deputy Kirby told of the aims of the Order. He was presented with a basket of flowers, sent with the good wishes of the officials of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters. Mr. Dempsey, secretary to Mayor Weeks, gave a comparison of Newton's activities in public affairs 50 years ago and today. John E. Riley, who has been a member and active worker in the K. of C. for nearly 50 years, told of the early days of this Order and the praise he had received from Pope Benedict for the work performed by the Order during the World War. James P. Gallagher indulged in reminiscences of former days in Newton. Hon. Peter Tague, representing Mayor Curley, told of the early days of the K. of C. in Massachusetts. He asserted that with conditions in their present chaotic state, the country needs stabilizing influences such as the K. of C. He contended that the Catholics in this country have not had fair numerical representation in Congress.

The principal address of the night was given by Daniel J. Gallagher. In a scholarly speech he traced the history of the American Constitution and laws of this country, modelled on the Magna Charta, which was the work of a Catholic bishop and Catholic barons. He told of the patriotic aims of the Knights of Columbus, the loyalty always displayed by Catholics in this country during national crises, and their proven patriotism. He derided the self-titled 100% Americans who contend that Catholics should not be allowed to hold high office in this country and he asserted that such bigots did not talk in this vein during the World War when Catholics furnished much more than their quota in the Army and Navy of the United States.

City Sells Land Not Needed for $50

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen it was voted to authorize the transfer of two lots of land at Needham, owned by the City of Newton as part of its water reservation, to Annie B. Page of Melrose for the modest sum of $50. The land contains 7300 square feet. This price gives the land to the Page woman for less than ¾c per square foot. The reason for this seeming philanthropy on the part of the city is explained in the following letter sent by Town Counsel Cox of Needham to City Solicitor Bartlett of Newton—

"On account of the new State Highway Route 129 being built in part along Greendale avenue, Needham, the location of Greendale avenue has been so changed in front of the property now owned by Annie B. Page that her property is left without any frontage on the street and the land now owned by the city of Newton by virtue of the relocation came between the new street line and her property, as shown on the enclosed plan.

"Don't you think the city of Newton would be willing under the circumstances to give a deed of 7,600 feet of land to Annie B. Page of Melrose, as it would appear that this area would be of no earthly use to the city of Newton?"

It was contended that the city does not need this land.

Dr. Sherwood Eddy To Speak on Orient At Newtonville

Has Just Returned From Five Months in War Zone

Dr. Sherwood Eddy has just returned from five months in the war zone in the Orient, and will speak to a union meeting on Sunday afternoon, April 10th, at four o'clock in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville square.

The committee is glad to announce that Mr. Franklin Field, the most popular baritone of Greater Boston, will sing selections at the opening of the meeting, and Rev. Randolph Merrill will preside as host for the occasion.

Dr. Eddy's topic is so timely and everyone is so deeply interested in the outcome of this war between Japan and China, that a large audience is assured.

Sherwood Eddy, comes immediately from the war zone in the Orient where he had unusual opportunities to interview leaders and obtain personal impressions of the rights and wrongs of the contending claims between Japan and China. There are few men in America who can present so thrilling an account of these important events which are bound to affect the peace of the world, and which present to the League at Geneva the most trying problem it has ever faced since it was organized

DR. SHERWOOD EDDY

Sherwood Eddy in 22 cities in China has just addressed large student audiences, presenting the challenge of Christian character as over against Communism, contending for the future control of China.

Dr. Eddy is convinced in this ences. Dr. Eddy is convinced in this present upheaval in the Orient that the fate of the Washington Conference agreement between the nine powers and the Kellogg Pact are at stake, as well as the future influence of the League of Nations.

School Committee Chairman Talks to Local Rotarians on Cost of Newton Schools

Explains His Stand On Matter of Salary Increase For Those Teachers Eligible

The situation in the Newton schools was discussed on Monday at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club by Mr. George H. Tracy, chairman of the Newton School Committee. Mr. Tracy was introduced by James B. Melcher who exemplified the speaker as one of the high type of Newton citizens who have long filled official positions. Mr. Tracy expressed his pleasure at the opportunity of addressing the local Rotarians saying that there were things to be said and to be understood regarding the cost of Newton schools. He stated that his remarks should be construed as his own personal opinions and not those of the School Committee and that if he appeared critical of other officials it was not intentional on his part and that it was only an effort to present facts. He mentioned his eight year connection with the school committee and that there was always a fine spirit of cooperation on the part of other city officials in an effort to further the welfare of pupils in the Newton schools. He cited a background of a previous position in Connecticut as Superintendent of Schools and a direct contact with school matters of more than twenty years.

On January 1st, 1925, when he became a member of the Newton School Committee the population of Newton was 48,000 as against 68,000 today. The total valuation of property in the city in 1924 was a little more than 109 millions of dollars—today it is more than 165 millions of dollars. In 1924 the tax rate was $27.40, in 1931 it was $26.60. During the past ten years ten school buildings have been built, two of which were replacements and three new junior high schools. The matter of school buildings has been a major problem and it is not yet entirely what it should be. The School Committee has a task similar to running an $11,000,000 business.

Appropriations for school purposes in 1924 totalled about $993,000 and in 1931 the amount was $1,374,463. In 1924 the actual expenditures totalled $977,466 and last year totalled $1,352,249. The differences of $16,000 in 1924 and of $22,000 last year were turned back into the Excess and Deficiency account. Mr. Tracy stated that the School Committee had a legal right to spend these sums but in the interests of economy they were turned back.

Comparing the amount spent for school purposes in Newton with amounts spent in the 39 cities of the state Mr. Tracy stated that in 1924 Newton ranked 30th spending $7.74 for each $1,000 in valuation. The highest in that year was $12.71 and the lowest $6.29. Last year Newton ranked 36th among the same 39 cities with $7.61. In 1931 the highest was $15.32 and the lowest $6.83, with but three cities lower than Newton. In 1930 Newton ranked 35th with only Boston, Salem, Quincy and Holyoke having a lower figure. Springfield, regarded as one of the high grade cities in the state in school and other municipal matters, was 20th in 1930.

In 1924 the direct appropriation to the School Department in Newton was about $929,000 and in 1931 this amount was $1,316,598. Mr. Tracy compared amounts made for school purposes to other departments in these two years as follows: Building Department—1924—$92,163; 1931—$67,000 (with five more school buildings); Forestry Department—1924—$6,504; 1931 — $10,415: Health Department—1924—$11,000; 1931—$22,000.

Referring to the cost per pupil in the Newton schools the 1924 figure was $113.45 and in 1931 it had increased to $128.43. In 1924 the teaching staff comprised 392 persons and in 1931 there were 507. The increase was largely due to the introduction of the junior high school system with more teachers needed for increased enrollment in the elementary and high schools because of the increase in population. In 1924 there were 9,168 pupils in all Newton schools and in 1931 there were 11,674. Each year for the past five years an increased enrollment of from 300 to 650 pupils has been faced. Last September the increase in pupils totalled 600.

Mr. Tracy gave figures showing the increase in cost per pupil of about $4.00 in the high school, $6.00 in the junior high schools, $10.00 in the elementary schools and $14.00 in the kindergarten. The increase in cost of the elementary school pupil was due largely to the adoption of the present salary schedule, with a maximum of $2,000. Mr. Tracy explained that salary increases went to teachers eligible for an increase upon the recommendation and approval of the Superintendent of Schools. He further explained that no increase was given unless such a recommendation was made.

Replying to rumored charges that the members of the School Committee were not businesslike in their methods Mr. Tracy stated that the committee took the precautions not to incur legal liability towards making such increases obligatory. He cited the methods of the fire and police departments where increases were obligatory until the situation was corrected a short time ago. He explained that he made this point, not in a critical spirit, but in an effort to show that

This is no time for "fuzzy" thinking! Don't let yourself be handicapped by the mental fogs that arise from a sluggish intestinal condition!

Try this suggestion, now endorsed by many physicians —

Drink Walker-Gordon Acidophilus Milk—a preparation of pure, fresh Walker-Gordon milk cultured with a hardy strain of acidophilus bacilli. These friendly bacilli—introduced into your intestinal tract with the milk—attack the germs of decay bred by our modern diet. Once they gain the upper hand, your whole intestinal condition is sweetened, seepage of poisons into the system is checked, and elimination tends to become regular and natural.

This is a sensible, scientific method of establishing healthful intestinal habits. It works — try it for 30 days and see for yourself!

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON BASEBALL SQUAD WILL GET OUTDOORS SOON

Under present plans of Coach Jeff Jones of the Newton High School baseball squad candidates for the nine will get their first outdoor practice next week. Had the weather yesterday and today been suitable the Newton mentor had planned to hold sessions out of doors but the rain spoiled all such hopes. With better weather expected outdoor work will be in order although the regular diamond will not be used until it has had a good chance to dry out and the playground department has put it into shape. Newton's first game will be on Wednesday, April 13th, with Boston English High the visitors.

Once out of doors Coach Jones plans a series of games in order to determine what ability his many charges have under fire and under conditions similar to those which prevail in a real game.

The most important news of the local squad is the transfer of Alexander Kevorkian to the catching squad. Kevorkian is a big rugged lad with an ideal build for a catcher. Last year he played third base for the intermediate baseball team and was expected to hold down the hot corner on the varsity this season. There is considerable third base material on hand but a lack of catching material and if the Newton mentor can develop Kevorkian into a fair catcher it will strengthen the entire team. Kevorkian will have a battle on his hands to edge the other leading candidates for the job which include Norbert Champagne, Frank Feola and Siran Malkasin.

WANT POLLS KEPT OPEN LATER

Prior to the national election in 1928 ex-Alderman Powers made a motion at a meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen that the polls in this city be kept open till 7 o'clock in the evening. His motion was not even seconded. This matter will again come before the Newton aldermen at their next meeting on April 4. Alderman Hill of Ward 2 has been asked by the Young Republican Club of Newton to seek the later closing date of the polls. Apparently the Republicans of Newton have changed their minds on this matter.

The plan does not meet with the approval of some veteran election officers in this city. At least one threatens to resign if the change is made. He says that with the polls opening at 6 a. m., it is necessary for election officers to be on hand at 5 a. m., and if the polls are kept open till 7, the men on duty will not finish their work till long after midnight. Probably it would not be necessary to open the polls as early as 6 a. m. if they will not close until 7 p. m., or the election officers might work in two shifts.

MANY LEAKS IN NEW SCHOOLS

The severe wind and rain storm of last Sunday night and Monday morning proved that a number of the newer public school buildings in this city are not weather proof under such conditions. At the Weeks junior high school at Newton Centre about 15 leaks showed on the walls and ceilings. Several of these were around the tower of the building. More were through the walls on the second floor and others were through the walls on the first floor. Some water seeped through the wall in the boiler room and a considerable amount of water seeped into the storage room in the basement where the girls park their bicycles.

Leaks also became evident at the Cabot School, Ward School, Warren School and Day School. The older school buildings in the city, most of which were erected by local contractors, have proved to be of better contruction. They do not leak, as do the newer structures.

INQUEST REPORT ON WEST NEWTON FATALITY

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Brown of East Boston made his report on the inquest held on the death of George E. Ames of Arlington who was killed by a train at the West Newton station on February 18. Judge Brown found that no unlawful act on the part of any person caused Ames' death. Stephen Fallon, trainman on the train which killed Ames testified that before the train started from he station, Ames was walking back and forth along the platform. Fallon asked Ames if he was going to board the train and the latter shook his head to indicate that he was not. The train started, Ames walked towards the rear end of the last car and was run over by the wheels under the last truck on the car.

Spring Concert Delights Audience

The enthusiasm of the audience which attended the Spring Concert of the Highland Glee Club at the High School Auditorium last Tuesday evening was a testimonial to the warm place which this musical organization has earned in the hearts of the people of the city, and hearty applause showed the keen delight with which each number of the varied program was received. The performance of the club was of a high order, as well as the part of the program provided by outside talent.

One of the most pleasing numbers of the well arranged repertoire was the story of "Gay Lochinvar," with a solo by Ernest Schleicher, a club member. His voice, a resonant baritone, was most effective. This and the other numbers by the club showed the excellent disciplinary training which has been acquired under the leadership of the conductor, Mr. D. Ralph Maclean.

The soloist of the evening, Miss Elizabeth Travis, a young and talented pianist, created a most favorable impression. In an unassuming manner, she gave a most delightful interpretation of Beethoven's "Sonata" with taste and delicacy of execution. Her rendition of Toch and Debussy also displayed rare ability in presenting these modern composers in their different moods. Miss Travis, after repeated recalls, responded with encores which further revealed her versatility.

The program was further enriched by Marguerite Porter, a Boston soprano, who has appeared with the club on previous occasions. She assisted in "Spring Night" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny." She is an artist of rare personal charm and her voice had a splendid, inspiring quality. The work of Mr. Karl Switzer, the club accompanist, was up to its usual excellence and contributed materially to the success of the evening.

KIWANIS KARNIVAL

"Big Brother" Bob Emery, well known radio entertainer of Station WNAC, will be master of ceremonies at the Kiwanis Karnival, the big Milk Fund benefit vaudeville show to be held next Monday night, April 4th, in the Paramount Theatre, Newton. There has been an unusually large sale of tickets for this entertainment and frolic, which will begin at 11 o'clock in the evening and run for approximately two hours. Ten star acts have been billed.

Emery, who presided at the show in the same theatre, last Fall for the benefit of the Mayor's Relief Committee, will present some of his own favorite radio numbers and in addition will introduce, in the chatty manner which has characterized his many years before the microphone, all of the other entertainers. Use of the theatre has been donated free and the services of all the vaudeville performers have been contributed without charge so that the entire proceeds will be used by the Newton Kiwanis club for the benefit of the under privileged children.

Among the acts announced today are the following: Chet and Eileen Boudrot in "Playing Round;" Joe Antonelli in "Echoes of Caruso"; Miss Mildred Beardsley, xylophone and pianologue; Thor A. Rylander, "The Man of Mystery"; George Hutchings, "A Study in Black"; Edwards & Company, piano-song novelty; Miss Julia Gonsalo, songs of pep, with Louis Tabaldi at the piano; Ernest Jollie, songs of Today. In addition there will be choral singing of Kiwanis songs by the members of the club led by Edward N. Griffin, musical director of the public schools, and the Paramount Sound News—Eyes and Ears of the World.

One of the big feature acts of the show will be the "Wankinas Minstrels", produced and directed by John J. Dunleavy. Interlocutor, Hugh S. Boyd; End Men, Joe Murphy, Mammy Fried, George Theriault, Roland Sancomb; Ladies in the Cast, Mae King, Winifred Bouzan, Margaurete McNeil, Alice McStay, Gertrude Ryan, Gertrude Lyons, Katherine McComisky, Lillian McComisky, Madalin Rooney. Men in the Cast, Bunny McNeil, Honey Theriault, Carlo Compisi, Alfred Boudrot, George Champagne.

The DelMonie and Lyons Dancing team will also have a part.

John N. Snider is general chairman of the arrangements and special committees are working under the direction of the president of Newton Kiwanis, Charles A. Mahoney. More than a score of "lucky ticket" prizes will be distributed during the performance.

NEWTON EMBLEM CLUB

At the meeting of the Newton Emblem Club held last Monday evening in Elks' Hall, Newton, Mrs. Alice K. Burns, past president, conducted a social which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Connolly, of 18 Wiltshire road, Newton, was the lucky winner of the ton of coal donated by the B. S. Hatch Coal Company to the Newton Emblem Club.

Fire Chiefs To Be K. of C. Guests

An invitation is extended to all men in the community to be the guests of Newton Council next Tuesday evening in Elks' Hall, Newton, when they have as their guests all the Fire Department, Chiefs from Newton and the neighboring cities and towns. The Chiefs of Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Brookline, Weston, Needham, Wellesley, are to be present.

A showing will be made of the motion picture which was made under the direction of the City of Boston depicting all phases of fire-fighting. This is the first showing of the film in Newton and is highly instructive as well as intensely interesting. Lt. James J. Donovan, Aide to the Commissioner, will deliver a short talk in connection with the film.

The station life of the fireman, his training and scenes of the fire department in action have all been recorded by the camera. The Boston Dept. is one of the largest in the country and the magnitude of their work can only be appreciated after viewing the film. A special section is devoted to the Harbor fire-fighting unit. Pictures of the fireboats in action, their equipment, etc.

The City of Newton is one of two Class A ranking cities in the State and has been given as an example of modern fire fighting excellency by the fire insurance underwriters. The department has been built to its present high standard of perfection largely through the efforts of Mr. Clarence Randlett, Chief of the Newton Dept. Chief Randlett will explain the necessary steps which had to be made in connection with the placing of Newton in the Class A ranks. As a result of this remarkable work, Newton will this year enjoy a reduction of 10% in the fire insurance rates.

Many of the local firemen who are off duty Tuesday night are planning to be present. The meeting is scheduled for 8:30 P. M. and all the men and youths of the city are invited to come and get an inside glimpse into the workings of this important division of city protection.

TO HONOR THE MEMORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

An illustrated lecture on "Colonial Gardens" will be given by Bradford Williams at the Eliot Church Chapel on Wednesday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the Woman's Association of Eliot Church.

This lecture is based on a manuscript originally prepared for the U. S. George Washington Bicentennial Commission and is now offered by special permission. The slides have been especially selected to show the garden design of George Washington's time and they will be given to illustrate the following subjects:

The Colonial Garden: its History and Meaning, Mount Vernon and Other Colonial Places of the South, Gardens and Places of Colonial Philadelphia, Homes and Gardens of Old New York, Gardens of Old Salem and the New England Colonies, Colonial Gardens of Charleston, and the Far South, The Colonial Garden of Today.

Mr. Williams is a resident of Newton and a graduate of the Newton High School, class of '15 and of Harvard '21. He later studied at the Graduate School of Landscape Architecture at Harvard and besides being a member of the American Society of Landscape Architects is a contributing editor to the American Magazine of Art.

NEWTON AVIATOR SUSPENDED

On Monday Registrar of Motor Vehicles Ryan suspended for 30 days the right of Ralph Kenyon of 345 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, to operate aircraft in Massachusetts. The cause of this action is because recently Kenyon was forced to land his airplane on the ice at Lake Waban, Wellesley, while on his way to his hangar at Natick. Kenyon operates the plane for pleasure and has a Federal permit. Following the forced landing he was brought into the Dedham district court and found not guilty of operating the plane without a Massachusetts license, as he proved he does not require one. He contemplates taking the matter to court to test the right of Registrar Ryan in suspending his right to operate the airplane.

A very pleasing program has been arranged by Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, the director of the orchestra. He has secured Mr. A. Ralph Tallby, well known soloist, who has offered his services for the afternoon.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

FENCING DUEL TO FEATURE PRODUCTION

In the play "The Marquise", to be given Saturday evening, April 2, by the Newton Dramatic Club at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse, two schools of fencing will be represented. Duke Esteban will use the Spanish flourish and parry while The Count of Vriaac will fence in the French manner. The duelling scene is the high point of the third act.

The chairman of properties is Mrs. Charles Norton who is perfecting a beautiful setting for the action of the play. There are thirteen costumes made expressly for this production by Sally White Studios. Every one is exactly of the period of early 18th century—copied from prints of that time. The photographs which are being displayed in the various Newtons were taken in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Walworth who are patrons of the Club.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Harry E. Moore of Newton Center and Mrs Roger B. Tyler of Newton are in charge of the coming card party at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, on Monday afternoon, April 4. This is a club function and is in behalf of the families of disabled veterans. Assisting Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Tyler are the following Newton ladies: Mmes. Grace Donovan, Perry S. Fay, Raymond A. INCREASE IN SCHOOL COSTS NOT ABNORMAL

We carry in our news columns this week addresses before the two local service clubs on the general theme of the cost of Newton Schools. Lack of space in this week's issue forces us to postpone the comment we had intended to make on this subject until next week. We do, however, agree with the contention that the increase in Newton school costs is not abnormal or out of proportion to other increased municipal costs and the growth of the city.

Washington Street will be resurfaced from Newton Corner to West Newton—this is real good news.

March came in like a lion with snow and went out like a lion with thunder.

Today is April Fool's Day—watch your step.

Under The Gilded Dome

Already the Legislative Committees have reported on 1194 of the 1637 matters referred to them this session. This is more than 72 per cent and shows a speedier disposition of matters at this time than was the case a year ago the last week in March. There are 443 matters to be reported which shows that there is still plenty of work before both branches. One thing has been commented upon and that is the length of daily sessions in the Senate and the House. Until the present month debates were not frequent. Now, however, scarcely a matter is acted upon without a great deal of talk. The Senate broke all records for the year when it remained in session March 24 until nearly 6 p. m. wrangling over the proposal to reduce the salaries of legislators.

The so-called "Lame Duck" amendment to the Federal Constitution relating to the length of the sessions of Congress have been acted upon by both branches. They have referred the matter to "the next General Court", with a provision that the voters at the State election next November shall vote whether or not they favor the proposed amendment.

The House overturned three reports of the Committee on Labor and Industries for changes in the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act. Representative Luitwieler opposed substitution in the course of the debate and he and Representatives Baker and Thompson were recorded against the bills. These bills included one to provide that compensation of employes injured in industrial accidents be paid from the day of the injury. Another provides that employes injured in industrial accidents be compensated during the entire period of total incapacity. The third defines the term "average weekly wages" as compensation during a six-day week.

Visitors to the Governor's office during the administrations of Gov. Fuller and Gov. Allen will remember Francis O. P. Carlson, assistant secretary. Mr. Carlson, who is now a deputy tax commissioner, has been decorated by the War Department with a medal of the Purple Heart for meritorious service in the World War.

Of the various power and light measures, so called, none has aroused more discussion this session than the bill to abolish the so-called service charge by gas and electric companies. The Committee on Power and Light reported adversely but the House substituted the bill for the committee's report. The Senate, however, killed it. By rollcall, 15 to 7, the Senate refused to order the bill to a third reading. Senator Hollis was recorded as voting against the bill.

The Senate killed the bill eliminating educational requirements as a prerequisite to the taking of civil service examinations. The House had passed the bill but the Senate voted to reject by rollcall, 19 to 15. Senator Hollis was recorded as voting against the bill.

Among the proposals rejected by this year's Legislature during the past week were the following: that the fee for licenses for pasteurization of milk be reduced to 50 cents, for amendments to the law relative to production, distribution and sale of milk and cream; that insurance companies be authorized to select their risks in connection with the issuing of policies under the law relative to compulsory liability automobile insurance; for legislation to provide alternative and optional compulsory liability insurance for owners of motor vehicles; for legislation to provide that veterans who are members of the Boston police department may be included in the retirement system of that city; for amendment to the law relative to compensation of dependents of policemen and firemen who are killed in the performance of duty; relative to the retirement of members of police and fire departments of cities and towns; that public utility corporations be prohibited from making charges for other than commodities actually used by consumers and for an investigation and the State Department of Public Health and Public Welfare relative to the financial needs of certain expectant mothers.

The Democratic members have been more or less stirred up over the Presidential primaries which take place April 26. The differences between the Smith and Roosevelt forces have caused more or less friction and this will probably continue until the date of the primaries. The Republicans have nothing to worry about and can devote, as they are doing, their entire time to the Legislature.

A bill providing for the establishment of a State Board of Registration of Hair Dressers and Cosmetologists has been reported by the Committee on State Administration. It is based on a petition of Senator Max Ulin of Boston. Originally the bill included electrologists but that provision was stricken from the draft reported by the committee. The bill has been given its first reading in the Senate and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

subject as they will use it in their daily lives—to know the value of money, how to make change, to do errands—and the abstract work is being postponed.

"About the only arithmetic grown men and women—the average grown man or woman—use today is the addition and subtraction necessary for properly keeping a check book," she said, "A survey, and a rather extensive one, made among mature persons of the present day discloses that rarely does one use square root or cube root and never do they use short division."

Oral reading of the old days is passing out and in its place the teachers of today are striving to direct the child to understand the meaning behind the printed words, she explained. Once upon a time any child who could stand up in class to the command of "Next" and "You Next", reading aloud with emphasis, and without knowing what the meaning was all about was considered a good reader. Now the youth is being shown what lies behind those printed words.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The highway of Life may be a hard road to travel but why do some people find it necessary to argue every foot of the way.

Are You One of These?

A small red flag fluttered from the top of a ladder that reached from the sidewalk to the telephone, electric light and other cables. What could it mean? Not an auction, certainly, but nevertheless a sign of something. Danger? Ah, maybe so.

And yet you would assume that the man at the top of the ladder was the only one in peril and naturally he knew all about it before he ascended. Had he worn a uniform it might have meant that he was one of a signal corps and at that moment engaged in a drill or some sort of military maneuver. Hardly probable.

Still, there the flag fluttered and beneath stood I, wondering and groping for an explanation that seemed convincing. I dared not call to the man above. He was obviously busy and, no matter how experienced one may become roosting on ladders, any unexpected noise might upset him. I hesitated to expose him to that.

Suddenly I became thrilled. The dawn of a sunburst of intelligence. How foolish of me not to have thought of it before! A warning for the superstitious. "Don't walk under this ladder" was the message without words. What a thoughtful act. Had I not seen the flag fully 150 feet away I would surely have pranced beneath the ladder. And then what would have happened? But let us not go into that. We need only thank the company—I know not if it was telephone, electric light or what—which so understands the dread that fills the hearts of those who inadvertently walk beneath a ladder. My own narrow escape will linger for a long while in my memory.

Where "News" Comes From

One of those half-ideas that came to me recently has achieved full bloom in another mind. How often that happens to all of us. We think of something and then discover that another has had the same thought and fully developed it. It had occurred to me that the daily newspapers throughout the country owed considerable to the State of New Jersey for such news stories as are carried on for days and days and which help increase the number of readers.

Lo and behold I have found that a well known newspaperman in New York has written an article beginning, "In the last decade the 'Skeeter' state of New Jersey has furnished the newspapers of the United States, and particularly those published in New York City, with some of the most thrilling stories to ramble across the copy desk of a city room."

The allusion to the technical process by which these matters are handled need not puzzle you. It means what a lot of people call "sensational articles". The writer, Stanley B. Rose of "Newsdom", cites the Lindbergh kidnapping and then adds, "For years gangland murders, husbands slain by pleasure-seeking wives, suicides and deaths involving national and international personalities have crept into the news columns from the sovereign state across the Hudson."

He proceeds to specify such cases as the Hall-Mills murder where a minister and a woman member of his choir were murdered by unknown persons; the "Black Tom" explosion in which a long train of cars, loaded with ammunition for use by the Allies in France, exploded; the famous silk strike at Patterson and Passaic, the death of Thomas A. Edison, several bank robberies, mysterious murders, etc., all of which you must recall.

"Metropolitan city desks are ever alert when news flashes speed across the wires from New Jersey," says the writer. Is it any wonder?

The "Lame Duck" Question

"Pro Bonehead Publico" is the signature attached to an anonymous communication in which this column is asked to elucidate the phrase "Lame Duck" as applied to sessions of Congress. I confess to a feeling that the letter is genuine. If my reading of many detective stories has helped me in such matters my deduction is that the writer was a woman. As I reconstruct the crime—no, I don't really mean that—she wrote in a facetious mood but still was like a lot of people who had read Washington dispatches and the news from the State House about ratification of the latest proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution.

A Congressman who is not reelected is called a "Lame Duck" and when he returns to Congress to finish out his term after election he must face the scorn of his colleagues. What the change proposed would bring about is an end of the Congressman's term when defeated. Personally, I have thought it must be embarassing for a man to go back to Washington with the knowledge that he has only a few months to serve and that a new man has already stepped into his shoes, or at least will be wearing them after a time.

Personally, I am not one to get excited over such matters. I observe that the Massachusetts Legislature is not going to allow itself to be drawn into the controversy. Ordinarily, the Legislature is called upon to ratify any proposed amendment to the State Constitution. Ours has dug up a law whereby the matter may be placed on a ballot for the people to first decide. Well, another question or two added to our ballot next Fall won't make much difference. There are so many things we haven't time to try to understand that "Lame Duck" may as well be included.

Regarding April First

This is All Fools' Day. If you should ask me there is no need of any celebration. There has been too much fooling going on, one way and another. There has been too much spirit of placing a brick under a silk hat, tying a string to an empty purse and pulling it back at the approach of a near-sighted stranger, making fictitious telephone calls and that sort of thing. We may not have done these very things but we have been fooling a lot, fooling ourselves as well as other people.

This is the season of the year when the old-fashioned New Englanders prescribed for themselves sulphur and molasses. They took it in generous doses and contended that it was a first class remedy. Some sort of mental nostrum might not be so bad for the present day.

Police News

A 5 mile chase of two automobile thieves by Patrolman McKeown of the Waltham police ended late Sunday night when the stolen car hit a pump at the filling station at Washington street and Lowell avenue, Newtonville. The car, owned by Percival Lombard of Brookline, was stolen in Boston early Sunday evening. Patrolman McKeown was on Moody street, Waltham, near Maple street when the car came along and hit a sign post. McKeown commandeered a passing car and gave chase. The pursuit led along Moody and Crescent streets to Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, thence through West Newton to Lowell avenue. During the chase McKeown fired five sohts from his revolver. The two occupants of the car who were arrested by McKeown are Walter Connolly of 2554 Washington street, Roxbury and Frank Lannon of Barry street, Dorchester. Connolly was also charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

A car driven by Walter Batten of Belmont swerved off Dudley road, Newton Centre, at 2:15 a. m. Saturday morning, crashed through bushes at the side of the street and banged into a ledge. The car was badly damaged but Batten escaped injuries. He was arrested by Serg. Crowley and Patrolmen Smith and Sullivan who arrived at the scene shortly after the crash. In the Newton court on Saturday Batten was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor.

A number of houses on Peabody street and nearby streets at Newton have been entered by a burglar who enters while occupants are away during afternoons.

George Dunn, 39, of Bangor, Me., was arrested Monday night by police at Newton Centre after they had observed him calling at several houses. He claimed at first that he had called at the houses to ask directions, but later he admitted having been asking for money. He was charged with being a tramp, although he was riding in an automobile. How can a man "tramp" in an automobile? In the Newton court on Tuesday Dunn's case was placed on file on condition that he depart from this city without delay.

Carl Lawson of Arlington was in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with passing two worthless checks and with selling a leased automobile. His case was continued for two weeks.

Edmund Ravinski, 22, of 34 Chandler place, Upper Falls, broke his left arm recently and on Monday night he broke the law by pulling a false alarm from Box 621. When the firemen and police arrived Ravinski was arrested by Patrolman Carley. He was considerably under the influence of fire-water. In court Tuesday Judge Bacon gave him a suspended jail sentence of 30 days and ordered him to pay $50 to the city for the expense caused by the false alarm.

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

The Junior High School indoor track meet was held at the Senior High School on Thursday, March 24. The events included a 35 yard dash, standing broad jump, running high jump, one lap run (80 yards), and a relay race. The results were as follows: Grade VII: Weeks 21, Bigelow 10, Warren 7, Day 7; Grade VIII: Warren 23, Bigelow 11, Weeks 8, Day 1; Grade IX: Warren 18, Weeks 18, Day 7.

At the Wednesday morning assembly a play, entitled "Imagination", was ably presented by the members of Room 211 under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Jackson. The pupils who took part in the performance were: Betty Golden, Shirley Flynt, Barbara Ernst, Walter Dietz, and Lester Davis.

The first issue of the "Weeks Junior World" appeared this week. It is a fifty-six page magazine, containing articles from all the departments in the school, and was designed and printed by the pupils themselves. This copy contains a foreword by Mayor Sinclair Weeks and is dedicated to John Wingate Weeks, after whom the school is named.

At the concert on Friday evening the Weeks Band will for the first time wear their new uniforms. These consist of an over-seas cap, cape, and jersey in the school colors, blue and buff, and white skirts or trousers.

One of the attractive features of the program will be the trumpet soloist, Mr. Charles F. Perry. Mr. Perry, well-known to radio audiences, is a member of the People's Symphony of Boston, the New England Conservatory Symphony, and is director of instrumental music in the schools of Wellesley.

WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

Assembly

On March 23, for the first time this year, the students were entertained by the Warren band. The first three selections, "School Spirit", "Cavaliers", and "Buccaneers", were led by Mr. Spaulding, director of instrumental music in Newton. Mr. Tower, club adviser, led the last piece entitled "Our Band". During the playing the four drum-majors, Jean Budding, Jessie MacDonald, Sally Bushnell, and Priscilla Tobey, took positions in front of the band. Following the Warren band, moving pictures on Washington's life were enjoyed by all.

Athletics

Basketball games are still being played between the home rooms. The girls' varsity defeated the 1931 alumnae on March 23 with the final score 14-12. The girls playing on the Warren team were Barbara Carle, Betty Stephen, Ruth Wheaton, Réjane Harvey, Margaret Mathews, Virginia Lamb, and Dorothy Gardiner.

On March 24, the Warren team won the seventh and ninth grade contests at the Senior High School meet. Of the four schools participating in the meet, Warren won the most points, 55.

STEALS TRUCK, GOES TO HOSPITAL

Francis McCarthy, 20, of 35 Nonantum place, Newton, was severely injured shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning when a truck he is alleged to have stolen from in front of a garage on Felton street, Waltham, overturned at the corner of Crafts and Walnut streets, Newtonville. McCarthy was being chased by two Waltham men. Warrants against him were issued in the Newton court yesterday charging unlawful appropriation of the truck and driving while under the influence of liquor. As McCarthy is at the Newton Hospital, his trial was set for April 7 and his bail fixed at $900.

The outstanding picture for the last half of the week will be "Broken Lullaby." This picture on its Boston run was called "The Man I Killed," which was a misleading title because it is one of the most heart touching dramas ever written. The cast, headed by Lionel Barrymore, includes Phillips Holmes and Nancy Carroll. On the same program with Prestige will be Warner Oland in Charlie Chance's and with Helen Twelvetrees will be seen in Panama Flo, a picture taken in Panama, on the same program with "Broken Lullaby." McMillan To Lecture on Arctic

Perhaps the most interesting feature of Captain Donald B. MacMillan's lecture before the Central Club next week will be the pictures and story obtained by him on his airplane explorations of the Arctic regions. For many years the Arctic explorers had to work under the most terrible difficulties as they ploughed their way through waters filled with floating ice, frequently under circumstances of great danger, or as they made their way over rough ice and snow on their dog sleds or on foot. The advent of the airplane has multiplied the power of the explorer a hundred times. He can now cover in a day the therritory which it took weeks or months to survey before. Captain MacMillian through the use of this modern method of exploration has thus added enormously to the knowledge which the world possesses of the forbidding regions of the north. He will give the story of his adventurous journeys in his lecture to the Central Club at Central Church, Newtonville, Monday evening, April 4th. The lecture is open to the public and will begin at 8 o'clock. It is profusely illustrated with motion and stereopticon pictures. The lecture is preceded by a dinner for club members and friends at 6:30.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Schools

the School Committee used a more businesslike method.

Referring to the intense public interest in schools and the cost of operation the speaker wondered if many people lost the true perspective because of the fact that the problem was so close. He gave figures to show that the increase in school costs was not out of proportion to those of other city departments in the past ten years. From 1921 to 1931 expenses in the General Dept. have increased 503 per cent, in the Accounting Dept. 94 per cent, City Clerk's Dept. 95 per cent, Engineering Dept. 80 per cent, Police Dept. 72 per cent, Fire Dept. 106 per cent, Playground Dept. 259 per cent, Street Dept. 78 per cent, Welfare Dept. (with the heavy burden of the past two years) 76 per cent and in the School Dept. 72 per cent. Commenting upon these increases Mr. Tracy said that he deemed that all were justifiable and gave them only to show that the csts of our schools are not running away as many would have us believe. Such a checkup with other departments reveals that these increases are normal and have arisen out of new demands upon the school system and out of situations over which there is no control. With this comparison there can be no real grounds for criticism of school costs.

Mr. Tracy explained in detail the situation in regard to increases in teachers' salaries this coming year. The subject was first discussed by the School Committee last fall but no decision was made. Nearly $7,000 was the amount necessary to raise salaries of all teachers eligible for an increase, provided it was so recommended, for the four months of 1932 from the opening of school in September to December 31. The amount involved is small and if it were figured in the tax rate would make a difference of less than half of a cent. With $530,000 in the Excess and Deficiency Account and a total city budget of $4,536,000 it will be necessary to raise about $4,000,000, less certain amounts received from state and county funds by the tax levy. The item of $7,000 is negligible from this standpoint.

In making up the school department budget the committee took off $5,000 from the amount originally recommended, to provide new teachers and eliminated the item providing for sabbatical years. The Mayor reduced the request for miscellaneous supplies by $10,000. Mr. Tracy stated that this item includes funds used to purchase textbooks and while there had never been enough money provided to replace textbooks the department had been able to get along, although some of the books were in extremely poor condition.

At the January meeting the subject of salary increases was discussed at length and the committee finally voted to include the item of $7,000 in the budget. Since this action was taken those who voted to retain the item had been subjected to severe criticism which Mr. Tracy felt was not justified. He said that "the salary of no teacher has been increased as yet nor do I know whether or not any increases will be given". He also explained that the budget is made up in January and that salaries are fixed at the April meeting to go into effect in September. He went on to show what the result would have been if the $7,000 item had not been included in the budget. If the committee later decided that salaries should be increased the money would not have been available unless a request was made for an additional appropriation. Additional requests for funds for salary increases made after the passage of the budget could be refused by the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. As the matter stands now the School Committee has the money available and any part of it not used may be turned back into the Excess and Deficiency account.

"But there are other considerations involved," Mr. Tracy added. He stated that he could not see why a teacher who was drawing a salary below the maximum and was eligible for an increase should be penalized for not getting the usual increment while the teacher who was already getting the maximum escaped penalty. It seemed to the committee the fair thing to do was to have the money available if the time came when it was decided to use it. He mentioned the fact that he was recorded in the negative on the vote but that this was because he was opposed to the reduction of another item and not because he was opposed to the increases. Mr. Tracy further remarked that no good reason had yet been given him as to why the increases should not be granted but that if there were a good reason he would give it close attention. It was his opinion that there is no necessity for retrenchment with the city in its present good financial condition. He failed to see any reason why Newton should set an example to other cities where financial conditions have run riot. He also expressed himself willing to help work out a plan which would be equitable to all should the necessity for retrenchment arise but he is unwilling to penalize the lower salaried teachers just to set an example. "Newton should manage its affairs for Newton and not for other cities who have gotten into financial difficulties."

Concluding his remarks Mr. Tracy intimated that he would retire at the end of his present term in the belief that "no man should serve too long in any public position." "There are others competent to assume public duties and to succeed one who has served a reasonable period. If I have done anything towards the upbuilding of Newton and its schools I am glad. Public matters need the co-operation and understanding of all and I am grateful to have had the opportunity of expressing my views before the Newton Rotary Club."

In response to a question regarding the present lower cost of living having an effect similar to a raise in salary of all teachers Mr. Tracy agreed that there was some truth in this assertion although doubting the probability of a 24 per cent reduction in living costs as being applicable to Newton. The lower cost of living does not change his feeling in the matter of teachers' salaries because the increase in such salaries can be readily likened to a realization on an investment which the teacher has previously made in obtaining an education. Mr. Tracy expressed the feeling that there is a moral obligation involved and that Newton teachers are getting a fair living wage and are by no means overpaid.

On April 4th the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be in charge of the Conservation committee, with Mrs. Justin Starkie, chairman. Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, chairman of the Massachusetts Federation Conservation committee, will give an illustrated lecture on "Flowers, Gardens, Trees."

Mr. Keith's lecture is quite different from the ordinary, resulting from the fact that he uses especially prepared, imported lenses which reproduce the actual picture, retaining all the natural coloring and beauty of the scene taken. His slides are neither painted nor colored after the picture has been made, but colors are stamped indelibly on the lens as the picture is taken. Mrs. Keith interprets, from her rich storehouse of literature, the exquisite slides that Mr. Keith has made.

In place of the quartette scheduled for this meeting there will be a Concerto arranged for two pianos.

Following the program, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, president, will receive informally, with five of the Club's officers. The Hospitality committee will serve tea.

tion of beautiful prints, chiefly on exotic subjects indicative of New Mexico.

The Club Chorus will give a request program at the Community Musical Hour on Sunday, April 10th. Suggestions for selections may be sent to Mrs. H. A. Nissen, of 67 Grafton street.

State Federation

JOINT CONFERENCE. One of the preliminary events of Art Week will be a joint Conference of Art, Community Service, and Motion Pictures, to be held April 6th, at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

With the approach of Art Week in Boston, April 11th to 16th, Mrs. Roy C. Baker, of Clinton, chairman of Art for the State Federation is spurring Clubs to active participation in the event. Her Division will co-operate in decorating the budget house of Jordan, Marsh Company, fancifully called "The House of Moods."

Two sessions at 10 a. m., and 2 p. m., have been planned by the chairmen of these departments: Mrs. Roy C. Baker, of Clinton; Mrs. Leon P. Dutch of Winthrop; and Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell of Wollaston.

Miss Marion Evans Doane will extend official welcome on behalf of the Museum. Outstanding topics of the morning include "Civic Art," by Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, vice-chairman of Art in the General Federation "Roadside Beautification," by Mrs. Leon D. Perry, of Springfield; "Art and the Community," by Frank Grebe; and "Shopping for Good Design, Line and Color in Dress," by Elsie K. Chamberlain of the Chamberlain School of Everyday Art.

John E. Alcott, of the Massachusetts School of Art, will tell of Art Week in Boston, and Mrs. Eva Whiting White will speak briefly.

Features of the afternoon session will include a film on "Sculpture in Stone"; an illustrated talk on "Stained Glass—the Art and the Craft," by Joseph G. Reynolds, Jr.; and "The Art Side of Motion Pictures," by Clement Williams, associate art director of Paramount Studios.

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president; Mrs. David A. Westcott, art adviser; and Miss Doane will speak briefly in the afternoon. There will also be songs in costume by Gladys De Almedia. During the intermission groups will be escorted through the galleries.

The Division is also assisting the New England Council in assembling material for "A Town of New England," under the auspices of the Art Research committee, of which Mrs. Joseph S. Leach, of Walpole, is chairman. Clubs are urged to send a list of artists of note, of art museums, private collections, monuments and of fine examples of architecture in their communities, before April 16th, to Mrs. Baker.

The Penny Art Fund is another active interest of the Art Committee, representing voluntary contributions from club members, to be devoted to purchasing works of Massachusetts artists, to be awarded at the close of the season to clubs accomplishing outstanding art achievement.

RADIO. "Looking Ahead" will be the theme of Mrs. Robert D. Janvrin of Revere, speaking as chairman of Education of the Massachusetts State Federation, in the weekly broadcast over WBZ, on Saturday, April 2nd, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Warren E. Fuller, of Pepperell, will be heard as director of the Clubs comprising the Eleventh District. The Nottingham Singers will present the music program.

"Beautifying the Great Out-of-Doors" will be the pleasing spring theme of the broadcast of April 9th, speakers being Mrs. Fred B. Cross, of Springfield, on "Landscape Beautification," and Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, State chairman of Conservation, on the clever title "A Miracle for a Dime."

CLUB INSTITUTES. "Club Programs" is the general theme of the meeting of Club Institutes, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, for the first Thursday in April, the 7th, at 10:30 o'clock, in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Stuart and Clarendon Sts.

Officers of several Clubs of the State will speak on the topic, "A Few of Our Best Programs This Year," among them, Newton being represented, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, of Waban; anl Mrs. Alden H. Speare, of Newton Centre.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Federation

WELFARE CLOTHING CHEST. An outstanding activity during the fall and winter season, and one which has benefitted many, and been a source of satisfaction to Clubwomen, has been that of caring for the Welfare Clothing Chest by the Civics or Community Service committee of the Newton Federation, which committee is composed of the chairmen of these committees in the affiliated Clubs. Under the direction of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, of Auburndale, each Club has been responsible for a definite period of service.

Starting last November, this committee has kept the clothing chest open and has distributed clothing on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons of each week, and will continue doing so until April. Their quarters have been at the old Police Station in West Newton, where the Mayor's Relief Committee has its offices, and with which the Federation has coöperated.

The work is under the direct supervision of the Newton Welfare Bureau and was originally undertaken by the Federation about a year ago because the demands at that time were too great for the regular force maintained at the Bureau to handle. It has been more or less of an experiment in a time of need, but it has been demonstrated that it has given the needed assurance of good will and of genuine interest in the well-being of Newton residents.

The committee has distributed approximately 7,000 articles in the past four months, and has spent $600 for new garments, which sum was given for that purpose by the Mayor's Relief Committee. While these figures are not so large as those of a year ago, they represent the same amount of oversight and time as was given last year. The needs of this winter have been many times more acute; families who under normal conditions would never have called for assistance have been served: at the same time it has been the policy of the committee to try to return this complex problem of philanthropy in April to the able workers of the Welfare Bureau, with as few involved situations as possible for them to meet in the future because of this venture.

Donations are still solicited. The need is still great. Everything is used someway, somehow, and somewhere.

EXECUTIVE BOARD. Notwithstanding the inclement weather of Monday, the monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation, held in the library of the Technical High School, was well attended. A roll call of the affiliated Clubs showed representatives present from each.

Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president, presiding, called attention to the joint State Conference of the Community Service, Art, and Motion Picture committees, to be held April 6th, at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, offering a splendid program.

Among committee reports, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of Community Service, reported that the Welfare Clothing Chest is to be returned very soon to the management of the Welfare Bureau; and that sweaters recently knitted by Clubwomen were exceedingly well done, and were a fine addition to the clothing dispensed. Miss Miriam Drury, New. No. 3380-M, still has a small quantity of yarn available for sweaters.

Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., chairman of the Education committee, reported consideration with representatives of High School teachers of scholarships to be given by the various Clubs for further education of pupils graduating next June.

Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, chairman of the Social committee, announced that luncheon tickets for the Annual Meeting will be 50 cents.

A most gratifying report of receipts and expenditures was read by Mrs. Charles A. Riley, of the Health Christmas Seal committee, showing that over $5,500. was given to the Newton Welfare Bureau and the balance to the State for this work.

According to plans made by the Legislative committee, twelve women attended the February 15th meeting of the Board of Aldermen. On April 8th, at 2 p. m., Mrs. Arthur W. C. Desoe, chairman, will be at the New Court House to greet any members who wish to inspect the building.

Mrs. Harold Moore, recording secretary, asked all children to have their annual reports in her hands by April 16th.

As there were several questions to be explained relative to contemplated important changes in the Constitution and By-Laws, Mrs. Braman requested the first vice-president, Mrs. E. Payson Upham to take the chair. Mrs. Braman then presented from the floor the report of a committee consisting of Mrs. Upham, Mrs. John F. Capron, and Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, affecting the articles on membership, officers, and representation, and amendments regarding meetings, nominations, and quorum. Much interesting discussion followed. Changes in articles will be acted upon at the May meeting, and changes in amendments at the April meeting.

Mrs. Charles C. Willson, representing a committee of three, spoke on the desirability of sending the Federation president as a delegate to the Biennial of the General Federation at Seattle in June. An appropriation of $150. was voted from the treasury, the balance of $300. desired, being pledged to a considerable extent by the separate Clubs, the opinion being that whereas it is inexpedient to send their own representative, they are glad to contribute toward this proposed fund.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on March 21st was in charge of the American Home committee, with Mrs. Herbert E. E. Child as chairman.

Miss Marion Vaughan, of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, gave a most interesting talk on "The Task of Growing Up."

Newton Community Club

On Thursday afternoon, March 24th, the meeting of the Newton Community Club was held in the Underwood School Auditorium, with Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the president, presiding.

After a short business meeting a report was given by Mrs. Clarence Spike and Mrs. Harold C. Daniels on the recent Youth Conference of the State Federation.

Owing to a change in the musical program, Club members had the pleasure of hearing Miss Frances Pembroke Bolman, pianist.

Dr. Frank Hardy Damon, principal of the Damon School for Girls, gave a most interesting talk on "Oriental Rugs, What Their Designs Mean."

Refreshments and a social hour followed. The pourers were Mrs. Emmart LaCrosse, Mrs. John Alden, and Mrs. Frank Lamson.

A food sale, under the able direction of Mrs. Harold Moore, was held in an adjoining room.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The March meeting of the West Newton Juniors was marked as the most successful of the year, due to a large attendance, an excellent program, and the presence of four new members.

It was formally voted to hold two meetings a month next year, on the first and third Mondays instead of on the second Tuesday and with only one meeting a month as at present.

Miss Phebe Giles, chairman in charge of the Annual Meeting, reported that this would be held at the "Oriole" in Wellesley, on the evening of April 12th, where the members would have dinner as well as elect officers.

Mrs. Earl D. Brackett, president of the Senior Club, spoke, congratulating the Junior Club on a successful year.

The new members, Miss Betty Harris, Miss Doris Isherwood, Miss Betty Mills, and Miss Gertrude Welch, were formally welcomed by the president, Miss Barbara Lester.

A report was made by the Dance committee, composed of Miss Elizabeth Bencks, Miss Eleanor Rhodes, and Miss Harriet Hadd, wherein it was stated that the dance to be held April 1st, at the West Newton Neighborhood Club, promised to be a success. A vote was taken regarding whether or not it was to be a Poverty Party, or a formal dance, and the formal dance received the majority of votes.

After the entertainment of music and pictures, refreshments were served by Miss Jeannette Rammee and Miss Leona Mae Trask.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A Tea given to Club members by the Art committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, assisted by the Music committee, was enjoyed on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 29th. Mrs. John Heibeck, chairman of the Art committee, presented Miss Jessie Grieves of Boston, who gave a talk on Spanish Art, and the Music committee through its chairman, Mrs. Edgar A. Butz, introduced a most charming young artist, Betsy Gravin, who sang a group of Spanish songs, and closed with a dance with castanets, her colorful costume adding to the artistic effect.

At the tea table the president, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, and the first vice-president, Mrs. Arthur W. Shaw, were the pourers.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Amos R. Wells, of Williston road, was hostess for the meeting of the Review Club on last Tuesday morning. During the business meeting it was announced that the coming Annual Meeting would be held at the Charles River Country Club. Three Book Reviews filled the program of the morning. Mrs. Nelson Freeman, chairman of the day, first introduced the hostess, Mrs. Wells, who read several of Robert Frost's poems. Mrs. Freeman then followed, with a review of Willa Cather's "Shadows on the Rock," the story of early Canadian days. Miss Margaret Haskell had the second book of the morning, Sinclair Lewis' "Arrowsmith," and the final paper was on "The Best Short Stories of 1931," which was given by Mrs. George W. St. Amant who read "One with Shakespeare," by Martha Foley.

On Tuesday evening, April 5th, the Nonantum Athletic Association of Newton, Massachusetts, presents its 33rd annual musical production with a cast of seventy-five. Ousted Police Officer in Court

Henry J. Marron of West Newton, who was discharged from the Newton Police Department several months ago for neglect of duty, had a long hearing in the Newton court on Tuesday and Wednesday before Judge Lynch of Milford. Marron's attorney was Leonard Poretsky of Boston. Marron and his attorney contended that Mayor Weeks and Chief Hughes of the police department had been prejudiced and unfair. Serg. Sheridan told of watching the fire station at Newton Highlands for two hours on the night of October 15 and seeing Marton loafing there while he should have been patrolling his route. Marron was also charged with having failed on several occasions to report for duty, with having left his post of duty prematurely and with failure to pull a duty call.

Marron contended that he had been in the Highlands fire station for only 20 minutes instead of 2 hours; that his failure to report for duty had been caused by illness; that he had pulled the duty call but the tape at headquarters had failed to register. He testified that he had heard that other members of the Newton police force who have failed to ring duty calls, have not been punished.

City Solicitor Bartlett called Chief Hughes, Lieut. Moan and Serg. Sheridan as witnesses to prove that Maron had given different testimony at his hearing before Mayor Weeks prior to his discharge from the department. Judge Lynch stated that he would study the testimony and would make his finding later.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The regular March meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Fletcher, 57 Greylock road, Newtonville, on the 27th at 2:15 o'clock with Mrs. Albion Brown, Regent, presiding.

After the opening exercises Mrs. Frank D. Warren gave a very full report of the State meeting, held at Hotel Statler, Boston.

Mrs. E. S. Rice, told of her work in placing flag posters in the schools. She had already used twenty-five and money was voted to purchase fifty more. These will be put in the Junior High Schools of Newton.

Business being finished the Chapter was entertained by Mrs. McMillan on the 'cello accompanied by Mrs. Weeks on the piano.

Mrs. Brown then entertained Mrs. Charles B. Hall, State Chairman of Americanization and Patriotic Education, who spoke on some of her own experiences in the schools of the south. He cited many instances of how hard the people will work in order to get some education and made a strong plea for assistance.

Miss Edith McCann read a most interesting paper on Race Prejudices and how to combat them.

Miss McCann was well fitted to write on this subject as she has been for a number of years associated educationally, with people from all parts of the globe.

The paper was much enjoyed. The programme closed with music by Mrs. McMullen and Mrs. Wells.

After adjournment the company went to the dining room where refreshments were served and one of the most delightful social hours of the year was enjoyed. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. L. F. Fletcher, chairman. Mrs. E. O. Kenney, Mrs. R. W Kent, Miss Anna Thompson, Miss E. M. McCann, Miss Grace Sturtevant.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

A regular meeting of the Newton School Committee was held Monday night. All the members were present. Supt. of Schools Wheeler informed the committee that this year's graduating class at the High School will number 630. Last year the class graduating numbered 546 and the auditorium at the school was much too small to accommodate either the graduates or their friends. Mr. Wheeler submitted a letter from Principal Palmer of the High School which told that at the graduation exercises last year many of the graduates were forced to sit in the gymnasium behind the stage of the auditorium where they were shut off from the affair. Mr. Palmer suggested several different plans to provide adequate accommodations for the graduation. He favors holding it outdoors at the Dickinson Stadium. In case of rainy weather the exercises might be transferred to the auditorium or to a large tent, if the latter were provided. School Committeeman Mather suggested that the Harvard plan, whereby two sets of tickets are issued, be used. One set is issued for the exercises, should they be held outdoors; the other, fewer in number, are for the indoor exercises. The committee voted to leave the matter in charge of Supt. Wheeler and Principal Palmer.

At the request of Supt. of Playgrounds Hermann, the committee voted to authorize the placing of "No Trespassing" signs on the athletic field at the high school, and to ask the police to enforce this order. Last year the Newton police department was requested to keep trespassers off the athletic field, but they have continued to trespass and damage the field. Some of the trespassers are boys who play baseball, and one is a Newtonville resident of mature years who has persistently used the field as a golf course, not helping the turf. He contends that as a citizen of Newton he has a right to use public property. If many citizens followed his example, it would be a sorry looking athletic field.

The petition recently sent to Mayor Weeks by residents of Harding street, Taft avenue, and other streets in West Newton, near the Waltham line, asking for a new school in that neighborhood, was referred to the sub-committee on school sites.

School Committeeman Fernald asked that the grounds around the Pierce School be improved. He stated these grounds are very muddy in wet weather.

"GENERAL MOTORS" EXHIBIT AT BOSTON GARDEN

General Motors tomorrow will open in the Boston Garden Exposition Hall the most complete exhibit of its kind ever held in this city.

The showing here will be one of 55 similar displays held simultaneously in as many important cities of the United States during the week of April 2 to 9.

Doors to the Boston Garden Exposition Hall will be opened at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 2. Each day thereafter the exhibit will be open from 11 in the morning until 11 in the evening, with the exception of Sunday, April 3. Admission will be free.

More than 60 models of General Motors cars, besides several Chevrolet and General Motors trucks, will feature the exhibit. Included will be a representative number of Cadillacs, La Salles, Buick Straight Eights, Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs, and Chevrolet Sixes.

The displays will provide an opportunity for every motor car enthusiast to view outstanding examples of the progress made during the last year.

Although motor cars will form the principal feature of the exhibit, there will be other interesting General Motors products. General Motors, for example, has carried its principles of time and labor saving, increased convenience, comfort and happiness into the building of products for the home. As a result, the exhibit will include Frigidaire electric refrigeration, and together with water systems and electric lighting plants for farm homes.

General Motors, in undertaking the task of holding 55 exhibits such as the one staged here, assumes a project of proportions sufficiently large to definitely influence increased employment of labor and increased circulation of products and money.

In connection with the exhibit a parade of General Motors cars was held yesterday through the Newtons. Included in the line of automobiles were Cadillac, LaSalle, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet Cars. The BUICK cars in the parade were from the Newton Buick Company, 371 Washington street, Newton. The CHEVROLET cars were from the Stuart Chevrolet Company, 431 Washington street, Newton; Silver Lake Chevrolet Company, 444 Watertown street, Nonantum, and Beacon Chevrolet Company.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Leslie B. Sanders of the Stuart Chevrolet Company won the attendance prize, a valuable Gladstone bag, at the meeting held in the Hotel Statler on March 24th, and attended by over 1000 General Motors dealers and salesmen of the Greater Boston district. Mr. Sanders is one of the pioneers in the automotive industry.

The police in East Boston have been waging a campaign against autoists who operate cars carrying number plates which are not readable. The East Boston police contend that hold-up bandits, purse snatchers and other criminals are purposely driving with dirty number plates to escape detection. Two years ago the GRAPHIC made this same statement and included speeders and reckless drivers among those who operate cars which carry unreadable number plates. The police of this city might well emulate the East Boston police in compelling autoists to keep the number plates on cars readable.

Alderman Silvanus Smith of Auburndale has received complaints from persons residing in the vicinity of Norumbega Park regarding the noise made by patrons of the dance hall at the park when they depart in automobiles after the dances conclude at midnight. Mr. Smith stated that it is his intention to ask the Chief of Police to order three of the police patrol automobiles to the vicinity of the park each night when the dances are held, so that those who come from the dance hall will depart without disturbing the neighborhood. As there are only seven police patrol cars covering the entire city, if Mr. Smith's suggestion were adopted, it would mean that for a considerable period six nights each week, during the several months the dance hall is open, about half the city would have no police protection. Why should the city furnish special police service to eliminate a nuisance caused by any entertainment place in Newton? The Licenses Committee of the Board of Aldermen need not grant a permit for this dance hall unless those operating the place agree to pay for special police who will perform the duty that Mr. Smith wants patrolmen from other sections of the city to perform.

Will Rogers recently praised the "blockaid" method of relief for the unemployed now in vogue in New York City. He urged its adoption in every city and town. We would call this a "blockhead" suggestion so far as a city like Newton is concerned. How practical it would be for Chestnut Hill, West Newton Hill or similar sections of this city to confine unemployment relief to residents of these wealthy districts and then have Nonantum, Newton Upper Falls or other of the sections populated by people in humble circumstances attempt to do likewise.

Our public utility corporations have been reducing the salaries and wages of their employees. They have been making large savings by the reduced prices in materials purchased. Why have they not lowered the rates charged their customers? Why have not our Legislators evidenced some interest in this matter?

Formerly, when busses engaged in interstate traffic met with accidents and passengers were killed or injured, Boston papers gave the name of the company owning the bus involved. Recently the papers have not been publishing the name of the company. Why? If a wreck occurs on a railroad the name of that railroad is published. If an automobile owned by an individual is in an accident, the name of the individual is published. Why the secrecy about the busses?

Fire Chiefs Are K. of C. Guests

One of the most interesting nights of the series of "Nights" being conducted by the Council was held last evening in Elks' Hall. About three hundred members and friends of members of the Council were present.

The first showing in Newton was made of the City of Boston Fire Dept. motion picture and was enthusiastically received. The film proved very instructive as well as intensely interesting. Lt. James J. Donovan, aide to Commissioner Edward McLaughlin of the Boston Fire Dept., gave the illustrated lecture.

Chiefs from the neighboring fire departments were introduced by Grand Knight Walter J. Connor who presided at the open meeting. Chief Clarence Randlett of the Newton department was guest of honor and was accompanied at the gathering by many of his officers and men. Chief Ahearn of the Watertown force told some interesting incidents and figures on his department. The main talk of the evening was delivered by Chief Sheldon Allen of the Brookline Fire Department, and stressed the importance of Civilian interest in the local departments. His stirring talk and the tribute he paid the men in his own unit as well as the men in all fire departments gave his listeners a keener insight into this important branch of municipal protection.

The Council is planning to conduct a "Police Chiefs' Night" in the early part of next month. Later in the month it is planned to hold "Post Office Men's Night" at which time many of the local men will take a prominent part in the proceedings.

The purpose of the series of "nights" is to bring home to the average man and youth a better realization of the life and duties of the men who are daily seen in uniform in all cities,—the fireman, policeman and lettercarrier. The fact that these gatherings hold a decided interest in the minds of men is attested to by the large number present.

Again Criticizes School Committee

Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night again publicly criticized the Newton School Committee. He referred to the addresses made recently to the Newton Rotary Club by Chairman George H. Tracy of the School Committee, and before the Newton Kiwanis Club by Supt. of Schools U. G. Wheeler. These gentlemen spoke on the public school situation in Newton and referred to the costs of conducting the schools. Mr. Floyd asserted that the School Committee, and especially its Chairman, are not in step with the times.

He said that he has no complaint to make regarding the actions of the School Committees prior to 1930, but what the committee has done since, and proposes to do, gives concern. Referring to the statement made by Mr. Tracy before the Rotary Club, that the cost of increasing salaries of teachers in the Newton schools this year will amount to only $7000, Mr. Floyd said that this statement is misleading. He contended that $7000 will provide for increases in salaries for but four months and that the cost for the entire school year will be $21,000. Mr. Floyd accused the School Committee of not intending to economize in accordance with the request of Mayor Weeks. "The School Committee", continued Mr. Floyd, "apparently considers the employees of the School Department privileged." He said that to give the teachers salary increases this year will cause injustice to other city employees. He asserted that the School Committee intends to increase the salaries against the wishes of the teachers themselves and he warned the School Committee that if they persist in this intention, they will be taking the first step towards a general decrease in teachers' salaries next year, as the taxpayers will demand such action to afford relief in tax burdens.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Alderman Bail Gets Tire.

Alderman Henry W. Bail of Newton Highlands became tired at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. He became so tired that he was constrained to infrom his colleagues in a peeved voice of his fatigued condition. Mr. Bail's weariness was not physical; it was psychical. It was caused, according to his statement, by what he termed "the ranting and raving" of his fellow alderman from Ward 5, John Temperley. Mr. Temperley had been addressing the Board on the matter of land at the water reservation owned by the City of Newton in the Town of Needham. It was the third time in recent months that Mr. Temperley had addressed the Board on this subject. The cause of his remarks to the Board on Monday night was an order presented to the Board by the Finance Committee recommending the transfer of 7300 square feet of land owned by the city in Needham to Anna Page of Melrose for the sum of $50.

Referring to the sale of this land for such a nominal price, Mr. Temperley called attention to his unsuccessful attempt at a preceding meeting to have other land recently purchased by the city as an addition to the water reservation re-assessed. This land, 22½ acres in area, was bought at a price of $1000 the acre; its assessed value. The assessed value of land adjoining it is much lower. Temperley had contended that the City of Newton had paid an exorbitant price for these 22½ acres and that this area should be reassessed at a valuation comparable with surrounding land for two reasons; to save the city money in taxes paid to Needham, and to forestall this city paying a higher price than necessary, should it take more land in the future in the area adjoining the 22½ acres recently purchased. Mr. Temperley's efforts to have the land re-assessed met with no support from his fellow aldermen. So, when this new phase of the land situation at the water reservation in Needham cropped up, he believed it an opportune time to renew his argument.

The three members of the special committee on water, Aldermen Gallagher, Jamieson and Bail, took the floor in turn, to reply to Temperley's argument. Gallagher explained that the 7300 square feet to be transferred to Mrs. Page is of no value to the city. It is located at the south boundary of the water reservation and because of the relocation of Greendale avenue in Needham, which has been made part of Route 128, a State Highway, two small parcels of land owned by the city are now located between the relocated street and property owned by Mrs. Page. Gallagher said that this land is now in Mrs. Page's front yard. As the lady's residence is given as Melrose, this assertion is, perhaps, somewhat inaccurate. Referring to the taxes paid by the city on the alleged excessive valuation, which bothers Temperley, Aldermen Gallagher suggested an ingenuous solution. Alderman Jamieson agreed with Gallagher and explained that the two parcels are narrow slivers of land, separated by Greendale avenue from the remainder of water reservation, that they are of no value to the city, and that money will eventually be saved by selling this land, even at the small price specified. Temperley replied that he did not contend that $50 is not a reasonable price for this land, but he wants the other 22½ acres re-assessed.

Alderman Bail then arose and told of the ennui which had come upon him because of the alleged tiresome iterations of Alderman Temperley on the value of the newly acquired land

Weeks-Bigelow Slate Endorsed By Committee

At Meeting To Discuss Coming Primaries

At a meeting of the Republican City Committee last evening in the rooms of the West Newton Co-operative Bank a unanimous vote of endorsement was given the candidacy of Mayor Weeks of Newton and Rep. Bigelow of Brookline as district delegates from the ninth Congressional District to the coming Republican National Convention. This marks the first time in several years that the City Committee has endorsed a candidate or group of candidates when a contest has been eminent.

The Weeks-Bigelow slate which was chosen by National Committeeman Louis K. Liggett as pledged to the renomination of Pres. Hoover is being opposed by Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler of Newton Highlands and Prof. Thomas N. Carver of Harvard. They have also announced their intention of voting for President Hoover.

After some discussion Chairman Charles E. Hatfield put the question on the endorsement of the Weeks-Bigelow slate and as no negative vote was evidenced the vote was recorded as unanimously in favor. About thirty members of the committee were present. Rep. Luitwieler, who is a member of the Ward 5 committee was not present.

It was also voted to notify all registered Republicans by postal card of the coming primary election on April 26th when candidates for delegates to the convention will be elected. The postal cards will in addition note the polling place, time of opening and closing of polls, and the City Committee's endorsement of the Weeks-Bigelow slate.

A little more than a month from now the Republican City Committee will open Headquarters in some central place as the first step in the organization of the Republican party for the coming national election in the fall. The headquarters will remain open until the election on November. In its registration work the committee will co-operate with the newly formed Republican Club of Newton.

On the matter of keeping the polls open until a later hour the committee voted to notify the Board of Aldermen of its vote of two years ago when the committee went on record as in favor of a later closing hour. This request will be added to that of the Republican Club which went before the Aldermen at a recent meeting and which is now being considered by the proper committee. It is the general opinion that the increasing agitation for a later closing hour will result in such action by the Aldermen although it is improbable that the change will go into effect for the Caucus.

Hunnewell Hill Residents Oppose Group of Private Garages at Public Hearing

Aldermen Grant Permits For Underground Conduits And For Bus Line To Oak Hill

The meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night was featured by a temperamental outburst on the part of Alderman Bail and another attack on the School Committee by Alderman Floyd. For the second time in recent weeks a delegation of Hunnewell Hill residents appeared at the Aldermanic chamber, on this occasion to protest against permits being granted for the erection of a group of garages near Hunnewell Circle by John T. Burns. The meeting, which started at 8:05, was attended by all members of the Board except Aldermen Harte and Howlett.

The first hearing announced at the meeting was that on the petition of the Telephone Company for a permit to construct an underground conduit on Washington street from Channing street to Peabody street. No one appeared to object to this petition. The second petition to have a hearing was that of John T. Burns to erect 2 four-car garages on Hunnewell Circle, Newton. Ralph W. Wales of Newtonville appeared for Mr. Burns and stated that in his capacity as civil engineer he had drawn plans for the group of garages which Mr. Burns desires to build. He said that these garages are quite necessary to accommodate the tenants in the 12 apartments owned by Mr. Burns at Hunnewell Circle; that it is difficult to rent these apartments without having garages, and that the tenants will leave unless the garages are erected. He explained that he had worked the plan out with Mr. Warren of the Public Hearings Department of the City of Newton. According to Mr. Wales the proposed 4-car garages are necessary, because in normal times some of the tenants would own two cars. He stated that the driveway which would be used to provide a passage for the cars from Washington street to the garages, is not a foot passage, as contended by objectors to the petition, but was really the original street, which furnished access to Hunnewell avenue, until a new street was constructed in 1890.

Clarence L. Newton of Lenox street, West Newton appeared as attorney for those objecting to the petition. He submitted plans which he said could be used instead of the plan submitted by Mr. Burns. He also presented a petition signed by a number of owners of nearby properties objecting to the Burns petition. He stated that the Burns plan will necessitate cutting down several beautiful old trees; that the unsightly four car garages would convert a private way into a much used passage for automobiles, cause a traffic hazard, and depreciate the value of properties in the district. Mr. Newton said that the land on which Mr. Burns wants to erect the garages is assessed for $600, and the properties abutting it are assessed for $49,000. He argued that when Mr. Burns developed this property in 1921 garages were about as necessary as they are now, but Mr. Burns chose to crowd so many houses onto the land that he did not leave sufficient room for properly located garages. Answering Mr. Wales' contention regarding the alleged right of way, Mr. Newton stated that records show that this street was closed as a public way in 1856; that when Mr. Stanley acquired the property in 1901 which was later purchased by Mr. Burns, he acquired no rights to this passageway and it is a question if Mr. Burns has any rights over this lane.

Mr. Newton raised the issue that if four car garages are permitted on the Burns property, the same privileges will have to be granted to all the surrounding properties when they will be subdivided within a few years, and such a result would cause a rapid deterioration of the whole section. He stated that the tenants who had vacated Mr. Burns' apartments in the last year or so had not left because of lack of garage facilities, but because of other reasons. He said that but one of the twelve apartments is vacant, and this is unusual in view of the existing economic conditions. Others who protested were Mrs. Annie F. Pratt of Hunnewell avenue and a representative of the Jewell estate. On a showing of hands, about a dozen persons registered objection to the petition.

The Board, at this time took one of its customary "short recesses" which lasted from 8:48 to 9:38. This recess was for the purpose of allowing certain committees to meet. The dockets of the last few meetings show that a number of the aldermen are not attending committee meetings.

When the meeting resumed, Alderman Bail spoke regarding the water mains which are to be laid on Peabody street, Newton and Webster street, West Newton. An 8-inch main will be

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINS PRACTICE GAME FROM ST. CHARLES

Yesterday afternoon the Newton High School baseball team played its first practice game of the 1932 season and defeated the St. Charles School of Waltham, 2 to 1, in a five-inning contest. At the end of the first half of the fifth when the game officially ended Coach Victor Stout of St. Charles courteously allowed the Newton nine to take another turn at bat and the local youths promptly pushed over two more tallies.

In defeating St. Charles the orange and black showed flashes of good playing and as the season goes on the experience gained playing together should develop the nine into one which will make the going interesting for other Suburban league teams.

In yesterday's contest Coach Jones used Capt. Rhodes and Clifford Choquette on the mound. Both are left handers and St. Charles made little headway. Kevorkian caught the entire game as Champagne, leading receiver, was absent from practice. Kevorkian showed enough to satisfy the Newton mentor that he will give Champagne a close battle for the regular position. Charlie Houghton was on first, Waters on second, Francis Flagg at third and Warren Huston at shortstop. The outfield comprised Mullen in centre, Terry in right, and Hudson and Rhodes in left. Johnson, a third base candidate batted for Houghton in the fifth.

St. Charles took the lead in the third inning by scoring its only tally. In the last of the same frame Kevorkian tripled and made home on Mullen's single to tie the score. Mullen also tallied a moment later on Houghton's single. These two runs officially clinched the contest. In the last of the fifth when the game had been extended Captain Tommy Rhodes drove in a pair of runners from second and third with a slashing single.

This afternoon Coach Jones has arranged a practice game with Watertown and is endeavoring to arrange another game with some other strong nine for Monday. These games will tune the local squad up for the opening of the season next Wednesday afternoon on Claflin Field with Boston English High School.

Following a series of practice games between members of the varsity squad since getting out doors Coach Jones reduced the varsity to sixteen players Tuesday night and sending the remainder to the intermediate varsity squad. Although there are several seniors in this latter group they will be permitted to play with the intermediate team and be available for the varsity if unexpected developments take place.

The present varsity squad consist of six pitchers including Capt. Rhodes and Phil Giles, lettermen. Others are Jimmy MacAdams who became eligible on Monday, Clifford Choquette, sophomore southpaw, Paul Andres and Vincent Murphy. Norbert Champagne and Alexander Kevorkian are the only catchers retained and a close battle is being staged for the regular job. Charlie Houghton, transfer from Huntington School is the only first baseman. Waters and Huston have also clinched their jobs, at least for the time being, at second and short, while Flagg and Johnson are running neck and neck for the hot corner berth. Flagg is the superior fielder while Johnson's ability to hit is keeping him in the race. Mullen, Terry, Hudson and the two pitchers, Rhodes and MacAdams make up the outfield group.

SPORT NOTES

Owen Convalescing

George Owen, former Newton High and Harvard star athlete and present captain of the Boston Bruins professional hockey team, was operated upon last week Friday for acute appendicitis. He is convalescing and well on the way to a rapid recovery. He was stricken at the banquet to the Harvard hockey team last week Thursday night.

Wilson Has No Competition

Arthur Wilson of Auburndale has no competition in his efforts to retain the third base position on the Boston University baseball team. The Terriers were to have opened their schedule last Saturday at Yale but lack of outdoor practice on the part of both teams caused a cancellation of the contest. The Hub nine will play its first game with Brown next Wednesday.

Two Out For Track

Two local youths are among those reporting for outdoor track practice at Boston University. Captain Arthur Chamberlain of Auburndale is set to go this spring after being out of competition throughout the weather because of an operation on his knee following the football season. John Grist of Newton Centre is a candidate for the team in the high jump while Chamberlain will run the half-mile.

Candidates At Huntington

Dick Vittum of Newton Centre, is a candidate for an infield position on the Huntington School baseball team this spring. Gordon Sidebotham, another Newton Centre youth, is making a strong bid for the catching berth.

Gets Tryout With Jersey

Bill Reilly, former Newton high and St. John's Prep School star pitcher, is getting a tryout with the Jersey City Club of the International League this week. He was given a reception Wednesday night at West Newton on the eve of his departure. Bill Hunnefield, former Saxony Mills player and former Cleveland, Chi-Sox, Braves and Giants infielder, is playing second base for the Jersey City team and batting second in the line-up.

Gets Numerals

Frederick J. Wills of Newton was among the M. I. T. freshmen who were awarded numerals recently. Wills was a member of the yearling boxing team.

SPORT NOTES

Freshman With Varsity

John I. Argersinger of Waban, although only a freshman has been invited to train with the Union College varsity track team this spring. Coach Ketz has selected a number of talented freshmen for training so that he will build up a strong squad for next season. Argersinger showed exceptionally fine promise in the recent Board Track Championships where he placed second in the 300 yard dash against a large field. He prepared to enter Union College at the Newton High School.

Barr At Fenway

Bobby Barr, local youth, being given a tryout with the Red Sox, is working out daily at Fenway Park with Coach Hugh Duffy who is in charge of a number of other rookies who returned from the South ahead of the main squad. Announcement of Barr's transfer to some minor league club is expected shortly.

McCrudden To Run Mile

Jimmie McCrudden, Northeastern track athlete and former Newton High star distance runner, will compete for the Huskies in the mile events in the coming spring meets this year. McCrudden's former efforts have been confined largely to the half-mile and 600 and he holds several records at these distances. A wealth of half-miler material and a dearth of good milers has caused the Husky track coach to make the shift.

Veteran Track Candidates

Bob Kinraide and Charlie Hall are two local youths who should do well for M. I. T. on the track this spring. Kinraide is a veteran of the past two years and will compete in the broad jump and 220. Hall, an ex-Newton captain, is a sophomore and had a brilliant season as a freshman a year ago.

Kollmyer Back In Form

Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high runner now a junior at Harvard, is back in form after a winter season in which he was more or less beset with illness.

SPORT NOTES

Signore Places Seventh

Augustino Signore, ex-Newton High School runner, placed seventh in the first annual 10-mile road race of the Presentation Association of Brighton las t Saturday. The route passed through Oak Square to Newton Corner and along Washington street, Commonwealth avenue, and Chestnut Hill avenue to Washington street again. Signore's time was 64 min. 39 seconds. Clarence DeMar, famous marathoner, finished sixth about 40 seconds ahead of Signore.

Report at Harvard

Newton should have three representatives on the Harvard track team this spring with the return of Joe Fox of Nonantum to the squad. Fox was out of the indoor campaign following an operation on his knee. He is a good distance runner and is counted upon for Crimson point. Carl Pescosolido is said to be in great shape for the sprints and although not particularly successful in the indoor campaign should do better on the cinders as he is better over the 100-yd. route than at the shorter distance indoors. Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high athlete and now a resident of Rhode Island, is in good shape for his favorite distance, the quarter-mile.

Yale Wins Two

Yale won its first two baseball games of the 1932 season by defeating Springfield College last Saturday at New Haven, 8 to 3, and then opening the intercollegiate league with a victory over Columbia at New Haven on Wednesday, 10 to 4. Allie Fletcher, Yale veteran second sacker and former Newton high star, was a factor in both Eli victories. In the Springfield game Fletcher made one hit, a double, in three times at bat, scored three runs, stole one base, and accepted four chances in the field. In the Columbia game Fletcher was the big sticker with three triples in four times at bat to drive in three runs and score once himself. He also had seven chances in the field and made one error. In the Springfield game John Proctor, another former Newton star, was the lead-off batter for Springfield. Proctor is a senior there this year and plays centre field. He is also a co-captain of the nine. He made one of Springfield's two hits.

Newton Bowling League

No change resulted in the standing of the Newton Bowling league in Wednesday night's matches other than the dissolving of the second place tie between Middlesex and the Newton Club. Middlesex took three from the league leading Maugus team but the latter is still eight points in front with but two matches to go. Hunnewell took three from the Newton Club to make the fight for third place a little closer. Hunnewell is three points behind the other local organization. In the matches between the four second division teams University took three from Weston and Commercial took three from Waban, the latter being relegated still further to the cellar. The highlights of the evening were furnished by the Hunnewell Club bowlers, who totalled 1666 for the three strings. Loring with 134, 105, 140—379 and Green with 104, 124, 132—360 furnished the fireworks.

Newton Teams Lose

In one of the trial round games of the junior division of the Boston Boys' Club basketball tournament last Monday night the Newton Pals lost a hard fought game to the Beachmont Blackhawks in a 21 to 16 contest. The Newton Pals line-up included Burbridge, Williamson and Hall, guards, Snow, centre, and Snell and Bergfield, forwards. In an intermediate game on Tuesday night the Newton Aces were beaten by the Hight A. C. Jrs., 40 to 25. The Aces had several Newton high school players in its line-up which comprised Patterson, Railsback, Grethe, and Springer as guards, York at centre, and Flagg, DuPuy, Fraser and Taylor at the forward positions. Taylor was the high scorer for the Aces with 10 points.

Camp Mary Day

Camp Mary Day folders were out and delivered to the Newton Girl Scouts at their troop meetings last week. The Newton Girl Scout Camp situated on Nonesuch Pond only six miles from Newton is an ideal spot for Girl Scouts to have their first camping experience.

This year a larger number of girls can be accommodated due to the enlargement of the camp. Two very attractive new sleeping cabins have been erected; one by the Newton Centre Committee and the other by the West Newton Committee. Besides this, a new dining-room and kitchen will be finished before camp opens. This building will be erected as a memorial to Miss Susan E. Miller who left a bequest to the Newton Girl Scouts a number of years ago. This bequest has made this building possible.

Camp will open on Monday, June 27, and will remain open until September 10. Girls will be taken for two or four week periods—the last two weeks being reserved for girls 16 years old or over.

The purpose of the Camp is to offer an opportunity for outdoor life and wholesome recreation to the Girl Scouts of Newton and also to provide instruction in the various Scout activities. Special stress will be laid on Nature Lore and outdoor work. The Camp will be run on the Patrol system, the girls doing all the work except the cooking.

All Newton Girl Scouts in good standing are eligible to the Newton Girl Scout Camp. For further information call Girl Scout Headquarters.

Camp will be open for inspection on Sunday afternoon, April 10. Girl Scouts who wish to attend camp and their parents are cordially invited to look the camp over on that afternoon. Miss Freeman will be at the Scout Office, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, mornings from 9-12 during the first week in April and will be glad to see any parents who wish to call. Telephone for other appointments.

PRESENT COMEDY

Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary, a comedy by St. John Irvine, was presented by the Village Players to large audiences, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. The entire action of the play took place in the drawing room of Hinton St. Henry Vicarage, the scenery for which was done in the Workshop of the Players under the artistic and clever direction of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Noetzel. There was a decidedly professional atmosphere about the whole performance which could be attributed to the happy selection of the cast and the untiring efforts of the production staff under Mrs. Frank A. Mason and Mrs. Edward A. Andrews. Mrs. Wesley Dynes, as Mary Westlake, portrayed a charmingly sophisticated lady of the stage, who delighted in directing her own affairs as well as those of others. Her manager, Mr. Hobbs, was played by Mr. Wesley Dynes and his inimitable cockney English made the role most convincing. Mr. Harry E. Moore as the Canon Peter Considine, showed admirable ability to play a true character part. Sir Henry Considine was played very amusingly by Mr. Edward N. Griffin and Mrs. M. L. Sears took the part of Mrs. Considine. The part of Sheila, a niece of the Considines', was attractively acted by Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell, and that of their son, was played by Mr. Dan Tracy, who has taken so many important parts in the Village Players. Mrs. William H. Brackett as the masculine Miss Mimms, Mr. Robert P. Holdsworth as Mr. Beeby, a theatrical manager, and Mrs. Robert Blodgett as the maid, all contributed to the successful and satisfying production of an amusing and interesting comedy.

GIRLS' GYM MEET THIS EVENING

The Girls' Gym Meet will be held at the High School Gymnasium this evening. There will be 60 senior girls, 125 Juniors, 125 Sophomores and 60 Freshmen in the meet. The work will consist of apparatus work by all classes, stunts by all classes and a short basketball game. Dancing will follow, after which Principal Irving O. Palmer will award the prizes.

Y. M. C. A.

Fellowship Club

The final meeting of the Fellowship Club for the year was held on Monday evening, April 4th. This meeting was addressed by Lieut. Mansfield of the State Police, who told about the varied work which these men are continually doing. His talk was illustrated with pictures showing the different types of work which the men are called upon to do. The privileges of any Y. M. C. A. in the State are always open to any State Policeman, who may, in the course of his duty, wish to use them.

Annual Gymnastic Exhibition

The Annual Gymnastic Exhibition of the Y. M. C. A. was held Friday evening, April 1st. Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Avantaggio, the American Legion Band presented a very fine concert previous to the beginning of the gymnastic demonstration. In all there were fourteen numbers on the program which presented a variety of gym work.

The part of the boys' classes was directed by Mr. V. A. Anderson, Associate Physical Director; Mr. John Andrew, Jr., Associate Boys' Secretary was in charge of the Clown Acts; Mr. E. Melville Westgate, a former Physical Director at the "Y," directed the Pyramid work by Senior members, and Mr. Gilbert Grant directed another group of Seniors in Tiger Leaping. Three members of the Boston "Y" Gym Team, Robert Hyer, Hartley Dawson, and Herbert Bennett, did tumbling and work on the apparatus. The pianist for the various numbers was Miss Alice L. Morton, who is completing her second year as pianist for the "Y" gym classes.

The program in detail was as follows: Marching — Cadet Class; Elephant Vaulting — High School and Employed Boys; Clown Tumbling; Costume Show—Junior A Class; Hand Balancing — Gilbert and Joe Champagne, Joe Masse and George DeGrasse; Tumbling — Junior B Class; Presentation of Junior Awards—Mr. Clarence V. Moore, Chairman of the Physical Department Committee; Parallel Bars; Pyramids — Senior Class; Clown Band; High Horizontal Bar; Tiger Leaping — Senior Class; Clown Fire Department, and Flying Rings.

Volley Ball

The Y. M. C. A. Volley Ball team composed of Ralph M. Patterson, James B. Rockwell, A. W. Skinner, K. C. Bond, Maynard L. Moody, and William A. Hitchcock took part with twelve other teams in the State Volley Ball Championship conducted at the Boston "Y" Saturday afternoon and evening. In its first match Newton lost to the strong Boston "Y" team 15-4, 15-6. In the second match which was closely contested throughout Newton lost to Wakefield "Y" 13-15, 16-14, 15-4.

On Saturday evening Newton plays a postponed Suburban League match with Somerville "Y" at Newton.

Squash Racquets

The Fourth Annual Blaisdell Cup Squash Racquets Tournament has just been completed at the Y. M. C. A. This cup, presented by Mr. J. William Blaisdell, is to be the permanent property of any member of the "Y" who wins the Squash Racquets Championship any three years.

The championship was won by John L. Sullivan who also won it in 1929 and 1931, so that the Blaisdell Cup becomes the property of Mr. Sullivan. The semi-finalists of this year's tournament were E. Graham Bates, who was defeated by Sullivan, and Howard Fitts, who lost to Kenneth W. Gerritson. In the final match Sullivan defeated Gerritson 3-0.

Newton Dramatic Club Presents "The Marquise" Before Large Audience

The production, "The Marquise" by the Newton Dramatic Club, April 2, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club house was one of the outstanding successes of the Club's many excellent productions. In every way the evening was brilliant. A capacity house applauded frequently the finished acting of the cast which was remarkable for the subtle nuances of expression, diction, and tempo. From beginning to end the play was carried with perfected acting. The background against which the actors played was rich and elegant, as indeed it was possible only with the cooperation of the Schervee Studio. From the opening betrothal dinner for the young people in the old French chateau to the final picture of the Marquise sitting at the spinet singing a French air joyful in the success of her many-sided wooing as Count Raoul joins her—there was a succession of unexpected but marvelously beautiful scenes which called forth hearty approval.

The gowns of exquisite French design made expressly for this production were a charming picture in themselves. The greatest praise went to the three principals, Mrs. Henry Dunker, Mr. Gilbert Hamlin, and Mr. A. Hurford Crosman. Each contributed exactly the requisite interpretation. Mrs. Dunker as the Marquise was mockingly gay—struck through at times with the sweet womanliness of a most noble soul. Mr. Hamlin as the gruff count who thought he had successfully renounced all worldly pleasure only to find at last, but too late, that life held for him great happiness of a pure love. And Mr. Crosman, as the human, sympathetic Esteban, was from beginning to end most human and delightful. Most expert and finished was the fencing scene between the Count and Duke, as the Marquise sat on the table and mocked them—as she threw orange peel about. The supporting cast was well chosen. Mr. Currier exactly portrayed the romantic poet-secretary. The young actors, Newton Douglas and June Wilbar, admirably carried through their rôles, and Mr. Cummings and Mr. Norton as priest and retainer, did excellent work. Barbara Anderson as maid made an effective entrance with a beribboned bandbox in one hand and a King Charles Spaniel under her arm.

The play was produced and coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. Like all of Noel Coward's plays the dialogue is largely a line for a speech, which as far as the play itself goes might be taken in one position for several pages. To break the picture and to have positions resolve into other combinations requires difficult handling. The play as presented Saturday night was without monotony. So natural and so smooth was the production that the beauty of the lines and the consummate acting of the Marquise and her associates could be evidenced only.

Mrs. Charles Norton as chairman of properties and Bolton Wilder as electrician were most valuable in the evening's success.

The final offering of the club will be Gaudeamus' "Let Us Be Gay", a cabaret reunion which will be given on Saturday, May 14 at the Longwood Towers Ball Room. The various casts who have acted for the club will offer cabaret numbers of song, dance or skits. General dancing by the club members and their friends will be accompanied by an excellent orchestra.

ELECTRICAL HOUSEKEEPING SCHOOL AT WABAN

An electrical housekeeping school, sponsored by The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, will be conducted Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, April 13 and 14, at Waban Neighborhood Club, 1610 Beacon street. The two-day programs, with meetings from 2-4 p. m. daily, will include a number of attractive and interesting features, with the domestic science experts of the Edison home service staff conducting the classes. Electric cooking demonstrations will be given by the home service girls, who will also distribute samples of the food prepared in this manner.

A complete change of program has been arranged for Thursday afternoon, with a talk on Home Lighting by Miss Eleanor Dolan, the feature. The art of home lighting, dealing with the arrangement of portable lamps, will undoubtedly prove one of the most interesting subjects on the two-day program. Complete oven dinners are to be cooked the new and economical electrical way. Homemakers and housewives are sure to find the formula for true home labor saving in the complete electrical housekeeping program to be presented.

The group of girls comprising the Edison home service staff have a complete knowledge of domestic electrical science, with a thorough understanding of housekeeping problems encountered in every home. Expert culinary technique, augmented by the ability to teach others, is the standard set for every member of the home service staff. Handy souvenirs and recipes will be distributed to all who attend, and on Thursday afternoon a drawing will be made for an attendance prize for an individual whose name is enrolled at both meetings. All Edison customers in Waban are cordially invited to attend the classes and view the demonstrations.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Charles Petremont, violinist, six years old and a pupil of Miss Anna B. Eichhorn, played at the morning Chapel on Wednesday.

The Sunday Night Vespers will be in charge of Mr. Harold Schwab, pianist. Mr. Schwab will be assisted by Mr. Ralph Johnson, flutist, Mr. Paul Bauguss and Mr. Walter Schreirer, violinists.

On Monday, April 11, the annual Journalism Class Dinner will be held at Woodland Park. Miss Katharine Hartman, '32, of Mansfield, Ohio, editor of the "Lasell Leaves" will receive and introduce the speaker, Mrs. True Worthy White, Secretary of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters. Mrs. White is also director of the Schools of Politics held at the various Eastern Women's Colleges. Her subject will be "The New Woman in the New Place".

DIST. ATT. BISHOP TO ADDRESS, D. R. CHAPTER

Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook opens her home on Beechcroft road, Newton, for the April meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., on Wednesday afternoon, April 13th. The business meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock, when several recommendations from the Executive Board in regard in philanthropies, will come up for action.

Mr. Warren Bishop, District Attorney for Middlesex County, will be the speaker of the afternoon, his subject being "The Administration of Justice." A musical program will be given by Dora Cappuccio, accordion player.

Mrs. J. Henry Bacon, Mrs. Charles A. Durant, Miss A. Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Mrs. Charles E. Morrow and Mrs. Charles L. Pearson will be hostesses.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

The program at the Paramount, Newton, beginning Sunday, will be a variety of comedy, drama and tragedy. Buster Keaton will be seen in his new hilarious comedy "The Passionate Plumber," and on the same program Joan Bennett will be seen in "A Lady with a Past." The latter is a high class drama. For the last half of the week Walter Huston will be seen in "The Beast of the City," a story of police bravery. On the same program Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., will be seen in "I Like Your Nerve," a comedy with Loretta Young playing opposite.

There will be no screen showing on Monday and Tuesday evenings owing to the house being taken over by the Newton Players in their last performance of the season.

---Milk in Cream Top Bottles

—an added Service for Your Convenience

—adoption of Cream Top Bottles gives our customers one of the greatest improvements in modern milk delivery service—real whipping cream in the same bottle with the milk. Exclusively offered to our customers. Cream Top service has brought words of appreciation and approval from hundreds of our customers.

In the short time that we have used this remarkable bottle, it has proved the quality of our milk more than all other modern dairy equipment ever could do. The cream line indicates that the right quantity of cream is always there, never short, never below standard. No straight necked bottle demands milk of such consistently high quality as does the Cream Top Bottle. The cream line at the narrow neck is constant proof of milk quality.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

The first of the Newton Clubs to hold its Annual Meeting is the Waban Woman's Club, which meeting will be held at the Neighborhood Club House, on April 11th, at 1:30 p. m. With the Executive Board as hostesses a Desert Bridge will be enjoyed by all the members. The Social committee, Mrs. Frederick D. Nichols, Mrs. Ralph H. Patterson, Mrs. John T. Croghan, and Mrs. Wellington Rindge in charge, will serve dessert, which will be followed by the business meeting, consisting of one comprehensive report covering the work of the past Club year, and the election of officers for the coming year. Cards will then be enjoyed, so combining business and pleasure in a most delightful manner.

In order that Waban women may have an opportunity to co-operate in "block-aid," which is to promote anti-hoarding and to help end the depression, a special feature of this Annual meeting will be a section set apart in the Club House where members may display notices of any industries in which they are interested and concerning which they wish their friends to know—a novel and worthwhile bit of patriotic co-operation.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. J. S. Franklin will entertain the members of the Travel Class at her home, 40 Lincoln park, on Monday, April 11th. Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan will assist her.

All who find pleasure in community singing will be glad to accept the cordial invitation to attend, and join therein, as well as any who delight in a good musical program.

On the 14th, at 10:30 o'clock, the Club announces with regret the last in the series of Mrs. Poole's Current Events lectures will be held. This will bring to a close this series that has been so enjoyed this season, but more, it brings to a close, too, the appearance of Mrs. Poole in these programs that she has given so splendidly before this and other Massachusetts Clubs for many years, since she steps up into higher fields and honors that will take all her time after her election in June at Seattle to the presidency of the General Federation.

West Newton Junior Educatoinal Club

The West Newton Juniors are to hold a most delightful Annual Meeting, combining pleasure with business, in a dinner at the "Oriole," in Wellesley, on Tuesday evening, the 12th. Reports and election of new officers will follow the dinner, arrangements for which are in the hands of Miss Phebe Giles, chairman.

Medlicott; and selections from "Norweigian and Contemporary Poetry," to be given by Mrs Austin Eaton. Mrs. George F. Howland, of 15 Vista avenue, will be the hostess.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Flower Arrangement," a most appropriate subject for discussion as warm weather approaches, will bring to a close the program of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, April 12th. Mr. Birket S. Letson, who comes from Carbone's, an Importer and Decorative Art Shop in Boston, will illustrate his talk with flowers and their containers from that shop. He will be presented to the Club by the chairman of the Day, Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr. Tea will be served by the Hospitality committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George W. St. Amant.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, of 64 Oakwood road, will be hostess to the Garden Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Thursday, April 14th, at 10 a. m. In addition to the general discussion on gardens, two special papers have been prepared, one by Mrs. Alfred M. Zeigler on 'Gardens I Have Made," and one by Mrs Walter Adams on "Herbs." A cordial invitation to all members of the Woman's Club to attend these meetings has been extended by the Garden Club.

Also on April 14th, at 10 o'clock, the Hospital committee of the Club will meet at the Newton Hospital to spend the day in sewing garments which are used in the hospital work.

In recognition of the splendid service rendered by this committee this year, a letter of appreciation from the Hospital has been received by Mrs. Henry J. Baringer, the chairman. Mrs. Baringer hopes to give even more service next year and would gladly welcome new members to her committee, if any club members are interested in helping in this great welfare work.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club has arranged a feature attraction in honor of its outstanding guest day of the year, Thursday, April 14th, Presidents' Day. Mrs. Peter Turchon, chairman of the Music committee, presents in Underwood School Hall, following the business meeting at 2:30 o'clock, Jesus Maria Sanroma, brilliant Spanish-American Pianist, soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, in a recital that will include compositions by Schubert, Chopin, Debussy, Falla, Albeniz and Toch, which promises delightful variety of theme.

Sanroma was sent to this country in 1917 by the Porto Rican Government to complete his musical education, and in 1926 he became official pianist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. During these years (1917-1926) he had been giving local recitals and touring the country, and those who were members of the Newton Community Club in 1924-1925 will recall the enjoyable recital he gave during the Music chairmanship of Mrs. Edwin Smith, and will be interested to welcome him again. More recently still, he will be remembered for his pleasing program of last October 8th. Since his first appearance before the Club, Sanroma went abroad and studied, giving recitals in Berlin, Paris, Madrid, and Barcelona, and he returned to America with powers considerably ripened and deepened. Today he takes his place with the foremost of the younger generation of pianists.

In further celebration of Presidents' Day, a social hour and refreshments have been planned worthy to honor the occasion.

State Federation

ART WEEK. Clubwomen should be sure to visit "The House of Moods" which is being shown at Jordan, Marsh Company, during Art Week, April 11th to 16th. This "House" is the decorative work of the Art committee of the State Federation, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy C. Baker, and as such should have many delightful suggestions for women who have plans for new furnishings and decorations. Of special interest to Newton women is the information that the Newton Centre Woman's Club is decorating one room, under the direction of the vice chairman of Art, Mrs. William C. Noetzel.

INTERRACIAL CONFERENCE. The Annual Conference of the Interracial Division is announced by the chairman, Mrs. William I. MacAulay, for Friday, the 15th. This will be held at the International Institute, 190 Beacon street, Boston, the morning session opening at 10 a. m. Buffet luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. Reservations for this should be made not later than April 11th, by sending check for 75 cents and self-addressed, stamped envelope to Mrs. Harry Barr, 33 Highland street, Reading.

The committee is arranging for informed and interesting speakers who will explain what has been done toward effecting a better understanding among the many races here, how adult education has helped to better citizenship, how the question of making good citizens of the "second generation" has been met, what legislation in regard to immigration has been changed, and what reading material is most helpful on this subject, with library service to Clubs. Mrs. Baker will present racial art contributions which she has found. And there will be, also, an exhibition of handwork, art, school work, books, and some of Mrs. Meta W. Fuller's mouldings will be shown.

CLUB INSTITUTE FOR TWELFTH DISTRICT. By invitation of the Hopedale Community House Woman's Club there is to be a Club Institute meeting especially for the Clubs of the Twelfth District on Wednesday, April 20th; morning session from 10:30 to 12:30 o'clock; and afternoon session from 2 to 4 o'clock. RADIO. "Beautifying the Great Out-of-Doors" will be the delightful broadcasting theme of the State Federation in the Saturday morning half-hour, at 11:30 o'clock, April 9th, from WBZ. Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Radio director, announces Mrs. Fred B. Cross, of Springfield, director of the Fourteenth District, speaking on "Landscape Beautification," and Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, of Arlington, State chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources, on "A Miracle for a Dime." There will be music by the Mereleen Trio, of Brockton, directed by Meriel G. Blanchard.

The program on the 16th will be presented by Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, chairman of Community Service, on the topic "Shall We Share."

JUNIORS TO THE BIENNIAL. The General Federation has specifically invited the Junior Clubs to send delegates to the Biennial at Seattle in June, and the Junior Membership committee, of which Mrs. I. William Crowell is chairman, proposes to see that it is made possible for a least one Junior delegate to go. To this end a fund is being raised, and to Newton falls the honor of having one of our own Junior Clubs the first contributor, the West Newton Educational Juniors showing their generosity in aiding some lucky girl to have this splendid experience. The State committee feels that it is eminently fitting that Juniors from the "Presidential State" should be given this opportunity since many Juniors will attend from all other parts of the country.

ANNUAL MEETING. The always-awaited announcement of candidates for office brings the news that Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, of the North Shore Club, Lynn, is nominee for the presidency of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Annual elections to be held in May at Swampscott. Kimball, of Danvers, and Mrs. Heman A. Harding, of Chatham. Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of Winchester, is named for fourth vice-president.

The other officers, presented for re-election, are Mrs. Edward M. Cox, of Milton, recording secretary; Mrs. David A. Westcott, of Dorchester, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hazel H. Albertson, of West Newbury, clerk; and Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, treasurer.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club spent an interesting and most profitable afternoon Friday, April first, listening to a discussion of Current Events by Miss Mary Louise Reilly, who is particularly qualified by training and experience to talk on subjects of national and international interest. She not only has received many college degrees but she spent last summer in Europe with a group of lecturers and writers, making a first-hand study of conditions and insttiutions, under the direction of Sherwood Eddy. This group met intimately many of the outstanding leaders in the political, social, and economic life in Berlin, Moscow, Warsaw, Vienna, Prague, Geneva, and Paris, about whom she could speak with real knowledge therefore.

Tea was served by the Hospitality committee at the conclusion of the meeting. Mrs. Samuel P. Darling and Mrs. C. A. Stimets were the pourers.

Entertain Seven Hundred Guests

The Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church was hostess to the Ladies' Aid Union of the New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church last Friday when 60 societies aggregating 700 women met in the church for the thirty-seventh anniversary meeting of the Union. Mrs. Sam T. Emery of Newton Centre, president of the Union called the meeting to order at 10:00 a. m. and presided throughout the day. Devotions were conducted by Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig, pastor of the church. Mrs. Frank E. Morris, president of the Woman's Association, extended a cordial welcome to the guests, who were represented by Mrs. William H. Wedlock in a cordial response.

The morning program was for the most part given over to announcements, roll call and reports. Mrs. Lester H. Monks of Boston, chairman of the Red Cross Emergency Clothing Committee, thanked the women for their assistance in making it possible for the committee to distribute through the social agencies 12,500 garments made by all creeds and denominations. Further reports were made by delegates from the Woman's Auxiliaries of the Morgan Memorial and the First Italian Church of Boston, the Asbury Grove Ladies' Aid, and the New England Deaconess Aid Society. The morning session closed with prayer by Mrs. Laurence W. C. Emig of the local church. Luncheon with Mrs. Allan J. MacQuarrie and Mrs. Melvin C. Clay in charge, was served in two sections, one in the Central Church and the other in the Methodist Church.

The address of the afternoon was given by Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay, D. D., of Brookline who spoke on "The Art of Living Together." Dr. Lindsay considers the art of living with others the finest of all fine arts, not only in the home but in the community, in the church, and in the nation. In the home a time comes when the children should be elevated to the position of partners. There should be no race prejudice. The race should be judged by the man and not the man by the race. Wars will cease when nations learn the art of living together. To succeed in the game of life one must have imagination. He must imagine himself in the other person's place. He must idealize his associates. He must play the game on a fifty-fifty basis. A sense of humor changes the whole perspective of life. Dr. Lindsay stressed strongly the need for a short period of relaxation each day. One should find an island of silence where poise can be regained.

Music was furnished throughout the day by Mrs. C. R. Spaulding, organist of the local church, and Mrs. George F. Williams of Watertown St., Newtonville, who gave three vocal solos. Miss Gladys Watt of Newton Highlands gave a clarinet solo. Four Newton women are among the new officers of the Union. They are: Mrs. F. A. Patterson, Newton Highlands, Honorary President; Mrs. Sam T. Emery, Newton Centre, President; Mrs. William H. Wedlock, Newtonville, Vice President; Mrs. Atlee Lane Percy, Newtonville, Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer.

Marionette Show

A delightful and varied entertainment was presented by the Marionette Club on April 6 at the regular assembly and also during the seventh period. A charming puppet dancer made her debut in the opening act under the guidance of Ruth Jean Erret and Phyllis Fisher. Then followed a most dramatic presentation of "Jack in the Beanstalk," by Arthur Henderson, Donald Burns, Marian Appleton, Arlene McCormick, Donald Conant, John Costa, Ruth Jean Erret, Ruth McKusick, Clovis Crummett, Laura House and Rita Horan.

The third number on the program "The Three Bears," proved highly entertaining, both because of its amusing speeches and because of the clever manipulation of the puppets. The story adapted to modern life with its radios and setting-up exercises, was read by Clovis Crummett. The operators were Donald Burns, Phyllis Fisher, Ruth Dulac and Ruth Jean Erret. The puppet Goldilocks was made entirely by Ruth Jean Erret and is the only marionette completed by a club member this year. The program closed with a "snappy" tap dance by Humpty-Dumpty, assisted by Wendy and a dog. Henry Merrill and Miss A. J. Kennedy were responsible for the scenery; Henry Merrill and Marjorie James for the lighting; John Kengott for the curtains; William Hayden for the victrola.

John Koughan, IIA, is the new radio announcer for the Friday morning broadcasts.

Rev. Mr. Merrill Addresses Ass'n

The Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville, met on Wednesday, April 6, at ten o'clock. The chapel had the appearance of a small fair, with tables of flowers and plants, good things to eat, useful and fancy articles, aprons and children's dresses on sale. The groups of Mrs. Stuart Hill and Mrs. A. D. Auryansen united in arranging this sale and report very successful results.

An unusually large number enjoyed the delicious luncheon prepared by Mrs. Frank R. Clark and her committee, with Mrs. Fred W. Rust in charge of the serving committee.

After the luncheon, the hymn "Our God, Our Help in Ages Past" was sung. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. K. Titus, who reminded us of God's way of speaking to us through the manifestations of nature in the springtime. Mrs. Adell Holden, well known soprano of Ashland, sang very beautifully two selections "Blessed Are the Peacemakers" by Ward-Stephens and "He Maketh All Things New" by O'Hara. Mrs. Holden was accompanied by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols. A number of announcements and reports were given by Mrs. Decatur, the chairman. Dr. Mary Wilcox presented a plea that our senators be asked to urge ratification of the protocol necessary for entering the World Court. A very interesting letter from Miss Abbe Wallace in India was read.

The speaker of the afternoon was the minister, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill. He spoke briefly on the various missionary projects of the Woman's Association and then read a one-act play "Ba Thane" written by Edna A. Baldwin under the direction of Fred Eastman. The play depicts in a very masterly manner a dramatic missionary situation in India.

WOODLAND DAIRY ADOPTS CREAM TOP BOTTLE

The new Cream Top bottle, which is to be sold exclusively to Woodland customers is a marked improvement over the old style milk bottle. This bottle is an exclusive feature of the Woodland Dairy, and cannot be obtained from any other source.

It has always been Mr. Woodland's policy to have the best equipment possible to process his high quality milk and cream, and to be able to pass on to the public the most efficient, convenient and economical container on the market.

There are no signs of depression at this progressive institution as they have just moved into their new $50,000 dairy and in so doing have necessitated the employment of twenty six additional employees.

The formal opening of their new dairy will be at a later date.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT NAMED CHOIR DIRECTOR

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Fox, of Prairie avenue, Auburndale, have just returned after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gammons formerly of Cabot street, Newtonville, but now living in Fort Fairfield, Me. The many musical pupils of Mrs. Gammons in the Newtons and Waltham will be pleased to hear that she has been appointed musical director of the choir of the United Parish Church of Fort Fairfield. During their stay Mr. and Mrs. Fox heard many enthusiastic comments concerning her work particularly the musical program for Easter when "The Risen King" was rendered by the choir. Mr. Gammons after two months' preparation produced and staged an old fashioned Minstrel Show on April 1st for Pioneer Lodge, I. O. O. F., with the aid of the members of that organization. Despite the almost impassable roads which were four and five feet deep with slush and the fact that bad weather spread colds and grippe among the members of the cast there was not a vacant seat in the High School Auditorium where the show was staged, and the applause left no doubt in anyone's mind that the audience enjoyed and appreciated the efforts of the cast and producer.

COMPARATIVE COSTS

In last week's issue we carried considerable news matter regarding the cost of Newton schools and comparative costs of other departments. Comparisons with costs of schools in other cities or comparisons with costs of other city departments frequently do not reveal the true picture. In the first instance Newton's area makes it necessary to provide new buildings to relieve congestion. Each new building requires the addition of a principal, assistant principal, a janitor and other help which only adds to the payroll. In other cties of similar population but in a smaller area the school district lines are often shifted to relieve considerable congestion. Newton's schools are quite distant from each other, whereas in many cities a transfer from one school to another does not impose any hardship upon the pupils' coming and going.

Comparisons with the increase in costs of other departments are not altogether conclusive. In the fire department there might be a large expenditure for a new system which would increase the cost of that department but which in the end would result in a savings to taxpayers through reduced insurance costs. An increase in amounts for soldiers' relief work adds materially to the cost of the city clerk's department. The laying out of new streets due to the growth of the city adds to the costs of the street department. None of these increases are the result of extravagant expenditures but have been contingent on the growth of the city.

A comparison of the increase in school costs with the increased total valuation of the city serves to verify the fact that in two cities of approximate population the city with the higher total valuation spends more for school purposes. This fact is but natural inasmuch as a high class residential city like Newton demands more expensive facilities, not only in school matters but in all municipal projects.

In the final analysis the true criterion of school costs is on a cost per pupil basis. In the past decade in Newton the cost per pupil has increased from about $119 to $138.00 which cannot be considered an exhorbitant increase in the existing economic conditions of the ten years under consideration. Much of this increase is due to the increased curricula, teaching staff and other improvements in the system.

The important thing to be considered now is a careful control over continued increases with decreased resources. Until business in general has shown a decided increase with a resultant loosening of resources all municipal expenses should be carefully scrutinized.

Make your plans now to vote at the primaries on Tuesday, April 26th. It is your opportunity to name the delegates to represent you at the National Republican Convention.

It is getting time to Clean Up and Paint Up—Help the unemployed by doing it now.

Birds of Newton

Eleanor Mellen

Our lives are like houses in which we live and move and have our being, and from which we look out at the world beyond through windows of various sizes; the larger and more abundant the windows, the richer and happier the lives.

The knowledge and companionship of birds is a very large and joy-giving window in the lives of many people and might bring up-lift and happiness to many more if these windows could be opened for them. Bird-study has the advantage that it can be practiced the year around, throughout an entire life, and in any surroundings. On land or sea, in country or the centre of the city, at all seasons of the year, birds are with us, and they can even bring refreshment and pleasure to the window of a sick-room, as many a shut-in can testify.

Because of these things, and with the desire to introduce some of our readers to a new, delightful and inexpensive study and recreation, and to meet the interests of the many who already are bird-lovers and bird-students, this new feature has been started as an experiment. It will appear during April and if of apparent interest to our readers, will continue until the last week in June, thus covering the remainder of the school year, and the time of spring bird migration and nest building.

In order to be successful, this new attempt must be cooperative. The leader hopes to provide a calendar of bird-life during the spring months, with suggestions for finding the birds in localities not too far distant, and an exchange of items of bird gossip. It is hoped that our readers will find these weekly announcements of interest and will send to the leader, in care of the "Graphic", their own bird lists and reports of any unusual bird incidents noted. Each week the names of those sending the best lists will be printed, and if the articles continue, at the end of June a prize will be awarded for the best list received for the entire season, and possibly an Honor List published.

If the members of the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, the Junior Audubon Society and the fellowship of older bird lovers take part in this listing the total record will be amazing to most people. Eagles, jack-snipe and other game birds, sea-birds, northern owls, the orchard oriole and other unusual song-birds have been seen in Newton. A concerted effort through the spring months should result in an imposing list of Newton Birds.

These lists must tell four things: name of the bird, where seen, when seen, and what the bird was doing. Later we will explain why the last is important. In order to be counted the list must have the name and address of the writer, and the title of this article must be cut out and enclosed. Lists need not be limited to birds seen in Newton but should be of birds seen in Massachusetts or in the bordering ocean.

The only way by which the worth of this Bird-Life column can be estimated, and therefore its duration decided, is the appreciation manifested through the mail concerning it, and the bird-lists that are sent to the leader in care of the Newton Graphic, Newton, Massachusetts.

MARCH BUILDING REPORT

During the month of March 40 permits were issued by the Public Buildings Department of Newton. Of these 8 were for one-family dwellings estimated in value at $58,300, 5 for garages to cost $1700 and 27 for alterations on buildings to cost $29,540. As proof of the fact that times are not more prosperous and that men engaged in the building trades cannot find employment is the statement in the March report that so far this year only 87 permits have been issued by the Buildings Department in Newton as compared with 174 for the first three months of 1931.

BADLY HURT AVOIDING CAT

The humane disposition of Wallace Lord, 30, of 8 Lancaster street, Cambridge, nearly cost him his life last Friday night. Lord was driving his car along Centre street, near the Madden estate at Newton when a cat ran in front of the automobile. To avoid hitting the feline, Lord swerved the car, crashed into the curbing and was hurled forward into the front of the vehicle. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by Grace Stafford of Cambridge who was passing in her car. It was found that he had received a probable fracture of the pelvis and internal injuries. His name was placed on the danger list.

Folks are human who will admit that the higher the mercury the lower their resistance against the call of outdoors and glorious spring.

Real Floor Scrubbing

The minstrel of old who sang, "I dreamt I dwelt in marble halls" did not have in mind the scrubbing needed to keep marble floors clean. Otherwise, his dream would have been a nightmare. At least that is what I learn from a little adroit questioning of the cleaners at the Stae House—a band of industrious women whose duty it is to keep the place as spotless as any gathering ground of politicians can be made to so appear.

These women do pretty well, if you have ever happened to notice, but it takes a lot of time. I know that home-owners will rejoice after reading these few lines that they have no marble floors to care for. Not that they would have to scrub said floors, but because even superintending the job entails concentration and scrutiny.

The marble corridors of the State House are all cleaned thoroughly Tuesday night and Saturday morning. Some of them are scrubbed every day, but these are the halls in front of the legislative and executive chambers where a lot of men assemble, bringing their dirt with them. O, I mean matches and cigar and cigarette stubs and pipe ashes and burnt matches. The sweepings each morning fill two pails or more, if you happen to have an appetite for statistics like myself. The scrubbers get right down on their knees—no standing up and flourishing a mop.

In the olden days the scrubbing was done in a less scientific manner and consequently made the work a great deal harder. A large hunk of pumice was dipped in a pail of sand and the scrubbing was performed with all the muscle the scrubber possessed. Now pumice stone in powdered form, mixed with an amount of patented soap powder, is used and the results obtained are quite as satisfactory, with less exhaustion suffered by the scrubbers. They used to pay these women $13 a month but now they receive $18 a week and if you insist upon my opinion they earn every penny.

The care of hardwood floors or even plain wooden floors or those covered with a heavy leather-like substance is nothing compared with marble. Tile floors go in the same class as marble up to a certain point—both have to be cleaned just so often. The tiles can be gone over with soap and water and any scrubbing that is done of course heightens the artistic character of the job but is not absolutely essential. So don't worry because you don't tread on marble in your home. Besides, it would be colder and look a bit formal.

Watching and Waiting

From distant places you sometimes learn interesting things about local goings on. It required an article in well known periodical published in New York to get me stirred up sufficiently to patronize the motion picture theatre in the South Station. I don't know how many times I have glanced down the wide concourse and said to myself, "Some day I'll run in there and see what it looks like inside."

The writer who aroused me to action told of the novelty of the thing and said that there only two cities in the world where there were large railroad stations that housed "movies". One of these is in Paris. I forget the name, although I passed through that very station myself before the "movies" were installed. In Paris the pictures are thrown upon a screen for the free entertainment of patrons. My recollection of French railway service is that I wouldn't dare to study anything but the gate to the tracks. I'd be afraid of missing my train. And yet Parisians and seasoned travelers apparently get much satisfaction from this privilege.

Here in the South station I found a desirable place to pass away a half-hour, more or less. The little theatre is scrupulously clean, attractive and possesses plenty of comfortable seats. The screen is smaller than in the larger theatres but there is in this a great advantage. The loud-speaker isn't called upon to fill a great space and may easily be heard. Motion picture folks have told me that the smaller the space the wider the opportunity to get the best effects, providing condiions were as they should be. At any rate, Boston's unusual "talkie" house is O K by me.

Those Fateful Hours

Of course, if it is decided that we are to have the polls opened longer that heretofore—talking politics being in order with the Presidential primaries impending—we won't have any use for those "Vote Early" and "Vote Before Going to Boston" signs. That will save the political campaign committees and contributors some little money. It costs money, you know, to get those signs up and to pay somebody for carrying them.

What I am puzzled to learn is whether our voting habits will have to be changed. Some of us like to vote and some of us say, "O, what difference does it make whether I vote or not?" If you can get out more voters by prolonging the opportunity, I, for one, have no objection to offer. People used to take pride in getting to the polls early. There comes to memory the phrase of a famous war-horse of his party who used to say his ward was made up of "Six o'clock Democrats". That meant 6 a. m., bear in mind.

My idea would be to preserve the present hours and devote whatever surplus energy we have to making the polling places more attractive. I cast my vote in Ward 7 where there are two precincts put together in the Underwood school. I have yet to learn my way around. The lanes composed of temporary barriers still confuse me and I never get in the right door. I am one of those voters who has to be steered. It is difficult enough in the day time. At night I should be lost completely.

About Town

at the water reservation. He asserted that Temperley should consult with someone who knew land values and not bore the Board with further "ravings" on this matter. Temperley replied that he had consulted with someone who had a far better knowledge of the value of this land than is possessed by Bail and that he has information at hand which might surprise some persons if he should reveal it.

The uncomplimentary remarks directed at Mr. Temperley by Mr. Bail are quite unusual in the Newton Board of Aldermen. Unlike many political bodies, Newton Boards of Aldermen have conducted their meetings harmoniously and courteously. Members have expressed varying views on matters without being subjected to insulting remarks from colleagues who differed with them. In 10 years attendance at meetings of Newton Aldermen we have heard only two members of former Boards indulge in personalities, and in neither case did the offender cast aspersions on the mentality of a fellow alderman. Possibly Mr. Bail's seeming irritability is caused by overburdening himself with multiple aldermanic duties. With the onerous duty as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen incumbent upon him, it might be wisdom on his part to allow some other member of the Board assume the responsibility of dealing with the water problem of the city. One can become too sensitive—even about water.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Company deserves commendation for the way it has co-operated with the city in anticipation of the resurfacing of Washington street between Newton Corner and West Newton. Last autumn, when Mayor Weeks decided to have this greatly needed improvement made this year, the city commenced to make whatever repairs were needed on the water mains along the street and put in whatever house connections might be needed in coming years. This was done so that when the costly new surface of the street shall have been laid, it will not be necessary to tear it up. Not only would this involve considerable expense, but, a street surface torn up and then patched, is never as good as the surface laid in entirety. The public utility companies were asked to emulate the city and care for any needs which may arise in the future. The Gas Company at once complied and has had 30 or more men working along Washington street all winter. The other public utility companies have not cooperated. It is probable that one of them may be seeking a permit from the city within a year or so to dig a trench along a considerable length of Washington street. If this happens, this company should be curtly refused such a permit.

Much indignation exists at Nonantum over the prosecution of a number of residents of that section as loiterers by a policeman who patrols part of Nonantum nights. These persons, mostly youths, but some men of middle age, were summoned into court charged with loafing on sidewalks at Nonantum and fined $5 each. It is not the purpose of the writer to criticise any policeman who enforces the law on men, young or old, who make nuisances of themselves by blocking sidewalks or who loaf when they could and should be working. But, it appears that the Nonantum policeman has shown misguided zeal in this particular activity of his. It is not right to bring into court men who have no previous police records and who have been law abiding, just because they gather in a small group on a sidewalk to hold friendly conversation. Neither is it right in a time when unemployment has reduced working people in general to straightened circumstances to bring youths into court on loitering charges and cause additional financial burdens to families already unable to meet living expenses. It is a natural tendency for men to gather. Most towns and cities have facilities for such friendly rendezvous, even with settees available for those who meet, such as at Oak Square, Waltham Common, Natick and other nearby places. And Nonantum is not the only section of Newton where youths and men gather in groups on sidewalks to talk.

From our knowledge of Chief of Police Huhges, we believe he possesses adequate common sense and human sympathy to curb further unnecessary activity against so-called loiterers by any policeman whose devotion to duty, along certain lines, is not governed by good judgment. And this does not mean that we believe that fresh youths who loaf on sidewalks and insult girls or women, should not be prosecuted.

AGAIN PETITION FOR BUS FOR OAK HILL CHILDREN

Another petition has been received by the Newton School Committee asking that transportation be provided for school children of that section. This petition, signed by Carl Mullen of Brookline street, and others, asks transportation be provided on Tuesdays and Thursdays for pupils attending the Weeks junior high school. Bus service is now provided for children attending the Mason School, but this school has no afternoon sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The petitioners call attention to the law which provides that transportation must be furnished school children residing over two miles from a school.

Under The Gilded Dome

Differences between the Senate and House in the matter of reducing the 1932 salaries of members of the Legislature by 10 per cent have left a feeling of resentment that only time can remove. When the Senate passed a resolve, 33 to 7, providing for the cut, much speculation followed as to the course of the House members. Had the House passed the resolve the cut would have taken place at once. However, the majority of House members entertained a different point of view. They refused to order the bill to a third reading by a rising vote of 130 to 36. When an effort was made to have a rollcall only 23 of the necessary 30 stood up. The incident was closed then and there. House members, or some of them at least, feel that the Senate should never have passed such a resolve, contending that it was done for political effect and only embarrassed the lower branch. The Senators said they felt felt that the public was entitled to relief which a saving of $46,000 would produce. Editorial criticism on the part of many newspapers followed the House action and has not been received with any too much enthusiasm by certain House members. Furthermore, the prediction that the voters may have something to say about it next Fall is not a pleasing prospect. The entire matter appears to be one of the chief subjects of corridor discussion and no one can foresee what the ultimate effect will be. The Newton Senator and Representatives voted to make the 10 per cent reduction.

The House overrode the Commission on Labor and Industries last week by substituting for adverse committee reports three bills to broaden the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Act. One would have removed the time limit for payment of compensation to injured employees, another would have had the compensation start from the day of the injury and the third would have defined "average weekly wages" as a full six-day week. The Senate took the attitude that such changes in the existing law would further burden the industries of Massachusetts and therefore proceeded to kill the three bills.

Gov. Ely vetoed a bill which Mayor Curley had asked for and which would have permitted the city of Boston to suspend payments into the sinking fund of the Boston retirement system. The Governor said that the bill was a dangerous one in that it established a precedent in relieving the city of Boston from a plain obligation. The House sustained the veto. The Mayor has since announced that the action of the Governor and the House will increase the Boston tax rate. Another clash of the Democratic leaders has come.

It was not surprising to find that the House Ways and Means Committee should arrive at the conclusion that this was no year to expend $1,000,000 on a memorial to the men and women of Massachusetts who served in all wars in which Massachusetts participated. The special commission on war memorial had its differences as to the character of a such a memorial to be set up in the Back Bay Fens. But a majority of the special commission submitted a plan which would have called for the amount already stated. All unusual expenditures are given close scrutiny these days. The report has been accepted.

The House sustained Governor Ely's veto of the bill which would have exempted from provisions of the civil service law veterans of the Spanish War, Philippine Insurrection and Chinese Relief Expedition. On the question of passing the bill notwithstanding the veto 134 voted "yes" and 78 "no". Despite the large "yes" vote it was not sufficient to override the Governor.

Newton is going to appear in many places on the ballots at the coming Presidential primaries, April 26. Apart from the delegates and alternates in the 9th Congressional district of which Newton is a part there are a number of Newton residents on the delegates-at-large slate. Representative Leverett Saltonstall is an alternate delegate at large on the Republican ballot. On the Democratic ballot and pledged to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as a delegate-at-large is Edward A. McLaughlin, Jr., of 51 Park avenue, Newton. On the same ballot and pledged to ex-Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York as candidate for alternate delegate-at-large is William G. Thompson of 517 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill.

REGISTRATION CLOSES

Registration of voters for the primary to elect presidential delegates on April 26 closed on Wednesday, April 6. Until the assessors have completed the work of listing residents of the city, probably sometime in June, there will be no registration of voters at City Hall.

Russell De'Orsay, 19, of Astor street, Boston, was arrested at Waban early Tuesday morning charged with driving a car without a license or registration in his possession. The car bore Ohio plates and De'Orsay could not give a satisfactory explanation to the police as to its ownership. He was accompanied by a girl who he said was his sister. De'Orsay was later found not guilty in the Newton court when he showed he had a right to have the car.

The home of Hobart Emerson, 30 Beechcroft road, Newton, was entered Tuesday afternoon during the absence of the family and a quantity of silverware stolen. All the silverware in the dining room, valued at $500, was taken, although valuables in other parts of the house were not stolen. The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Emerson upon her return late in the afternoon. Entrance was effected by forcing a rear door.

Harold Daly of Dorchester was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with concealing leased property. Daly bought an automobile from Newton Turner, a local automobile dealer, and refused to pay a balance of $360.60 due on the car. Judge Bacon offered to place Daly on probation if he agreed to pay the balance and when Daly refused to do this the judge sentenced him to three months in jail. Daly appealed.

Henry J. Marron who was discharged as a member of the Newton police department last year for neglect of duty, and who brought legal action against Mayor Weeks to recover his position, was unsuccessful in his attempt. Judge Lynch of Milford, who presided at a long hearing on this case in the Newton court last week, rendered a decision against Marron.

Harry Dillon of 45 Curve street, West Newton, was in court on Wednesday charged with stealing $90 from James Brown of 43 Douglas street on March 30. Brown charged that he and Dillon went to James Dow of 131 Hicks street on that day and purchased liquor. Later he went for a ride with Dillon and Dow, was assisted to his home by Dillon and then discovered his roll missing. Following the testimony, Dow was fined $50 for illegally selling liquor.

AUTO ACCIDENT

A car driven by R. John Henderson of 21 Boylston road, Newton Highlands, collided with another machine driven by Dwight W. Sturtevant of 111 Warren street, Longmeadow, at Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut St., West Newton, on Tuesday afternoon about 4:30. Henderson's car was overturned. Mrs. Helen Henderson was removed to the Newton Hospital suffering from injuries about her head and chest. Henderson and Sturtevant as well as two companions who were in Sturtevant's car also received injuries but were not removed to the hospital.

FIRE IN WEST NEWTON

At 10:31 on Thursday morning an alarm was rung from Box 3211 for a fire in the residence of Joseph Landry at 104 Adams avenue, West Newton, which caused damage of about $2500. The fire started in a laundry bag in a closet on the first floor. Fire apparatus from Waltham also responded.

The fire department has had to respond to many alarms which were caused by carelessness in starting bonfires. Residents are warned to use caution in starting bonfires and not to do so without securing a permit from Fire headquarters.

Silver Cups Are Awarded at Prize Speaking Contest

In presenting the silver cups at the Annual Prize Speaking Contest at the High School Auditorium last Friday evening, Principal Irving O. Palmer praised the work of the English Club, sponsor of the evening's program and donor of the several prizes awarded. He said the Club was the largest of the many organizations in the High School and that it was unique in that it never served its own interests, but works unselfishly for the good of the entire school.

The cups in the Prize Speaking Contest went to Virginia Kretchmar and William Bittenbender of the Junior Class. Margaret Davy, Marian Willard, Harold Banks and Paul Leahy were the other prize speakers.

Prizes were also awarded in the Essay and Poem contests sponsored by the English Club. The first prize in the essay contest went to Theodore Timbine and the second prize to Jean Warring, both of the Senior Class. The following received honorable mention: Eleanor Weston, Walter Amesbury, Dorothy Schipper and Doris Easton. The first prize in poetry was awarded Rosalie Clelland, and the second went to Thomas Molloy, both of the Senior Class, with Jeannette Lampert and Margaret Allardice receiving honorable mention.

The program closed with a one act play, "The Travellers," by Booth Tarkington. The leading parts were taken by Stuart LeBard, Emily Rockett and Marjorie Jones. The other members of the cast were Robert Robinson, William Cavanaugh, Fred Claffee, Bayla Horblett, Leighton Harris, Howard Cohen, Dorothy Secord and Edward Campbell. The play was coached by Anne Kendall and Mr. Charles Peterson was the faculty adviser.

The entire program was well rendered and the hall was filled with students, parents and friends of the school who evinced a lively interest throughout the evening. The High School Orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Francis Tower, Guest Conductor greatly added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Miss Julia Harvey, President of the English Club, presided and Judge Thomas Weston served as Chairman of the judges of the prize speaking.

LITIGATION OVER LAND TAKEN BY CITY

About two years ago the City of Newton took by right of eminent domain 32,000 square feet of land adjoining the Emerson School grounds at Newton Upper Falls to provide a playground for the children attending that school. It was supposed at that time that the owner of the property would agree to accept a sum from the city which had been discussed by City Solicitor Bartlett and a representative of Mrs. Antonina Karlonis, the former owner. Later, an attorney representing Mrs. Karlonis asked for a much higher price. The city refused to meet this figure and it seems probable now that suit will be brought against the city to recover what the former owner claims is a reasonable price for the land taken.

Weeks Junior H. S.

A large and enthusiastic audience gathered in the Auditorium of the Weeks' Junior High School last Friday evening to listen to the concert presented by the pupils of the school. The first part of the program consisted of an operetta, entitled "A Trip to Europe," given by the Seventh Grade Dramatic Club. All the parts were well taken, and the choruses were unusually good, especially the song, "Seasick," which was rendered so realistically that it brought down the house.

In the second half, the Weeks Band, appearing for the first time in their jaunty uniforms of blue and buff, played three stirring numbers, while other selections were ably given by the Weeks Orchestra. The Glee Club, too, came in for its share of the honors in two choruses, with Daniel Kerr and Rosetta Warren as soloists. One of the most delightful features of the program were the trumpet solos by Mr. Charles F. Perry, the guest artist of the evening. The proceeds of the concert will be used for purchasing band equipment. On Wednesday afternoon, April 6, the girls of the school gave a demonstration of the work in physical education conducted during the winter season. The committees in charge of the demonstration were headed by the following girls:

Gymnasium, Betty Marvin; Programs, Esther Cole; Ushers, Jane Tobin; Invitations, Dorothy Perrin; Properties, Marguerite McConnell; Preparation, Marjorie Bunker.

On March 30th the eighth grade boys held an indoor track meet. The results were as follows:

Broad Jump: 1, McMullen; 2, Callanan; 3, Kenney; 4, Cayanaugh.

High Jump: 1, Simpson; 2, Cavanaugh; 3, Tied: Callanan, Cress, McDonald.

At the last Wednesday morning assembly a very interesting musical program was rendered by members of the Weeks Band. After a selection by the entire band, Vernon Phipps gave a brief history of the various instruments tracing their growth from pre-historic days up to the present time. Each description was illustrated by an instrumental selection.

TO PRESENT DRAMA

"Outward Bound," the brilliant drama by Sutton Vane, will be presented on Saturday evening, April 9, in the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse, for the benefit of the Mayor's Relief Committee for the Unemployed in Newton. This extraordinary play took London by storm in 1923 and created a sensation in New York the following year. Its universal dramatic appeal and its beautifully depicted, though controversial, philosophy make it a play of great importance for every lover of the theatre.

The production is under the auspices of the "Mather Class," a religious organization sponsored by the Baptist and Congregational Churches of Newton Centre, and led by Professor Kirtley F. Mather of Harvard University. An exceptionally able cast has been assembled from the membership of this group and is being coached by Mr. Harry A. Tomlinson. The cast includes William Pickersgill, Molly Draper, Robert Foote, Dan Tracy, Marjorie Sears, Willis Pattison, Helen Pattison, Kirtley Mather and Montague Ford. Mrs. William T. Steinseick is chairman of the Dramatics Committee and Mrs. P. W. Dalrymple is in charge of stage properties.

A unique feature of this presentation will be a discussion of the "theology," religious philosophy and ethical implications of the play, on Sunday evening, April 10th, at the regular Sunday Evening Round Table, a monthly event of the "Mather Class." "Outward Bound" is the vehicle for the presentation of an unusual philosophy concerning the nature of life after death. As such, it is sure to provoke a stimulating discussion.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN

laid on Peabody street to replace the present small 4-inch main there, before this street will be resurfaced. The existing 6-inch main on Webster street has been there for 50 years and will be replaced by an 8-inch main which will be laid in conjunction with the laying of the big 60-inch Metropolitan main. By doing this the city will save money.

Alderman Hawkins, reporting for the Licenses Committee, recommended that permits be granted to the Edison Company to lay underground conduits in Lowell avenue, Foster and Homer streets and that a permit be given to the Middlesex & Boston Company for a bus line from Newton Center to Oak Hill. The route of this new line will be from Beacon street via Langley road, Centre, Cypress, Parker and Dedham streets to the junction of Brookline street at Oak Hill. It had been planned to route the bus line through Union street, but the Newton Centre Improvement Association objected to this. The Board voted to grant the permit. Alderman Bail asked that the route be arranged to provide service for the Charlemont district along Winchester street. Alderman Hawkins said the route agreed on had been accepted because residents of Oak Hill have agreed to pay $400 monthly as a subsidy for the bus line. It is expected that in addition to this subsidy $300 each month will be taken in fares and the cost of the service, $700 monthly, defrayed.

Miss Manter, who is a Newton woman, is one of three women in the United States and the only woman in Massachusetts, to be appointed to an office on the Council of the American Association of Museums, a prominent national organization of long standing. Miss Manter became Director of the Museum in 1927 and under her leadership the Museum has increased its yearly attendance from 84,000 to 156,000 and activities have been carried on in ever-increasing numbers. In week-end talk and motion picture, in carefully labeled exhibit, in club and class, in bird walk, in field trip, thousands of children yearly find the all-important answers to all-important questions. Returned travelers, sculptors internationally known, scientists, aviators, model-makers of note, professors, writers have given illustrated Sunday talks that stimulated awakening interests. Saturday travel and nature films have further stimulated interest. The following figures testify to the need filled by the organized activity offerings in 1930-1931:

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Circle, Inc.

A most enjoyable luncheon was given to its president, Mrs. John T. Lodge, by the Board of the Newton Circle, Inc., on Friday, April first, the place chosen was Southern House in Brookline. The regular business of the Circle was first transacted and then followed the luncheon. Mrs. Lodge spoke most appreciatively of the backing the Board has always given her in her work.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The meeting of the Upper Falls Woman's Club of April 4th, in charge of the Conservation committee with Mrs. Justin Starkie as chairman, enjoyed an illustrated lecture on "Flowers, Gardens, Trees," given by Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter. Mrs. Parmenter is the chairman of the Massachusetts State Federation committee on Conservation.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Lord Byron has said, "To Have Joy You Must Share It," and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Keith in presenting their stereopticon lecture, "Sharing a Hobby," prove this in sharing their unique hobby as members of the Newtonville Woman's Club discovered on Tuesday afternoon, April 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith have traveled through New England, taking pictures of colorful spots, many of which are within a radius of fifty miles of Brockton, their home. Mr. Keith uses specially-prepared, imported lenses which retain all the natural colors of the scene taken, and are neither painted nor colored after the slide has been made. Mrs. Keith interprets the slides, and with eyes and minds trained to see the beautiful in Nature and literature, they present an entertainment that is intensely interesting and that makes one aware of the beauties that are bound to be found within easy reach.

Before the lecture, the audience was entertained by a Concerto arranged for two pianos. This was exceptionally well rendered by Miss Virginia Kenway and Miss Lillian West, playing "Capriccio in B Minor," by Mendelssohn.

Preceding the program, a short business meeting was conducted, with Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, president, in the chair.

Immediately following the lecture, tea was served by the Hospitality committee, with hostesses: Mrs. George L. Curtis, chairman; Mrs. Chester A. Dodge, and Mrs. Horace Kidger in charge. At an informal reception, Mrs. Perez B. Howard, Conservation committee chairman; Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, chairman of the Hospitality committee; Mrs. Charles J. Trowbridge, Nominating committee chairman; Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Art committee chairman; and Mrs. Royal B. Parker, editor of the Bulletin, assisted the president, in receiving. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Joseph H. Willey, Mrs. John W. Byers, and Miss Bertha Allen.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Three hundred members and guests of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club welcomed Miss Eunice Avery at the regular meeting April 5th in the Congregational Parish House. Miss Avery had as her subject "News Behind the Asiatic Headlines," and she gave to the Club, with her usual interesting manner, the difference in life, customs, and ideals of the Chinese and Japanese, and as a result the "Have Nots" have felt obliged to use force to lessen the chasm between the "Haves" and the "Have Nots," picturing the Japanese as the "Have Nots" and the Chinese as the "Haves." She brought out very clearly the transition of China and Japan from yesterday to tomorrow. During the business session, Mrs. Dana S. Sylvester, chairman of the Education committee, announced the award of the Club scholarship to Miss Margaret Allen. Mrs. Barnes, of the Boston Red Cross, spoke for two minutes on the necessity for assistance of the Clubwomen in Motor Corps work. Miss Marion Dorr gave a two-minute plea for the needs of the District Nursing Association. Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, chairman of the Nominating committee, gave the report of that committee. Mrs. Albert I. Mackintosh, State Federation secretary, announced the Annual Meeting of the State Federation to be held at Swampscott, May 18th, 19th, 20th, and 21st, and urged as many as possible to attend. Mrs. George W. Barker, chairman of the Public Health committee, gave notice of an outing to the Dover Wood Lot on April 12th. Mrs. Robert Bonner, chairman of Community Service, recommended the following distribution of the $100.00 remaining in the Club Philanthropic Fund: $10 to the Girl Scouts; $10 to the Boston Y. W. C. A.; $30 to the Newton District Nursing Association, and $50 to the Community Welfare Fund.

COMES TO WABAN WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY

APRIL
14

THE Home Service Division of Boston Edison cordially invites you to a new Electrical Housekeeping School. We plan the school to be helpful and practical —to show you easier short-cuts in cooking and housework — to freshen imaginations — to bring you brand new ideas.

Two days we have for you. Two afternoon programs and both different. We hope you will, accept our invitation to come, Wednesday and Thursday. And, why not ask some friends to come with you.

AT THE WABAN NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB
1610 Beacon Street, Waban
from 2 until 4 each afternoon

Program Wednesday is Baking Day — Cake and frostings, quick breads and pastry — how electric refrigeration creates new frozen desserts — ices, ice cream, mousses!

Thursday is Oven Dinner Day. We shall cook a complete "every day" dinner and do some broiling. A few minutes will be given to modern home lighting. Recipes and useful souvenirs to all.

Rotary Club

Members of the Newton Rotary Club were exceedingly interested in the talk on "Commercial Art" which was given by Ray W. Hammill at the regular meeting on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. The speaker is a member of the local service club and represents the commercial art classification.

He told of the various phases of commercial art as applied to the opportunities offered in this field. One drawing may be used in three different fields. The publishing rights are first granted for a magazine cover if the subject of the picture is suitable, advertising rights are the second field and calendar rights the third.

In almost all cases girl head pictures, quarter length and full length pictures, are a composite of several photos of the subject and are not posed for by the models. In a large number of cases the artist is not responsible for the subject of the picture. He is commisioned to create a certain picture for a specific appeal.

The final acceptance of a pastel is not upon the selection of the art director but on the line committee consisting of the president of the concern, the art director, the sales manager and other officials who view the picture from all angles and figuratively tear it to pieces.

Artists are now creating pastels for the 1934 calendar trade and the factor style is one of the most important that must be considered.

The treatment of pastels in shipment is another source of concern to the artist as the crayon is apt to sift should a pastel be subjected to rough handling.

At the business session of the Rotary Club the following Nominating Committee was elected: Past-president Charles Ainsley; Thomas L. Goodwin, director for two years; George Young, Harry Marshall, and M. Frank Lucas. The first two named were appointed by President Frank L. Richardson while the remaining three were elected by the club according to the constitution.

NEWTON MAN NAMED BANK HEAD

John P. Dyer, vice-president of the National Shawmut Bank for the past two years, has resigned that position to become president of the Bristol County Trust Company at Taunton, Mass. Mr. Dyer, who resides at 25 Cotton street, Newton, is a native of Vermont and a graduate of New York University with the class of 1912.

From 1913 to 1923 Mr. Dyer was connected with the Irving National Bank of New York in the legal, credit and new business departments. In 1923 he came to the National Shawmut Bank in Boston and a year later became assistant cashier. In 1927 he became assistant vice-president and in 1930 rose to his present position.

He is a 32d degree Mason and Shriner, a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Sons of the Revolution, and the Association of Reserve City Bankers. In 1920 he married Miss Frances C. Safford of Sutton, Quebec. Mr. Dyer will assume his new position April 15th and with his wife and two children will eventually make his home in Taunton.

Tracks To Be Removed on Pike

The welcome information has been received that the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company and State officials have practically reached an agreement regarding the removal of the tracks of the company from Boylston street in Newton and the continuation of this turnpike through Wellesley and Natick. For several months the work of continuing the construction of the big automobile artery along the old turnpike has been delayed because of the failure to reach an agreement over the price to be paid by the State to the company for the surrender of its track franchise. It is understood that the price to be paid will be considerably less than asked by the company as its estimate of just compensation. The removal of the tracks will mean that 30-foot roadways can be built instead of 20-foot roadways and greatly added facilities afforded for the enormous amount of motor traffic which will use the new turnpike. The controversy over the route of the highway at Wellesley has resulted in the decision of the State to carry the turnpike by a short bypass to avoid passing through Wellesley Hills Square.

VETERAN CITY EMPLOYEE RETIRED

Jeremiah Herlihy, recently retired on a pension as a city employee, because of having reached the age limit, 70 years, was tendered a testimonial on March 31st, at the Water Department building on Edinboro street, Newtonville. Mr. Herlihy was born in Cork City, Ireland and came to Newton when a boy. He had been 47 years in the employ of the Newton Water Department, 20 years of that time serving as foreman of the construction division. Water Commissioner Richard Ellis, in behalf of the employees of the department, presented Mr. Herlihy with a gold watch, an electric clock and an Elks' ring. A tribute to Mr. Herlihy's character and service to the city was given by Street Commissioner Stuart. Sixty-five employees of the Water Department were present to show their esteem for their retired associate. The committee in charge of the affair was headed by Daniel Roche.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB IN SACRED CONCERT

The Springfield Y. M. C. A. College Glee Club of thirty-five voices will appear in Sacred Concert at the West Newton Community Evening Service in the Lincoln Park Baptist Church this Sunday.

The pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, will preach on the subject "Turning Temptation."

The program includes Woodbury's "Star of the Summer Night," Burligh's "De Creation," Praetorious' "Lo, How a Rose Ere Blooming," Geriche's "Autumn Sea," Osgood's "Sanctus" and Sullivan's "Lost Chord."

Among the Greater Boston boys on the Glee Club roster are Philip Hardy of Cambridge, George Lambert of Brockton, and John Davis and Edgar R. Davidson, both of Newton.

At the morning service in the Lincoln Park Church, Lasell Seminary Day will be observed. The Lincoln Park Baptist Quartette will sing the offertory number and Miss Lillian Chandler Parker's "Jerusalem." Mr. Franklin's sermon subject is "Romantic Saints." The Junior Church will participate in Scripture and Worship Song, remaining to hear the story for the boys and girls. Miss Mabel Adams Bennett, organist, will play Storer's "Intermezzo" and Callaert's "Marche Triomphale."

RABBI LEVI TO PREACH AT WEST NEWTON

Rabbi Harry Levi of Temple Israel, Boston, will occupy the pulpit of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, on Sunday, April 10, at the Morning Service of Worship which is held at 10:45. Rabbi Levi is one of the most deservedly popular and distinguished leaders in the moral and religious life of all New England. His great work in Boston has won the admiration of all who know of it and his liberal and friendly spirit is evidenced constantly by his public and printed utterances.

Dr. Merrill, the Minister of the Second Church, invites and urges the members of his Parish and all other friends to give Rabbi Levi proof of their appreciation of him by attendance at this service. The subject of Rabbi Levi's sermon will be "The Eternal—'Why'?" Dr. Merrill, by invitation of Rabbi Levi, is to preach at the same time at Temple Israel.

WABAN MAN ARRESTED IN LIQUOR RAID

French Citizens Endorse Weeks-Bigelow Slate

Organize To Aid Campaign Of Convention Delegates

French-speaking Republicans of the Ninth Congressional District headed by Mr. J. Arthur Favreau of Boston, national treasurer of the Union St. Jean Baptiste of America, have announced the formation of a central committee which aims to solidify the men and women of this racial group in the new district. The first act of the organiation, which Mr. Favreau states has a potential strength of 3000 votes in this district, was to endorse the candidacies of Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton and Representative Albert F. Bigelow of Brookline as delegates to the Republican National Convention from the 9th District. The vast majority of French-speaking citizens of the Commonwealth are Republicans according to Mr. Favreau and, likewise, they are opposed to the continuance of the 18th amendment. From all sections of the new congressional district have come appeals for organization. The French-speaking people want to continue to vote the Republican ticket, but they also want an opportunity to show that they are opposed to Prohibition. In the candidacy of Weeks and Bigelow they have that long sought for opportunity, Mr. Favreau says, and in the coming election they will demonstrate by their support of the Newton Mayor and his Brookline colleague that they are "Good Wet Republicans."

Officers of the new committee are: President, Mr. Favreau, Vice-President, Mr. Clarence Cormier of Waltham; Secretary, Charles Couture of Watertown, and Treasurer, Edward Theriault of Newton. Ten representatives from each of the principal cities and towns of the 9th district attended the organization meeting, groups being present from Cambridge, Brookline, Waltham, Watertown, Ward 22 of Boston, and Newton. Nearly all of the leading French social and fraternal societies of the state were represented. The meeting took place in the Nonantum Club in Dalby St., Newton.

CHINESE BISHOP TO PREACH HERE

Bishop Wang Chih Ping of China, recently elected by one of the Central Conferences, will be the preacher at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newtonville, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. George L. Davis, who with his family resides in Newtonville and a close, personal friend of Bishop Wang, will act as interpreter. Bishop Wang brought an inspiring message to the New England Annual Conference which recently convened in Leominster.

"China Is At Parting of The Ways", Says Eddy

Noted Missionary Speaks At Newtonville Church

Speaking before a crowded house in the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville on Sunday afternoon, Dr. Sherwood Eddy declared that China is now standing at the parting of the ways, one road leading to Christian civilization and the other leading to Bolshevism and a reign of terrorism such as has never been experienced even in Russia. He said his opinion was based upon personal observations made during a five months recent tour of the Orient, during which he had the opportunity of many conversations with leading Japanese and Chinese statesmen and of study of the trend of events throughout the Chinese Empire. The next few months, said he, will determine whether China is eventually to become a Christian nation or to be dismembered, with Manchuria and the seacoast cities under Japanese domination and the five great central provinces under a Bolshevist regime.

He said that Japan feels that she had as good a right to intervene in the interest of good government in chaotic China as had the United States to intervene on numerous occasions in Mexico and the West Indies. On the other hand, the Chinese with whom he talked felt that they had broken no treaty, for none had even been ratified by them. He told how in his conversations with both sides he had pointed out the disastrous consequences certain to follow in the wake of a prolongation of the present armed conflict.

He said that the Bolshevists, through the ruthless warfare charac- gaining control of central China. teristic of the movement, are rapidly Soldiers are daily deserting the Chinese national army, where they receive no pay from the bankrupt government, and joining the Bolshevists who give good wages wrung by terrorist methods from the capitalists in the cities which are continuously falling into their hands.

But, said Dr. Eddy, there never was a time in the history of Christian missions when the people were turning to Christianity so rapidly as at present. They are reaching out to Christian teachings for a solution of their present deplorable condition. He gave an interesting recital of the patriotic heroism of those who have come under Christian influence and have dedicated their lives to the regeneration of their fellow countrymen. He said that these patriots, whom he has known personally, give convincing proof of the ability of Christianity to transform the lives of the benighted classes and to solve China's problem, which must result from a new life within as well as without.

Cast of "T. N. T." Has Been Chosen From Favorite Actors and Actresses Of Local Dramatic Organizations

Much Interest Being Manifested In Amateur Production For Benefit of The Unemployed Fund

The cast for "T. N. T.", the amateur theatrical production to be presented on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, April 27, 28 and 29, at the Newton High school auditorium for the benefit of the Mayor's Fund for the Relief of the Unemployed, has been carefully chosen from the various dramatic groups throughout the city. All have taken part in numerous local productions and are favorites with many audiences.

Cushman Clapp of the Village Players at Newton Centre is best remembered in "Picore," a recent production. Miss Dorothy DeWitt of Auburndale has taken leading roles in "On Approval" and "Afterwards" staged by the Auburndale Players this season. Mr. Arthur Lane, also of the Auburndale Players, starred in "For Someone Else."

Mr. John A. Hiller of Waban has played with the Dramateurs, the Newton Dramatic Club and the Players in such productions as "Bird in Hand," "Journey's End," "Skidding" and "Behold This Dreamer."

Mrs. Hazel Sholley of Newtonville is well-known for her acting in "Polly With a Past," "What Every Woman Knows," "Her Choice", "Rosalita", "Gardella", "Stop Thief", "Full House", "Torch Bearers", "Barnum Was Right", and "Erstwhile Susan." Her many admirers will welcome this opportunity of seeing her in a character comedy role as the bewildered Swedish maid. She demonstrates her ability as a finished actress and handles every situation with extreme cleverness. Her part in "T. N. T." is in direct contrast to the many dramatic and emotional parts she has so cleverly portrayed in the past.

Mrs. H. C. Bond, another Newtonville favorite who has been active in The Players in the presentations of "The 19th Hole", "Disraeli", "Broken Dishes", "Torch Bearers", etc., has an important role in "T. N. T." Sam Tuthill of The Players and the Amateurs stood out in "Take My Advice", "First Mrs. Fraser", "Skidding", and "Holiday."

Mariada Comer of West Newton, who has played many leading roles for the Newton Dramatic Club, is remembered for her acting in "Behold This Dreamer", "Rosalita", "Bab", "Daddy Long Legs", "Her Step Husband", and "Florist Shop." Mrs. H. H. Skelton of Newton Highlands played with the Dramateurs and The Players in "Skidding", "Bird In Hand", "Outward Bound" and others. William V. M. Fawcett is remembered in many productions of The Players for several years past, among the outstanding being "Bad Man", "You and I", "The 19th Hole", "Tommy", "Captain Apple Jack", and "First Mrs. Fraser."

These nine well-known actors and

To the Citizens of Newton

None but those who are most intimately in touch with the unemployment situation can possibly know or realize the magnitude of our work and the pressing need for funds to carry on the work beyond the time set in our original call for money.

Our calls for assistance are increasing in numbers almost daily—it is really appalling.

We have hopes that "T. N. T.", the play which is to be given April 27, 28 and 29, at the High School Auditorium, Walnut Street, for the benefit of our Fund for the Unemployed, will net us a substantial sum.

It is a worth-while entertainment, being sponsored by ladies of our city and past and present Presidents of the several Women's Clubs, acting as ushers at each performance, and by many of our most prominent citizens as Patrons and Patronesses.

We make an earnest appeal to you to assist, in our behalf, in making this an assured success, by purchasing tickets, at $1.00 each, at any Bank in Newton, or by mail order to John H. Eddy, Chairman, 35 Otis Street, Newtonville.

Protests Plan To Change Route Of New Parkway

Chamber of Commerce Informs Metropolitan Commission

The following letter was sent by Secretary Fleming of the Newton Chamber of Commerce to D. B. Keniston, chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission. It protests against the proposed change of route of the Hammond Pond Parkway.

Metropolitan District Commission,
20 Somerset Street,
Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:—

About twenty-five years ago a committee of gentlemen were appointed to make a study for the relief of Hammond street and to avoid future widening.

On this committee were Richard Saltonstall and Montgomery Rollins of Chestnut Hill, also the Honorable James M. W. Hall and Judge Robert R. Bishop of Newton Centre, and Frank A. Day of Newton, all now deceased. The result of this survey was a driveway to go to the westerly side of Hammond's Pond in as direct a line as possible from Boylston Street to Beacon Street.

The portion of land west of Hammond's Pond was acquired from the Lowell estate and the continuation from this block of land was given by Mr. Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill to the Commonwealth to complete this roadway location. Subsequently a new study was made following legislative hearing for a straightening of this route. As a result of this study the present route was adopted by the Metropolitan District Commission. Mr. Webster besides exchanging the old location for the new generously gave additional land necessary for widening this parkway.

Modern study of engineers and city planners demand as direct and as straight a route as possible with easy grades to meet present day conditions. The route now accepted and passing through the woods at the base of the ledges and on the land given by Mr. Webster is over land now owned by the Metropolitan District Commission. The construction plans for this route we understand are nearly completed and ready for bids.

Any route carried to the west will necessarily be circuitous climbing over the hills with steep grades and passing under the railroad at Glen avenue through a narrow underpass and coming out at the foot of a steep grade on Beacon Street which will make a very dangerous traffic hazard.

We understand that the present route adopted by the Metropolitan District Commission is in accord with the City of Newton Planning Board. It is unfortunate that it is impossible to please everyone in this matter, but we believe that the solution can best be worked out by the Boards appointed for the purpose, who make a thorough study of the entire problem and that their suggestions should be followed.

Very truly yours,
L. J. FLEMING,
Secretary.

Mayor Weeks Has Hopes For Lower Taxes This Year

Speaks at Newton Centre of Desire to Avoid Increase

The newly organized Newton Civic Society, comprised mostly of residents of the Waban Hill section, held its first meeting on Wednesday night at the Ward School on Dolphin Road, Chestnut Hill. The meeting was in charge of Abraham C. Webber, president of the society. The speakers were Mayor Weeks and Frank G. Volpe, assistant district attorney of Middlesex County. The Mayor criticised the indifferent citizens who do not do their civic duty by participating in elections and voting. The Mayor called attention to the reduction in Newton's tax rate last year and prophesied that the rate will be still further this year. The Mayor stated that an increase in the tax rate will be made only over his dead body.

Mr. Volpe told the gathering that the deplorable increase in crime is caused not by unemployment but by failure to enforce the law and punish criminals. He referred to the great number of criminals placed on probation and to the huge number of fire arms which are yearly manufactured and distributed to gun men.

REV. OTTO APPOINTED DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT

At the New England Conference of the Methodist Church held this week in Leominster, Rev. C. S. Otto, who for several years has been the pastor of the Methodist Church of Newton, was appointed District Superintendent for the Boston District by Presiding Bishop Anderson. Mr. Otto will be succeeded by Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, who comes from the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Beacon Hill, Boston. Another change is made by the transfer of Rev. Maurice L. Bullock of Centenary Church, Auburndale, to the First Church in Dorchester. Mr. Bullock is to be succeeded by Rev. Mason W. Sharp of Needham Heights.

WILL SUE CITY

Bernard Cohen of Boston has filed suit against the City of Newton for $5000 damages. He alleges that on February 20, 1931 he received severe injuries when a defect on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre caused him to lose control of his car, resulting in an automobile accident.

SPORT NOTES

Enters Marathon

Nicholas Tombascio of the Silver Lake A. C. is another local entry in the annual B. A. A. marathon next Tuesday.

Hockey Team Returns

The Boston Olympic Hockey Club team returned from abroad early this week after a ten weeks trip to Europe where 23 games were played in various countries. The team won 20, tied 2 and lost but one. Bill Blaney, former Williams College star and a Waban youth, was a member of the team. He ranked fifth in the teams scoring with 8 goals and 5 assists.

Enters Women's Track Meet

Natalie Welch of Newtonville will compete in the all-women track meet of the A. A. U. at the Boston Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. She is holder of the New England senior outdoor broad jump title and will attempt to annex the national junior indoor title. She is a graduate of Newton High School in 1930 and competes under the colors of the Boston Swimming Association.

Achieves Scholastic Honors

Leslie Huntley of Newton was among several Dartmouth athletes who were on the Dean's list as having achieved distinctive scholastic averages for the first semester. Huntley was a guard on the varsity football squad last fall.

Newton League Bowling

The results of Wednesday night's matches in the Newton Bowling league made no change in the standing of the teams other than to place Hunnewell and University in a tie for fourth place. University accomplished this feat by taking three from the Hunnewell team. In the other matches the Newton Club, Middlesex and Commercial took four points from their respective opponents, Weston, Waban and Maugus. The four point victory for Middlesex and the four point loss for Maugus put the former team within four points of the Maugus pace setters. With one more match to go Middlesex might tie the Wellesley team by a duplication of Wednesday's trick but this is not regarded as probable. The Newton Club victory kept them within two points of Middlesex and carried them six points ahead of Hunnewell and University, thus practically clinching third place. Next week Hunnewell rolls Weston and will endeavor to take four points in an effort to retain its hold on the first division. Waban's loss cost that team any chance of finishing out of the cellar as the Commercial Club's victory over Maugus put them seven points ahead of Waban.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

RHODES HOLDS ENGLISH BUT NEWTON LOSES

Newton High opened its 1932 baseball season on Wednesday afternoon and failed in its attempt to halt the winning streak of the Boston English High School nine which had run to 50 wins. The Hub nine has not lost a game since a post-season affair with Lawrence High in 1927 and hung up its 51st win at Newton's expense by a score of 8 to 0. The score hardly indicates the true character of the contest. For five complete innings Captain Tommy Rhodes had pitched great ball in holding the visitors in the hollow of his hand. In that time English had lifted but one ball out of the infield, a fly to left field being speared by Bob Hudson. In the five innings but three English players had reached first base and two had negotiated the second sack. In the third frame Orlito rounded to Flagg and the ball trickled into left field. When retrieved the English shortstop was perched on second but he was stranded as Flynn fanned and Hudson gathered in Mannix' fly. In the next inning with one down Rhodes issued his only pass to Wall who was erased on a snappy double play when Ryan grounded to Flagg. In the fifth frame Freno beat out a slow roller to Waters and later he stole second but was stranded when Mitchell went out on a foul bunt on his third strike and Rhodes threw Orlito out at first.

The day was pretty cold for baseball and Coach Jones, making his debut as Newton's head coach, decided it was not worth the risk to take chances on Rhodes' arm so he sent the Newton twirler to left field and Phil Giles took up the pitching burden. Giles fanned the first batter but passed the second and the stage was set for the first run of the game when the throw to second on a steal was off the mark and Mannix, the runner, reached third. The squeeze play was clearly on and Giles came racing in to field Galvin's bunt as Mannix came tearing home. The bunt was a slow roller, Giles' toss was slow, and Champagne could not get a good grip on the ball before Mannix crashed into him. Champagne dropped the ball and Mannix reached around him to touch the plate. Galvin then stole second but was left.

In the seventh Clifford Choquette, Newton sophomore southpaw, went in to pitch and his teammates gave him rather ragged support during the remainder of the game. English chalked up two tallies in the seventh on a pass, a steal, a single, another stolen base and a second squeeze play which clean fielding would have cut off but which was similar to the first play of that type. Another tally crossed the plate in the eighth inning on a single, an error by Huston and a wild pitch.

English scored its other four runs in the first of the ninth before Newton could get one man out. Three infield singles in a row and fielder's choice brought in the first two tallies and left runners on second and third. Both scored on Wall's solid single to centre field. The next three batters went out in order.

Newton had several opportunities to score but on every occasion failed to come through against the pitching of Eddie Wall. After the visitors had taken a three-run lead Raymond pitched the last two innings but nary a local player reached first base.

In the first inning with one down Terry beat out an infield hit but was out trying to steal second. Huston was safe when third baseman Timmins booted his grounder. Huston stole second and Wall planked the ball into Charlie Houghton's ribs to put two runners on. Waters hit a high foul fly which Timmins gathered in back of third base.

Two more Newton runners got on base in the second frame through Flagg's infield hit and a pass to Champagne. One was down at the time and both Hudson and Mullen hit flies to the outfield that went for naught. It was one, two, three for Newton in the third and fourth. With one down in the fifth Hudson hit to right centre for a single and went to second while Flynn and Mannix were doing an Alphonse-Gaston act to see who would pick the ball up first. He was stranded when Mullen and Terry grounded to third and second.

In the sixth with two down Waters beat out an infield rap and went to second when Umpire Colucci ruled a balk on Wall. Rhodes fanned to end the inning. Flagg got credit for a hit on a slow infield grounder to open Newton's seventh and moved to second on Choquette's single to right after Kevorkian had fanned. Mullen hit a foul fly bac kof first with Flagg making third after the catch. Terry made a great bid for a hit to centre but Flynn pulled down the ball after a long run.

Coach Jones has the makings of a good ball team this spring which should make the going interesting in the Suburban league race.

Had Newton possessed a little more experience the Boston English team would not have had the game presented to them on a silver platter. Up unto the later innings of the game it was anybody's contest but the misplays in the sixth and seventh innings proved costly for Newton.

This afternoon the Newton team will attempt to get onto the victory path at the expense of Quincy High when the latter team comes to Newtonville for its annual game. Coach Jones' squad will then have a layoff from both practice and competition for nearly ten days as next week is vacation week in the Newton schools. The week after next the squad will resume its sessions and will meet Braintree on Wednesday the 27th and Dorchester on Friday the 29th in games at Newtonville preparatory to opening the Suburban league schedule at Somerville on May 3rd.

OUR LADY HIGH DEFENDS TITLE AS C.H.S. LEAGUE OPENS

The Greater Boston Catholic High School baseball league opens the 1932 season this afternoon with four games scheduled. The Our Lady High School team of Newton, winner of the league's basketball title this past winter, is also defending champions in baseball. In today's game Our Lady High will entertain St. Mary's High of Waltham at Victory Field, Nonantum. Other games will have St. John's of Cambridge at Cathedral High in South Boston, St. Charles High of Waltham will play Immaculate Conception High at Revere, and St. Mary's High of Brookline visits St. Clement's High at Medford.

The Our Lady nine has several veterans to provide a nucleus for the 1932 team and there are good prospects of a successful defense of the title. Jimmy Murphy, all-league pitcher last year, is the leading veteran on the Our Lady nine with Jim Moran, alternate pitcher, on hand to give the local team a good pair of pitchers. Charlie Gallagher, star athlete at Our Lady's, will hold down his old position at first base and Leonard Cummings, last year's catcher, will be on the receiving end again. These four veterans have shown enough to make Our Lady High a real contender for 1932 honors.

John Burton, first baseman, is available this year after a season's absence because of illness which forced him out of last year's picture. Tom Talbot, a junior, is slated for second base and Anthony Lombardi for the shortstop berth. Steve MacLean, Jim Matthews and Bill O'Connell are slated for outfield duty. This quintet of ball players were all first-string substitutes last year.

SPORT NOTES

Signore Third

Vincent Signore of Newton Centre placed third in the annual Cathedral Young Men's Catholic Association last Saturday over the South End-Dorchester 10-mile route. The local youth had a handicap of five minutes. An interesting thing about Signore is that he covered his usual newspaper delivery route in the early morning and then spent a few hours delivering ice before reporting at the starting line with his brother, Augustino.

Few College Games

Most of the college games in this vicinity this week were postponed because of the unsuitable baseball weather. Northeastern managed to open its season against Brown on Wednesday with the latter winning 5 to 2. Herbert Gallagher of Newton twirled the entire game for the Huskies and but for the fourth inning was in little difficulty. In the fourth frame Brown tallied four runs to clinch the game. The rally was aided by a wild throw to first by Gallagher which allowed Brown's first run to score. Gallagher made two of Northeastern's eight hits.

Bourneuf a Candidate

Henri Bourneuf of Chestnut Hill is a candidate for the Harvard varsity golf team which began formal practice this week. Bourneuf was a member of the Newton High varsity golf team a few years ago and last year was on the Harvard jayvees. He is regarded as a likely candidate to fill one of the several holes left by graduation in the Crimson team.

Dwarfs Win And Lose

In the opening round of the semi-final games of the basketball tourney of the Boys' Club of Boston last Monday night the Newton Dwarfs came from behind to win from the St. Joseph Juniors of Medford in an overtime contest in the junior division 22 to 21. The local line-up included Dolbier and Bass, forwards, Bagley, centre, and Coe, Stevens and Manteneuto as guards. Tuesday night the Dwarfs were eliminated from the tourney by the North End Union Juniors, 39 to 19. The latter and the Dillon Club Juniors will meet Saturday in the finals of the junior division.

N. U. Strong In Field Events

Northeastern University will be strong in the field events of the first outdoor track meet of the season next week Saturday when the Huskies meet New Hampshire University. Curtis Scott of Newton will take care of the high jump. He tied for the N. E. A. A. A. U. high jump title.

Wilson Batting Third

Arthur Wilson of Auburndale who is one of the few veterans on the Boston University baseball team will bat third in the line-up when the Terriers make another attempt to open their season tomorrow. With several games postponed because of the weather the B. U. team will go to Brown tomorrow for its first game. Wilson is the third baseman and is one of the leading batters at the Hub school.

Hemeon in Right Field

Mel Hemeon, former Newton high and Cushing Academy athlete, is playing right field for the University of Pennsylvania this season. Penn defeated Harvard last Friday with one hit of Charlie Devens. The hit was a home run with one.

Out For Golf

Arthur Chamberlain of Auburndale and James W. Foote of Newton Centre are among the candidates for the Boston University golf team which reported for practice at the Albemarle links yesterday afternoon.

Virginia Rice Wins

Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre girl and a well known tennis player, won her quarter-final match in the women's singles in the North and South tennis tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., yesterday. She defeated Mrs. P. B. Hawk of New York, 6—2- 6—2, showing the best tennis she has displayed in the tourney. The semi-finals will be played today with Miss Rice, Mrs. John Van Ryn, Miss Page and Miss Hilleary competing for a chance in the finals.

Country Day Wins

Country Day School opened its baseball season successfully Wednesday afternoon defeating Winchester High on the Newton school's diamond, 5 to 2. Bentley, Country Day first baseman, featured for the locals making three of their six hits, one of which went for two bases. Weston held the visitors to three scattered hits, fanning seven.

Camp Frank A. Day

Care is being taken in selecting the counselors for the 1932 season of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Camp, and the men contracted so far are unusual in their experience and ability. Camp Frank A. Day has prided itself in securing the best men that are available and this year it seems that more men are seeking positions at Camp Day.

For the past ten years, Clyde G. Hess, Camp Director, has been successful in securing men who have given their time and loyalty to the interests of the boys. Associated with him again this year will be Mr. C. Evan Johnson, teacher and coach at Walpole High School. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Colby College and has had a wide experience in dealing with boys, both on and off the athletic field. His ability to organize the activities has been shown in the progress which has been made during the past two seasons that he has been affiliated with the Camp. This year Mr. Johnson will have his headquarters in the Junior Camp and will pay more direct attention to the smaller boys than usual.

Mr. Morton H. Wiggin, a former teacher at Newton High School and now at Malden High School, will return to Camp in the capacity of Director of Nature Study and Outdoor Life. He is a graduate of Bates College and has received his Master's Degree from Harvard University. Several new items of interest in Nature Study have been put into the program this year and the boys will continue to build their Nature Museum and for a new project will make an Outdoor Aquarium. A Nature Trail will be made through the Camp. With Mr. Wiggin is Mr. True, also a teacher at Malden High School. The boys will be given definite courses in Chemistry and Biology of the Outdoor Life. Mr. True is a graduate of Bowdoin and has had many years' experience in boys' camps in New England.

The director of Aquatics and Water Front this year will be Mr. Winston S. Brown, a graduate of Annapolis and a third year Harvard Business Administration School student. Mr. Brown has been Head Counselor in Camp Susquehanna at Milford, Pennsylvania, and has had rich experience in dealing with boys and organizing water life in boys' camps.

New emphasis in Camp this summer will be placed on Music, both in singing and orchestra work and will be headed by Mr. Robert Murphy, a graduate of Knox College Conservatory and a student at the Harvard Graduate School of Law. Mr. Murphy has directed Glee Clubs, played for four years for the Kiwanis Club, and during the past few summers has directed an orchestra in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

Other men added to the Staff are Harold S. Brown, graduate of Georgia Tech, who has also had three years' experience as a counselor in boys' camps; Arthur Healy, graduate of Harvard University will return to Camp as well Mr. Robert Anderson of Hutchinson College, Hutchinson, Kansas.

The Art and Craft work will be directed by Mr. George Conaty, head of the sloyd department of the Walpole Schools. Mr. Conaty will supervise the building of new projects throughout the Camp, and the Art and Craft work will include basket weaving, fancy whip cord tying, woodworking, and metal work. Other men are being interviewed to assist him.

The Camp will open on Wednesday, June 29th, and the boys are enrolling for either three, six, or nine weeks. Over fifty boys have registered and each day brings added inquiries regarding the Camp. On Tuesday, April 19th, the Camp Committee plan to hold a meeting at Camp when they will consider carefully improvements and plans for the coming summer.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Because of the criticism made by Alderman Temperley at recent meetings of the Board of Aldermen, considerable publicity has been given to the purchase by the City of Newton of 22½ acres of land at Needham as an addition to the water supply reservation. Mr. Temperley holds that the price paid for this land, $1000 the acre, is excessive. In justice to those who contend that Mr. Temperley is wrong in taking this view, the following information received from what we consider a creditable source, is published.

The 22½ acres in question are part of the large area formerly owned by the Dunton estate. This estate comprised about 115 acres of waste land, rough in topography, which was considered of little value until recent years. Then, with the greatly increased demand for sand and gravel, caused by the rapid growth of Greater Boston, the building of many streets and the common use of concrete for building purposes, the huge deposits of sand and gravel in this land caused it to be in demand. In 1925 about 27 acres of this land, which had been purchased shortly before from the Dunton estate, were sold to two men interested in its development as sand and gravel pits for $55,000. The following year these men acquired nearly 90 acres more of the former Dunton property adjoining the 27 acres already purchased, and paid for this parcel $50,000. In 1927 one of these men bought out his partner for $70,000. This made the amount paid for the 115 acres in the area bought for gravil pit purposes $175,000, or more than $1500 per acre. Considering the possibilities of this land for the excavating of sand and gravel, this price was not exorbitant.

This whole property could have been purchased not so many years ago by the City of Newton for a sum considerably less than was paid recently for the 22½ acres. Experts on water supply systems urged the then city officials to acquire all this land, but, unfortunately for the city, this advice was not taken. It was ideal for a water supply reservation. Adjoining the Charles River, composed of an excellent grade of gravel and sand, sloping up from the river thus providing rapid seepage, it afforded the means to take large amounts of water from the river, filter it thoroughly, and supply it for the needs of Newton. Had the city acquired this property it would have provided for an adequate supply of water for a great many years and assured against the purchase of this land for building sites or industrial purposes by private persons, with the resultant pollution of the land which would prevent water from it being used for the Newton water supply.

Mr. Temperley in his criticism of the payment of $1000 per acre for the 22½ acres acquired by the city, stated that this acreage is "mined-out" gravel pits. As a matter of fact, most of these 22½ acres have not been denuded of the gravel in them, and by using shovels and then the dragline method of excavating, huge amounts of gravel and sand can still be obtained from them. The value of such material would amount to very appreciable figures. Newton, however, purchased this area to increase its water supply and the plans for the storage basins which will be excavated in this area, will, we are informed assure the city of 2,000,000, additional gallons of water per day. Last year an average of more than 1,000,000 gallons per day was obtained from the basin in the area owned by the Needham Sand & Gravel Company without cost to the city, other than the cost of pumping, estimated at about $1250 per month. The Metropolitan District Commission charges Newton $94 per million gallons for water purchased, so on the basis of only 1,000,000 gallons per day, the land will pay for itself in less than a year; and on a basis of 2,000,000 per day the savings will be multiplied.

The City of Newton owns about 775 acres of water bearing land; about 685 acres of which is in Needham. While this land may be assessed at only a nominal value, its real value mounts into millions of dollars. For some years there has been agitation to have Newton abandon its own water supply system and take all its water from the Metropolitan District system. Much of this agitation has come from persons who were disgusted in the past few years by the impurities which made Newton water far less desirable for household purposes than in former years. But, those of us who have lived all our lives in Newton, who remember the quality of the local water supply in the past, and who realize that it is in good condition again, would oppose abandoning this hard water, which is much to be preferred for drinking purposes to the soft, ofttimes muddy tasting water of the Metropolitan system. We know persons residing in Watertown who frequently express the wish that they could have Newton water instead of the Metropolitan water they receive. The Boston papers certainly carried plenty of news recently regarding the trouble experienced with the Metropolitan water received in the northern area from Spot Pond reservoir.

There are persons who would like to see Newton abandon its local water supply for a reason other than dissatisfaction with the quality of this water in the past. The hundreds of acres of rich gravel lands comprising the water supply reservation at Needham are coveted by these persons. If they could obtain possession of some of this land with its millions of tons of gravel and sand, fortunes could be made. Especially if they could obtain this land at a low price through political influence. We don't believe the people of Newton will allow the local water supply to be abandoned for the much more expensive Metropolitan supply. The acquiring of the 22½ acres and the plan to use it for huge filtration basins tends to assure the continuation of the present supply. But, if at anytime in the future, any decided attempt is made to have the hundreds of acres at Needham abandoned as a water supply reservation, it behooves the citizens of Newton to watch this land and prevent its sale to private persons.

Rotary Club

Captain Percy Creed, Secretary of the Massachusetts Washington Bi-centenary Committee, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. The first part of his talk was devoted to Washington, especially with reference to his ability to do hard work and as a man of destiny. He chose L'Enfant to lay out a plan for the new city of Washington in 1790 but Washington himself improved upon L'Enfant's plan. If ever a man created a city it was George Washington, and the town planners have not yet caught up with him. The best way to celebrate this bi-centenary of Washington is to renew our efforts at town-planning. In Massachusetts only 130 towns and cities out of 365 have complied with the town-planning law of the state. The speaker then told of the movement which is on foot to interest the children throughout the Commonwealth in town-planning, a movement started by Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, which has the backing of Superintendent Patrick Campbell of Boston and of the Newton Town Planning Board.

At the invitation of President Richardson, Captain Creed spoke most interestingly of his acquaintance with Lord Kitchener in whose office he worked when Kitchener was organizing the British forces in such a marvelous manner. Here was another man of destiny concerning whom much has been said that is utterly false. He was not a worn out old man, and much has been said about his death which is untrue. There is no doubt that his death was due to a German mine in the waters north of Scotland when Kitchener had sailed for Russia. To the speaker he was like an elder brother. Interesting side-lights on the character of Marshal Foch, another man of destiny, and a friend of the speaker's cousin, Sir Henry Wilson, and of Mr. and Mrs. Asquith closed a most instructive and interesting half hour for the members of the club.

NOREMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL

The Annual Convention of the Norumbega District, held last Saturday afternoon and evening in Belmont, was largely attended by Newton and Waltham as well as by local Belmont people.

Mrs. J. Mace Andress, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Mr. Frank H. Grebe, Mrs. Wm. A. MacCormick, Professor James P. Berkeley, Dr. Mark H. Ward, and Professor H. Augustine Smith, all of Newton, spoke or had charge of special features of the program. Professor Smith conducted a period of "exalted congregational singing," featuring new hymns and telling their background. He also conducted a remarkably fine program of worship, in which many unusual anthems were sung by the Choral Art Society of Boston University School of Religious Education.

Three Newton young people, officers of the Inter-Church Young People's Council, gave five-minute talks: Constance Dort, Warren Hilton, and Leighton Harris.

A business session was held, in which Dr. Mark H. Ward of Newton Highlands was reelected president. Other officers elected were Rev. Ralph H. Rogers, vice-president; William R. Ferry, treasurer; Miss Grace A. Briggs, recording secretary.

A new project for the District was announced, that of a District standard of a certain amount of time for lesson study by Sunday School pupils each week. Suggestions for putting this standard into effect in many Sunday Schools of the District will be taken up at committee meetings in the near future.

Diplomas for completion of the three-year "Standard Leadership Training Course" were presented last Saturday evening to three church school workers of Newton; Miss Grace A. Briggs of Eliot Church, Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas of Second Church, West Newton, and Miss Eva J. Viles of the Newton Methodist Church. These persons are now entitled also to their denominational diplomas, because of the co-operation of denominations with the International Council, the agency through which the Norumbega District School is accredited each year.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton, held its regular meeting at the Chapter House Monday the 11th, the regent, Mrs. Liverus H. Howe, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting having been read and approved reports were in order. The librarian Mrs. C. Clark Macomber gave a very interesting report about her efforts to find the value of a collection of papers pertaining to the navy which were found in the house after it was bought by the Chapter. They turned out to be quite valuable and are to be given to the Nautical Museum of the Institute of Technology and will be indexed. They will be known as the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., collection of early U. S. Nautical Documents.

The papers originally belonged to Sam'l. Brown as Naval Agent to the Charlestown Navy Yard who at that time lived in the house.

Mrs. Alex D. Salinger gave an interesting account of the State Conference of the D. A. R. Mrs. Arthur P. Friend reported that the prize of 10 dollars given every three years to the Chapter showing the largest new membership during that time will be divided this year between the Lucy Jackson Chapter and the Mansfield Chapter — both having 41 new members.

The delegates attending the Continental Congress, D. A. R., at Washington are Mrs. Liverus H. Howe, Mrs. Alex D. Salinger. Alternates: Mrs. H. J. Brown, Mrs. E. F. Dow, Mrs. E. O. Woodward, Mrs. F. M. Sherman, Miss F. E. Tower, Mrs. E. P. Goodman, Mrs. A. R. Wells, Mrs. D. W. Wells, Mrs. F. M. Lowe and Mrs. F. S. Sherman.

The meeting was then adjourned. Mrs. Howe, the regent, introduced the speaker of the afternoon Mrs. Geo. E. Walcott who gave a delightful and absorbing story of a thrilling romance of her great-aunt Phoebe in the year 1774.

Tea was served by the hostesses Mmes. M. L. Cooley, J. S. Cordingley, E. P. Crawe, J. L. Damon, A. P. Dana, H. M. Davis, F. A. Day, W. A. Dearborn, E. D. Dodge, E. F. Dow, J. F. Dunleavy, A. C. Dunmore and the Misses M. T. Eager and A. C. Early.

NEW ENGLAND PEABODY HOME FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

On Tuesday of this week the children at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children were given a delightful time by the Junior League of Boston who presented a play entitled "The Dream Lady". There was much excitement and pleasure as the children anticipated their entertainment which was presented in the hall provided for them.

With the present financial conditions, all charitable work has been seriously handicapped by the marked decrease in contributions, and without any endowment, it is difficult to say what the outcome will be. Many are as much interested as ever, but have felt they could not give as generously, and consequently the income has been cut materially.

Every reduction in the overhead expense has been made, including the reduction in the number of employees to a minimum, cutting of salaries, and the discharge of as many patients as possible. A real problem is ahead unless something definite is done to carry on the work that has been so well established for these crippled children. The cost of education is something that should be provided as the children are under treatment for several years, and should have the privileges that crippled children get in their own homes in the line of education.

DEAD INFANT FOUND AT NEWTONVILLE

The body of a male infant, about a week old, was found on Monday morning by James Eames of Lexington who is caretaker of the Ryder estate on Walnut street, Newtonville. The body was found lying near the stone wall at the estate and quite near Laundry Brook. It appeared that someone had thrown it from Walnut street, intending to drop it into the brook.

Police News

John Riley, 16, of Reed court, Roxbury was arrested last Friday night at Newton Center by Patrolman James Jenkins while he was driving a car stolen from Morris Kutch of Lynn. The car was stolen in the South End, Boston and it was the second time in 11 days that it had been stolen. Young Riley appeared in the Newton court on Saturday and his case was continued to April 15.

Frederick Chatfield of 3 Shepard street, Cambridge was fined $25 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Friday last for driving without a license in his possession and failing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman. Patrolman Whelan testified that he noticed Chatfield operating a car with two flat tires and signalled him to stop, but the Cambridge man did not obey the signal.

Alessandro Citrone of 16 Quirk court, Nonantum was in the Newton court last Friday charged with nonpayment of wages to two Watertown men who had worked for him. Citrone claimed he had paid the men the amounts they claimed. Judge Bacon found for the claimants and ordered Citrone to pay the two before April 15.

Wong Shue, 19, of 28 Sumner street, Newton Centre, was fined $15 in the Newton court on Monday for driving without a license and $5 for driving without a registration certificate in his possession. Young Chue was arrested at Newton Centre Sunday night by Patrolman Jenkins after the car he was operating bumped into a curbing.

The report of the Nominating committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the next year, 1932-1933, is of great interest to all Newton Clubwomen. On May 2nd, they will have the opportunity to re-elect as president, Mrs. Samuel U. Braman, of the Social Science Club, Newton. The three vice-presidents and the recording secretary are new; for first vice-president, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, of the Auburndale Woman's Club; for second vice-president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, of the Waban Woman's Club; for third vice-president, Mrs. Edwin H. Gibbs, of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands; and for recording secretary, Mrs. George J. Murphy, of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The corresponding secretary, to be re-elected is Mrs. Charles Cunningham, of the West Newton Women's Educational Club; the treasurer, to be re-elected, is Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, of the West Newton Community Service Club; and the auditor, to be re-elected, is Mrs. George G. Wolkins, of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club. And directors nominated to serve for 1932 to 1935 are Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, of Newton Upper Falls, and Mrs. Paul E. Elicker, of Newtonville.

The Nominating committee to serve for 1933-1934 will be: Chairman, Mrs. Hiram Miller, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Newton Centre; Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, Auburndale; Mrs. Oliver Lothrop, Waban; Mrs. Thomas Weston, West Newton; Mrs. Robert Hills, Newtonville; Mrs. Phillip Jamieson, Newton; Mrs. Justine Starkie, Newton Upper Falls; and Mrs. Edwin Dyer, Auburndale.

This ballot is submitted by the Nominating committee for 1931-1932, composed of Mrs. David A. Ambrose, Mrs. Harold O. Cook, Mrs. Krickel K. Carrick, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, Mrs. Frances Newhall, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., and Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, chairman.

Daughters of the American Constitution

The Massachusetts Unit of the Daughters of the Constitution will give a Luncheon at the Hotel Statler, Boston, on Friday, April 22nd, at 12:30 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged. The following nationally well-known men and women will address the meeting: Mrs. Lon O. Hocker, of St. Louis, president-general of the National organization of the Daughters of the American Constitution; Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, of New York; Mrs. George H. Strawbridge, of Philadelphia, and Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, of Boston.

Mrs. Richard C. Cabot is the president of the Massachusetts Unit; Mrs. Roland M. Baker, vice-president; Mrs. Frederick C. Judd, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, former president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will preside at the Luncheon.

Patriotic women of Newton will be intensely interested in this new organization recently formed in this State. National headquarters are at St. Louis. Sponsors of the National organization include names of prominent public men and women that arrest attention. Among them Vice-President Charles Curtis, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Prof. Isaac Lippincott, William Allen White, Governor Winant, Mrs. Willebrandt, Hamlin Garland, Dr. T. N. Carver, of Harvard University, Senator Roscoe Patterson, Senator Arthur Capper, and many, many others.

Of interest to Clubwomen many officials and members of the State and General Federation are its staunch supporters, as well as women prominent in patriotic organizations. It announces as its objects of formation that the Daughters of the American Constitution are organized to promote political education; to arouse public opinion behind the government; and it announces that it is to be promoted without profit. It is non-partisan and non-sectarian, and there are no dues for membership. It is formed with the purpose that it shall call to thought and action American Womanhood, in arousing public opinion against crime.

All who become members of the Daughters of the American Constitution pledge themselves: 1. to uphold the Constitution of the United States; 2. to support the President of the United States at the present time; 3. To uphold the Courts and all public officials who enforce the law; 4. to help suppress crime; and 5. To register and vote in both primary and general election of 1932.

All patriotic women who desire to learn more of this organization, and its aims, have opportunity to do so by attending the Luncheon arranged for the 22nd of this month. Tickets for this, at $1.00, may be obtained from Mrs. John A. Groves, 97 Parker street, Newton Centre, Tel. Cen. New. 0832-W; Mrs. Alexander Kevorkian, 126 Eastbourne road, Newton Centre, Tel. Cen. New. 2805; or from Mrs. William Butler, 41 Arlington street, Newton, Tel. New. No. 6777.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The Junior Educational Club is planning to hold a Rummage Sale on Saturday, April 16th, in a vacant store on Washington street, opposite Chestnut street, West Newton.

Clubwomen will be interested to attend and make this enterprising financial venture a success while having the pleasure of finding bargains.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet in Channing Church on Wednesday, April 20th, at 10 o'clock. For the program, Mrs. Lucius Thayer will read a paper on "Jane Addams." The hostesses will be Mrs. Nathan Heard and Mrs. H. H. Powers.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The final meeting for the year of the Community Service Club of West Newton will be held on Wednesday, April 20th, in the Unitarian Parish House. The Annual Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, will be served at 12:30 p. m., followed by the Annual Meeting and election of officers for 1932-1933.

A delightful afternoon is promised when Mrs. W. S. Railsback, a member of the Club who is always assured of a warm welcome, will give a miscellaneous program of dramatic readings and the Club Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, will be heard in several selections.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Thursday, April 21st, at 10 a. m., Mr. Burton Davis will give his talk, "Diamonds in Your Ice-Box", which was omitted from the first cooking lesson period of the Newton Centre Woman's Club because of lack of time. Mr. Davis is a very popular lecturer and his subject should prove particularly helpful and timely. The lecture is open to all, and there will be no charge.

The Literature committee of the Club has arranged for a delightful evening at the home of Mrs. Montague Ford, 121 Institution avenue, on Saturday, April 23rd, at 8 p. m. By this thoughtful plan husbands and friends will have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Miriam Franc Skirball, most talented lecturer, whose stimulating Book Reviews many Club members have enjoyed this winter. Mrs. Skirball will speak on the Irish Drama, a subject of particular interest at the present time when the Abbey Players are in town. There will also be a few musical selections by Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Kirtley Mather. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Everett Winslow, Centre Newton 2927.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

The Junior Woman's Club has in preparation for its spring production, sometime the last of May, the very charming musical fantasy, "Penny Buns and Roses", the most delightful of all the works of Charles Repper, of Boston. Mme. Florence Wood Russell, musical director of the Juniors, is in charge of the production. Mme. Russell's years of experience along such lines admirably fit her for such work, and she has gathered together a group of over fifty girls who are enthusiastically rehearsing for this performance. The music is unusual, the costumes brilliant, and the plot unique. The great success of the February concert promises a second record-breaking audience, which will certainly witness a decidedly lovely entertainment.

Newton Community Club

Mrs. Albert W. Walker, Art chairman, is planning—weather permitting—a most delightful outing and art tour for members of the Newton Community Club, for Thursday, the 21st. Those who desire to join in this event, are asked to notify Mrs. Walker, Tel. Centre Newton 4607, by Monday, the 18th, so that she may arrange automobile accommodations, and they are to meet at the Underwood School at 10:30 o'clock, from which starting point they will set forth to Andover, for a visit in the Phillips Academy Art Museum. Here there is an excellent permanent collection of American masterpieces, and a very fine temporary exhibition of paintings by young American artists who have been painting under the auspices of the Tiffany Foundation on Long Island—a worthwhile exhibit, therefore, and a pleasant outing of sociability, as well.

Luncheon will be enjoyed at Andover, or those who wish may provide box luncheons. The plan is to be back in Newton about the middle of the afternoon.

The first season of the new Club of Juniors draws to a close on Monday, the 18th, when they will hold their first Annual Meeting. This will be at the Episcopal Church Parish House at 8 p. m. The Juniors have been engaged in many flourishing financial affairs, proven by the splendid gift of $22.50 sent to the Newton Welfare Bureau recently. One of their methods of raising money was the Cookie Sale held in March, in charge of Miss Barbara Howe, which added $8.25 to their Philanthropic Fund. On the 18th they will elect officers and make plans for another year. The Senior Club congratulates them upon the success of this their first one, and offers best wishes for the adventures of the new one. Mrs. Phillip S. Jamieson has been their director during this crucial year of formation.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday, April 22nd, at the Commonwealth Country Club, where Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Edgar P. Hay who has charge of all arrangements. Transportation will be provided for any who wish to attend the business meeting after the luncheon, but are unable to attend the luncheon. Those wishing this accommodation should notify Mrs. Hay, and cars will be sent to the Second Church at 1:30 o'clock for them.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Henry J. Baringer, chairman of the Hospital committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be hostess to that committee on Friday, April 22nd, at 2 p. m., when they will meet at her home, 122 Lowell avenue, for a social afternoon.

Tickets for the Annual Luncheon and meeting, which is to be held on Tuesday, April 26th, may now be obtained from Mrs. A. William Krause, Newton North 1297. Reservations may be made up to April 23rd. Tickets for the Luncheon are $1.00.

According to the By-Laws the Club fee for the coming year is now due and must be paid not later than May first. Checks should be made payable to the treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney.

State Federation

RADIO. For the broadcast of the 16th of the State Federation, over WBZ, at 11:30 o'clock, the speakers will be Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, of Winthrop, State chairman of Community Service, on "What We Share," and Mrs. Nathaniel E. Smith, of Somerville, in a review of Club activities in the Seventh District, of which she is director. Charles W. Little, of Brockton, will give violin selections as the musical interlude.

Saturday, the 23rd, is "Junior Day," over WBZ, at the usual broadcasting hour, when Mrs. I. William Crowell, chairman of Junior Membership, and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Junior adviser, will speak on activities of the Juniors. Appropriately the music of the program will be furinished by Juniors. The Fourth District comes in for its turn in presentation of district activities and affairs, through the director of this district, Mrs. Stewart A. Colpitts, on this program also.

PRIZE CONTESTS. The Prize Essay Contest on "Community Planning and Woman's Part In It," has had its time limit extended to May first. Awards will be made on knowledge expressed of community planning, and workable suggestions for enlisting active interest of women and workable suggestions of action. The field is wide, taking in recreation and right use of leisure, roadside cleanup, elimination of unsightly billboards, scholaships, and even local welfare work during the past season. Complete details and information will be furnished by Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, State Chairman of Community Service, 42 Floyd street, Winthrop, who is eager to have Massachusetts win this General Federation contest, and have the prize winning essay read at Seattle prove to come from the State that is to elect there a Massachusetts woman for the presidency. With all the splendid activities of Newton Clubs, and with the splendid work accomplished by the Newton Federation on Relief of Unemployment and for the Welfare Clothing Chest for the city this winter, there certainly should be opportunity for Newton to gratify Mrs. Dutch in her ambition. Last year the Newton Centre Woman's Club carried off one of the two awards of statuary in the Art Contest of the Penny Art Fund, and there is no reason why Newton should not capture the honors this year.

Somewhat in the nature of a contest, too, is the Exhibition to which Mrs. Walter H. Woods, chairman of the State Division of Co-operation with War Veterans, is looking forward in plans for the Annual Meeting at Swampscott. An Afghan Exhibit is scheduled in conenction with the annual sale of articles from the Disabled Ex-Service Men's Exchange. Afghans should be 60 by 80 inches in size, but may be of any color scheme, and either knit or crochet.

CLUB INSTITUTE OF TWELFTH DISTRICT. Clubs of the Twelfth and Thirteenth Districts of the State Federation are cordially invited to a Club Institute to be held Wednesday, April 20th, with the Hopedale Women's Club in the Community House, Hopedale. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of Whitinsville, State chairman of Club Insti-

Travel Talk at Newtonville

"Inspirational Spots in a World's Journey" was the subject of an address by Mrs. John Lincoln Dearing at the afternoon session of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church April 7. Mrs. Dearing who is a resident of Cambridge lived for 25 years in Yokohama, Japan, where her husband, now deceased, was president of a Baptist Theological Seminary. Her address was based on a round-the-world trip made four years ago.

A visit to the tiny apartment of the London preacher, Maude Royden, is considered by Mrs. Dearing as one of the red letter days of her trip. She described Miss Royden as somewhat unattractive, physically, but with soul of an angel. Two English Cathedrals, one at Winchester in Hampshire and the other at Wells in Somersetshire, were among the inspirational spots in the trip. The former, built in 1870-97, was described as the most beautiful cathedral visited and the latter which dates back to the 13th century as the most perfect. Paris proved uninspiring. The galleries of Florence and those of the Vatican and an old monastery were points of interest in Italy. In the monastery there are 55 cells each containing a picture of Christ painted by a noted artist. Monks live in these cells.

It was Mrs. Dearing's privilege to spend the Holidays in the Holy Land. On Christmas eve she attended a service in the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem and later stood under the stars and sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and other Christmas carols. Standing on the Mount of Olives on Christmas day, and looking down on Jerusalem through the crystalline air, she was impressed with the concentrated beauty of the view. The houses are built of sandstone containing mica which gives the effect of "Jerusalem the Golden," when the sun is shining.

On shipboard she met the Englishman who discovered the long disused aqueducts of Mesopotamia and engineered their restoration. He was then, at the age of 75, on his way to India, with a commission from England, to fight mosquitoes. In Yokohoma, as a result of the earthquake, Mrs. Dearing found a wild waste where her lovely home had been.

During the morning Mrs. C. E. Thyng provided sewing for the Newton Hospital. The Executive Board met with Mrs. Frank E. Morris, the president, in charge. Mrs. Louis W. Bruemmer, president of the Woman's Bible Class, reported an average attendance of 50 during March. Plans were made for the annual class dinner April 25 and for the mother and daughter dinner May 5. Gifts of money were voted for the Medical Mission in Boston, the immigrant work also in Boston, the Wilbur Home in Natick, and the Deaconess Aid Society. Luncheon was served by Mrs. W. T. Taylor and her group.

CHINA AT PARTING OF WAYS SAYS DR. EDDY

Dr. Eddy told how when a student at Yale 40 years ago he had given up his intention of entering business, as a result of the enthusiasm of one student who saw in China great possibilities for a Christian nation and how, as field secretary for the Foreign Mission Board after fifteen years as a resident missionary in India, he has been in constant touch with the remarkable progress Christianity has been making in the Orient.

Dr. Eddy, who lives in New York, was introduced by his brother, Dr. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville. In addition to its desire to gain first hand information on the timely subject of the Sino-Japanese situation, the audience seemed to have assembled to pay its respects to "The Eddy Boys," sons of Newton, who for forty years have been leaders in foreign mission work and Student Volunteer Movement.

"TEMPER CONTROL" SCREEN PERFECTED

Now that spring is in the air and the season for window screens is nearly here, the minds of housewives is on cleaning and the minds of their husbands turn with reluctance to the yearly task of shutting out the flies and mosquitoes.

The ordeal of sorting out the screens and installing them need no longer try men's tempers. The Crown Shade and Screen Company of Boston and Roslindale has changed all that. The "Ace" screen which has been perfected by them can be easily adjusted to a warped sill without planning by simply driving in a pin. The new screen is architecturally perfect. It is made entirely of brass and zinc, can not rust, and there is nothing to wear out.

The screen raises and lowers easily without tugging or pulling, so that a child can handle it without the slightest difficulty.

The screen will be a feature of the Home Beautiful Exposition to be held in the near future in the Boston Garden, where it will be discovered that every viewpoint from architect to home owners has been considered.

They cost no more than ordinary sliding screens with a metal track.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Bette Davis, who graduated a few short years ago from the Newton High School, will be seen on the screen at the Paramount, starting Sunday, in the ingenue lead with George Arliss in "The Man Who Played God." Miss Davis is the newest addition to that select coterie of young artists who owe much of their rapid advance in their profession to the kindly help and sympathetic guidance of Mr. Arliss. Other popular artists in the cast are Ivan Simpson, Louise Closser, Hale, Donald Cook and Andre Luguet.

Letters To The Editor

THE HAMMOND POND PARKWAY

Newton Centre, Mass.,
April 13, 1932.

To the Editor:

It is with deep regret that I learn of the attempt to prevent the Metropolitan District Commission from constructing the Hammond Pond Parkway along the route that has been proposed and for which plans have been completed.

The new route as briefly mentioned by Mr. Lee in his recent letter will be over rougher country, poorer grades and more expensive to build. If, as has been suggested, the new proposed route is to intersect Beacon street at Glen avenue, it will use a portion of Glen avenue where it passes under the Boston and Albany tracks by a very narrow underpass, barely two lanes wide.

Then a left hand turn to Beacon street, another turn off Beacon street near Chesley road over private lands to Willow street and thence to Center street. It is not as simple as this sounds. The new extension from Beacon street to Willow will destroy several houses, must cross the aqueduct, and form a dangerous five-way intersection with Sumner street, Willow and Lyman streets.

The widening of Willow street will be necessary with further destruction of property and another dangerous intersection at Centre street will result.

Newton Centre has already its share of traffic problems without adding four more points of danger and congestion. The original Hammond Pond Parkway plan dates from 1908 or earlier. It has always been understood that the parkway would continue at least to Commonwealth avenue via Hobart road. Commonwealth avenue is the logical highway for distribution of traffic. Why should the route be changed now?

The Metropolitan District Commission's plan offers no harm or damage to Hammond Pond or the beauty of this area. It only makes the lovely spot accessible. If this plan cannot be completed, let us forget it; let us leave Hammond Pond alone in its lonely beauty and spend the money to widen Hammond street from the Newton line near Boylston street to Commonwealth avenue. Hammond street has already been widened up to the Newton line and a full widening of it to Commonwealth avenue would certainly provide a very valuable inner circumferential route. If the route must be changed, let us make a real change but keep the extra traffic out of Newton Centre and protect quiet residential streets like Center street and Homer street and let those who are not satisfied with the Hammond Pond Parkway bear the burden of traffic.

Very truly yours,
FRED L. FARNSWORTH.

NOISY DANCERS

To the Editor,

In regard to the recent article in the "About Town" column regarding the noise from patrons of the dance hall of Norumbega Park:

Writing as a life-long resident of Woodbine street I should like very much to add my protest also to what can only be termed a nuisance to myself and neighbors of Auburndale.

These facts are true and can be readily and easily proved.

While there is a large parking space at the Park, the lower ends of Woodbine and Bourne streets are used for a parking place and, of course, every night with much noise the cars are parked there about 9:00 o'clock and then after midnight they are taken away. It is impossible for the residents of this neighborhood to sleep between 11:00 and 2:00 o'clock because of the noise, screeching, yelling, racing of motors, etc., that takes place every night.

This section, including Weston Bridge, used to be a part of Newton that one could be proud of, but with the crowds it is attracting, it is fast turning into a "Revere Beach."

I do not believe that the benefits, monetary or otherwise, that the city or residents of Newton derive from this dance hall, make it worth while.

In conclusion I am very grateful that we have an Alderman like Mr. Smith.

Very truly yours,
"AUBURNDALE RESIDENT."

A LANDMARK GONE

To the Editor:

We should be more particular about recorded matters of historical interest in Newton. Old houses, changes in streets, removal of our beautiful trees we are so proud of, or anything of interest to coming generations. They should be photographed and so far as possible published.

There was one reminder of passing landmarks which disappeared during the heavy snowstorm in January. At No. 44 Woodbine street, Auburndale, was what I believe to be the last apple tree of the Orchard on the old Bourne farm. Last year it had a good supply of Baldwin apples. It had been in a decline but had lost its heart and under the weight of the snow it crashed to the ground.

I was hoping someone who knew the old farm would make a record, but it was left to a more recent comer. However, Mr. Editor, let's record.

AUBURNDALE.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The April meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the twelfth at the home of Mrs. Henry Cross, 30 Langley road, Newton Centre. The regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook, called the meeting to order and opened with the salute to the flag.

The bridge party held at the home of Mrs. Robert D. Chellis of Wellesley on March fifteenth was so successful that Mrs. John Merrill of Newton Centre is opening her home for another on April twenty-sixth.

The regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook, reminded the members of the importance of being punctual at chapter meetings.

A report was read from the board meeting of the state society concerning the following matters: 1) the new Boston-Worcester highway is to be named the George Washington highway as suggested by the Massachusetts Society, Daughters of the Revolution, 2) the Massachusetts quota for the Valley Forge Memorial is to be held in the Massachusetts treasury until the chapel at Valley Forge is ready for the pulpit, 3) the next meeting of the state society will be held at the Old Congregational Church at Shrewsbury on April twenty-second.

The May meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., will be held on the tenth at the home of Mrs. Ernest J. McKenna, 693 Centre street, Newton. Mrs. Robert Parmenter will have as her subject "Gardens."

After the business meeting adjourned, Mr. E. S. Nakashian of Wellesley Hills gave a most interesting talk on oriental rugs, their origin and development.

In the social hour following, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Walter MacAdam and Mrs. John Merrill.

Police News

Donald Waterhouse of West Medford was fined $25 in the Newton court Monday for refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman, $10 for speeding and $15 for driving without proper lights. Serg. Mahoney testified that on the night of March 27 Waterhouse speeded through Nonantum, and when signalled doused his lights and vamoosed.

Earl Varney, 19, of Orange, in the Newton court on Monday was sentenced to serve 2 months in jail for drunken driving, fined $50 for driving after his license was suspended and $10 for drunkenness. He was arrested at Auburndale last Friday and claimed to be George Demmons of Natick. He had a driver's license issued to Demmons. The police later learned his real identity and that he had been convicted in 1929 of drunken driving, and his license had been suspended last November.

Daniel Bodosian of 346 Eliot street, Upper Falls, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with cruelty to a dog he owned. Patrolman Hammell testified that on two occasions he had seen Bodosian bring the small canine out of his house and kick the pet into the street. Apparently the dog must have done something to rile Bodosian. Because the defendant had been out of work for sometime and had recently obtained employment, Judge Bacon placed the case on file.

William J. Adams of 2312 Washington street, Lower Falls, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Tuesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested the preceding night at Lower Falls by Patrolman Tobin

Frederick Musgrave of Boston was arrested Monday on Charlesbank road, Newton, by Inspector Shaughnessy and Special Officer Mullen after a complaint had been received at police headquarters that the man was soliciting alms. Only 35c was found on his person. In court on Tuesday he was sentenced to the State Farm for vagrancy. He appealed.

Ralph Bickford of Carnston, Rhode Island was fined $10 in the Newton court yesterday for not slowing down at a street intersection; Roy Hood of Hingham was fined $5 for a like offence. Patrolman Smith was the complainant against both. Richard Valentine of Grey Cliff road, Newton Centre was fined $15 for speeding and Percival Stone of Framingham was fined $25. Patrolman Hammill testified against these two fast drivers. Robert Ahearn of Belmont was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor.

John Hagerty of New York City was arrested Tuesday night by Serg. Leehan and Patrolman O'Donnell after his car had collided with another car at the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street, West Newton. In the Newton court yestereday he was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. He also agreed to pay for the damage done to the car with which he collided.

MORE DEMANDS ON NURSING ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held at the headquarters, 297 Walnut street, Monday morning, April 11.

The monthly report was read by the director and other business was transacted. The report showed an increase of 175 visits over the same month of last year. These visits made by the nurses consisted of nursing care to the sick in their homes, maternity service and health supervision. It was also shown that there had been an increase of 782 visits over a six month period as compared with the same period last year.

The attendance at the Well Baby Conferences, of which there are four held each week, also shows an increase over last year for the first six months of the fiscal year.

Following is the clinic schedule for this year:

Bowen School—Langley Road, Newton Centre—Monday 3-5 P. M.
Stearns School—Nonantum—Tuesday 3-5 P. M.
West Newton Library—Thursday 3-5 P. M.

THE COST OF OUR SCHOOLS PER PUPIL

As the cost of the public schools in Newton has required almost one third of the total amount raised by tax levies of recent years there can be little wonder that the subject is of widespread interest. We publish below a table showing the cost per pupil in the various types of schools since 1921. The table illustrates several points of interest.

Year	High School	Voc. School	Jr. High	Grades	Kindgtn	Adm.
1921	$120.50	$249.36	....	$76.60	$72.87	$3.26
1922	119.87	242.03	....	77.86	73.69	3.23
1923	134.24	317.50	$104.71	83.86	78.20	3.25
1924	136.81	229.16	127.03	83.64	76.82	3.20
1925	132.33	332.64	134.05	86.11	81.35	3:32
1926	129.77	337.20	138.31	78.92	73.00	3.40
1927	165.10	278.46	139.06	95.77	79.15	3.69
1928	164.96	301.25	122.56	96.98	84.54	4.03
1929	162.96	314.70	127.95	97.63	90.76	3.59
1930	157.91	273.11	135.84	99.13	86.48	3.44

There are a few points that should be remembered in studying this table. First, that the table is based upon the average attendance and not upon the total enrollment. The enrollment figures are about six hundred more and consequently were costs based upon this factor the cost per pupil would be reduced materially. Secondly in 1927 the high school costs jumped and the vocational school costs were reduced considerably. This is explained through the transfer of the course in Household Arts from the vocational to the high school curricula and the loss of State Aid in this respect. Thirdly, the cost of buildings is not a part of these figures, as they come under the building department figures.

It should be noted that since 1927 the high school costs have been somewhat reduced largely because an increased enrollment has been absorbed by the facilities afforded by the opening of the new building in 1926. Another interesting point is in the greatly higher cost of the vocational school student as compared with the cost of the high school pupil. It costs more to fit a pupil for immediate entry into an occupation than it does to provide a general or college preparatory education. In the latter case considerable of the expense involved in specializing in a certain direction is not met until the pupil has gone beyond the realm of high school.

In the five types of schools the average increase per student since 1921 has been less than 20 per cent, while the increase in enrollment has been about 25 per cent and the increase in Newton's population about 50 per cent. A breakdown into the individual type of school shows that the vocational school per pupil cost has increased but 10 per cent against a varying increase of from 25 per cent to 30 per cent in the high school, junior high school, grade school, and kindergarten school per pupil costs. The administration expense per pupil has increased only about 7 per cent, or 22 cents per pupil, despite the enlarged demands upon the superintendent's office through the larger number of pupils enrolled.

It is in the per pupil cost that any abnormal expenditures will be revealed and the table above clearly indicates that the increased cost per pupil has been the result of the growth of the city.

Birds of Newton

Eleanor Mellen

People frequently inquire "When is the best time to begin bird study?" The answer is always the same, "Now." Each month offers special advantages and opportunities. In April the winter birds are still lingering, their abundance and the time of their departure being largely influenced by the weather. The earliest spring migrants come in March. Among the best-known in this March group are the red-winged and rusty blackbirds, and the bronze grackles, the bluebird, phoebe and robin, the fox sparrow and the vesper sparrow, and the tree swallow. The first three of this list make up the huge flocks of black birds seen at this time. They will soon separate, the rustys going north and the others mating and choosing homes, the redwings in the swamps and the grackles in tall pine groves.

In addition to these early spring migrants, to be expected on every list, are the winter visitors not yet departed, such as the red-breasted nuthatch, much more frequent than usual this year, the northern shrike, golden-crowned kinglets, myrtle warbler, slate-colored junco, tree sparrow, often called the winter chippy because of its rusty cap, pine siskin, pine grosbeak, and the cross-bills. These last three are much more rare and therefore more of a "find" than the others.

The cross-bills, both the white-winged cross-bills and the American cross-bills, are wandering birds, going hither and yon at their own sweet wills rather than by any regular migration. It always pays to have them in mind when in cone-bearing woods. You may be lucky. The last week in March a small band of these American cross-bills was in company with an extensive flock of fox sparrows at the Babson Park Bird Sanctuary in Wellesley. Among them was a female of the unusual Newfoundland variety of this species. This is one of the few authentic records for Massachusetts, and the bird has been collected for the exhibit at the rooms of the Boston Society of Natural History on Berkeley street.

Mingled with these two groups of winter visitors and spring migrants are the small and very dear group of abiding friends who share our winter trials, the chickadees, the white-breasted nuthatches, the downy and hairy woodpeckers, and the purple finches and goldfinches. Justice probably demands mention of the less welcome, crows, jays and starlings. Even in our recent cold dreariness a good list can be gained from these three groups while just one warm day may be expected to bring some of those now behind their spring timetable.

Among the birds due the first ten days in April are the American bittern and the osprey, which breed here, and the coot, comorant and green-winged teal, on their way north. One green-winged teal has spent several winters with the tamed ducks in Leverett Pond and Muddy River and is probably still there, willing to eat from your hand—almost. The chipping sparrows came the 30th of March, ahead of time, but while the field sparrow was heard on Saturday, no local reports have come in as yet of the savannah sparrow or the swamp sparrow. The yellow-bellied sapsucker is due for a month's stay, as is the ruby-crowned kinglet for the same time. If you hear a perfectly tremendous out-burst of music, unfamiliar to you, for which you can see no source, always suspect a ruby-crown. One of the mysteries of bird-life is how so small a throat can hold so much richness.

SACRED HEART PARISH TO ADD TO EQUIPMENT

In an effort to raise sufficient funds to equip the only remaining unfurnished class room of the Sacred Heart High School of which Rev. T. A. Curtin is pastor, a series of weekly card parties will be held in the School Hall. Mrs. Margaret Drennan will open the series with a Whist Bridge and 45 Party on Monday evening, April 18th with a splendid assortment of prizes. Each week coupons will be distributed and at the close of the series, the holders of the lucky numbers will be presented with valuable gifts.

At a later date three other entertainments of a different character will be given affording all the parishioners and their friends an opportunity of sharing in the financial aid of the school.

Much interest is being shown in the "Doll Name Contest" being held for the benefit of the Sacred Heart School. Two dolls a boy and a girl have been dressed and donated by one of the parishioners and these will be awarded to the individual guessing their correct names. His Excellency Hon. Jos. B. Ely kindly named the girl doll and the Hon. Alfred E. Smith of New York, suggested the name for the boy doll. An exhibition of the dolls will be given at an early date.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman of Wellesley recently published his annual report on homicides, in the United States. It shows that last year there were twice as many murders in this country, in proportion to the population, as there were in 1901. Why? Possibly the answer may be that 1 out of 200 murderers in this law-abiding land is executed. Abolish the death penalty in States where it now exists, increase the age limit for so-called juvenile criminals, extend more and more clemency to murderers and thugs and probably in another generation the homicide rate in the United States will have increased several fold.

A veteran member of Congress referring to the attempt being made by France to put the American dollar on the toboggan, says that he is sorry he voted to have this country enter the World War to save France now that our late ally is displaying anything but friendliness towards the United States, and shows little desire to repay the people of this country the billions they loaned to France. Well, many of the members of the A. E. F. who were in France began to realize France's lack of gratitude right after the armistice. Remember what George Washington said about entangling European alliances. George knew his stuff better than many of our modern supposedly wise statesmen.

About a year ago a stench wafted over the North part of this city late one night. It was a nauseating odor that annoyed many persons and several complaints were made to the Health Department. It was an acrid, garbage like stench which a number of times since has been quite noticeable in the Newtons. Recently it has tainted the air regularly. Last Friday, Sunday and Monday it was all too evident. At first the belief was that this stench emanated from the chemical works at Everett and on damp days worked up the Charles River when the wind was from the East. But, the frequent recurrence of this smell over Newton seems to indicate that its source is much nearer than Everett and that it is caused by some chemical or industrial plant which started operations comparatively nearby last year. The thing is a nuisance and steps should be taken by the City Government to prevent it. Heretofore, Newton has been fortunately free from objectionable odors caused by any industrial activity in a neighboring city or town.

Have you observed that the big city newspapers known to be controlled by the big financial interests are using cartoons and editorials to applaud and approve "Al" Smith's attack on Gov. Roosevelt for the latter's speech in behalf of the unfortunates at the foot of the economic ladder? In fact, this enthusiasm on the part of the publicity organs of the "big-time" financiers is so pronounced, that we believe Roosevelt will be benefitted, rather than harmed by the organized attempt to discredit him.

We fervently hope the work of resurfacing Washington street will be underway within a few weeks. Recently we had to have broken springs replaced on our car because of its frequent trips over the honeycombed surface of Washington street. Since then, two tires on our chariot have busted; the side walls weakened by the constant drops into the slathers of depressions on "our main street." We have more than a suspicion that the rear springs on the car are about to collapse. And there are plenty of other streets in the Newtons that can stand extensive repairs.

It seems singular that after years of planning, after years of knowledge on the part of Chestnut Hill residents of the route through Hammond Pond woods where the parkway of the Metropolitan District was to be constructed, now that work on this long awaited public improvement is about to commence, a petition is being pushed to have the route of the parkway radically changed. One distinguished resident of Boston, formerly a resident of Chestnut Hill, is co-operating with the petitioners for the change. This gentleman, probably influenced by the aspect of the pond in his boyhood days, refers to it as one of the most beautiful in Greater Boston. He wants it kept free from intrusion by lines of noisy automobiles. He has been misinformed that the plan to continue the parkway north of Beacon street has been changed so that it will follow the line of Centre street, instead of Hobart road.

Personally, we never have been able to see anything of unusual scenic beauty in Hammond Pond and its surroundings. We have a hunch that if it were proposed to establish a public bathing place at this pond, such as has been established at Crystal Lake, in conformity with the suggestion of the distinguished Boston resident, residents of Chestnut Hill in the vicinity of the pond would object quite strenuously. One of the reasons why the Hammond Pond parkway has been so desired by Chestnut Hill people is because such a parkway would take much of the traffic from Hammond street. Now, some of the people who wanted the parkway because it would give them a quieter Hammond street, want this Metropolitan highway shoved over to the west side of Hammond Woods so that they can have still more privacy. They either don't care, or don't realize, that if the parkway is shifted as now proposed, it would take the heavy traffic it is expected to bring into the congested part of Newton Centre; into the business area of that village. How practical it would be to attempt to route this traffic through the underpass on Glen avenue. Wouldn't it be nice to further congest traffic near Beacon street and Langley road by adding to the back wash of this traffic, cross traffic from a Metropolitan highway?

How desirable it would be to bring traffic of a State highway through a thickly settled district and along Willow street to emerge at the dangerous angle on Centre street? Such a plan might assure quiet and calm at Hammond Pond, but it would be adding hazards to the lives of the hundreds of school children who must cross the streets over which such a route would pass. Of course, the Willow street route would be quite acceptable to those interested in the filling station for which a permit was obtained at the corner of Centre street. The mountain would be brought to Mahomet.

It is the accepted practice in modern traffic control to divert heavily travelled automobile highways from thickly settled districts. Millions of dollars have been expended in this State in the past few years for this purpose. There are the by-passes at Weston, at Attleboro, the planned by-pass at Wellesley Hills as examples. Yet, it is proposed to ignore this method and intensify already bad traffic conditions and parking congestion at Newton Centre by bringing a State highway towards the centre of this village.

As to the argument against allowing automobiles along the alleged beautiful shore of Hammond Pond. Supposing this argument had prevailed in connection with other Metropolitan parkways? The many beautiful drives now afforded to millions of Massachusetts residents through the medium of automobile travel, would not have been created.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It might be a good idea to toss some of those pessimistic thoughts into the burning piles of "clean up" rubbish where they belong.

"Legs of the Law"

What was it that red card with black letters told us regarding the new patrol car system of the Newton police? As I recall, we were informed that the "legs of the law run faster". Never before had I heard of reference to the law's legs. I have heard an official called "a limb of the law." Possibly that was a bit of mid-Victorian delicacy of speech and he should have been bluntly designated "a leg of the law." Our speech today is more frank. even when talking with the minister. For that reason a leg is no longer a limb and spades are spades and not gardening implements.

But that is not the matter which concerns me. I am eager to know if the allusion to "the legs of the law" can stir your imagination. Do you know what it used to mean in Newton? Long before my time, but remembered by older old-timers, was another system of "cruising" Newton's streets. No high-powered automobiles, no radio, no police signal boxes—none of these things—but instead a fine, high-stepping horse on which rode a policeman.

Odd, isn't it, but here we are back again to something like the old patrol of more than 50 years ago. Three of four officers—the late Judge Kennedy as a young man was one of them—rode over the city's streets in the dead of night to apprehend burglars, to give an alarm of fire and to guard in other ways lives and property. That was the way the city was covered at night by a few men. Kept expenses down and served the purpose well. Proof of its success is our flourishing municipality of today.

Tonight, when you see a police auto rolling along the street, remember that over this very ground there once rode a single policeman on horseback. Lonely, indeed was his vigil. In the stillness of the night the beat of horse's hoofs could be heard. The roads were dark, save for a scattered line of posts with kerosense lamps. Hen theives to watch out for, tramps who might set fire to barns to be rounded up and stragglers to be headed for their homes or the lock-up. The Night Watch performed faithfully and well their long and weary hours of duty—sunset to dawn—and by their presence spread a feeling of security and peace through the locked and unlighted houses past which they rode.

"Legs of the law," forsooth. True it is today that they "run faster," but are their steps more firm or their stumbles fewer?

"Argufyin' and Sich"

After all there is little new in the odd behavior of legislative bodies. In fact, you scarcely think to call it that, for indifference to speakers is customary in such gatherings all over the world. It really isn't as serious as it may seem. A man may treat his colleague with mild contempt when one matter is under consideration and be sitting and voting shoulder to shoulder with him on the next.

Possibly there is something about the work of enacting laws, making appropriations and granting petitions that tends to upset one's temper. Some statesmen get all hot and bothered over what appears so trivial to another. Then the next day the situation is reversed and the man who was calm and silent yesterday is talking his head off today.

Like all who look for the first time upon large assemblies of elected officers I once thought it the height of discourtesy for members to talk while somebody was addressing the chair. But so often have I observed an orator shouting and gesticulating while scores of his colleagues had their backs turned that I have come to the conclusion that it is just ancient custom.

Drop in sometime where law-makers are in action. You will find a man arguing for the good of his district, with all the fervor and eloquence at his command and no one apparently paying any attention. Now that may be due to one or two things. The subject matter may concern only a small number. In that case only a very few votes are at stake and close application of the entire membership is not demanded.

Again, it may be that every member has made up his mind how he is going to vote. Therefore, nothing said on the other side is going to change his mind. I have heard men say, "O, I know that the members are not interested" and yet for some reason they go on and on.

Then again, some people are long-winded and can't help it. Of course, it is a strain, oftentimes, to fix one's attention of such utterances, particularly if the thoughts and arguments are not new. Another thing to remember, a measure may deliberately be "talked to death", either through design or accident. Presiding officers have to consider all these points. Keeping a legislative body in hand is a mighty task and always will be while human nature remains unchanged.

This Holiday Idea

Odd as it may seem there are people who feel we do not have a sufficient number of holidays in Massachusetts. I had thought that during the present general suspension of excessive prosperity there were enough idle hours, not to mention days and weeks, to satisfy the most ardent lovers of leisure. Apparently I was mistaken for this year's Legislature received the usual bills to declare as legal holidays, Lincoln's Birthday, Bunker Hill Day and I think one or two other notable aninversaries.

Charlestown has always demanded that more attention be given the celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. In and around Boston about everybody closes up his place of business, but if you should journey a dozen or miles from Boston you would find that the half-holiday spirit was not so prevalent. The further away from Bunker Hill you found yourself the less indication of a celebration would prevail. In some places the people would be busily at work and if you said anything about making it a holiday they would probably ask, "What for?"

What I am getting at is this—why can't cities and towns set up their own celebrations if they want to? You and I and a lot of people who find we have a holiday on June 17 never think of going to Charlestown. In fact, if driving that day many take a different route to the North Shore to avoid traffic congestion. That ought to make it clear that the Charlestown people themselves were entitled to the day if they wish it and left to their own devices.

I can see that under my plan we would be having a lot of holidays in different localities. It would sort of be better than mine—can probably be mix things up to find everybody working in one city and everybody loafing in another. Some solution—any would evolved. Let's take it up together if it rains on the next holiday.

BIDS NOT YET ASKED ON WASHINGTON STREET

The work of improving Washington street between West Newton and Newton Corner is still pending. Legislation authorizing the payment of $30,000 towards the cost of this job by Middlesex County was passed a couple of weeks ago. It is hoped that the State Department of Pubilc Works will ask for bids on this contract next week.

An agreement was signed several days ago between the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company and the State whereby the company surrendered the trackage rights it possessed along the turnpike in Framingham, Natick, Wellesley and Newton for a consideration of $363,306. The State agrees to remove the rails, ties, wires and poles and the company will cart these away. The State will invite bids on the construction of the new automobile highway over the turnpike route on April 29. Two 30-foot roadways will be built, secparated by a 10-foot grassed reservation. The electric cars now operating between Boston and Framingham will make their last trips next Sunday night and will be replaced by busses. The last trolley car to make a trip on Sunday night will have as passengers prominent residents of Newton, Wellesley, Natick and Framingham.

NEWTON CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS

Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel, who gives his services as adviser in First Aid for the Newton Chapter, gave a talk at the Angier School in Waban last week to twenty Boy Scouts who are taking a Junior First Aid course with Miss Norcross, the Chapter Instructor. Mrs. A. B. Root, Jr. of Waban, Chairman of the First Aid and Home Hygiene Committee was also present.

Dr. Kattwinkel gave the boys some valuable points about what a doctor expects from a scout, emphasizing those things which a First Aider should leave to a doctor.

After a lively questionnaire conducted by both boys and doctor the very interesting meeting adjourned.

Both branches have voted to reject the initiative petition for legislation establishing a State board of examination and registration to regulate the practice of chiropractic. The Newton Senator and Representatives voted with the majority. Representative Luitwieler, House chairman of the Committee on State Administration, had a leading part in defeating the measure. The subject is not a new one with the Legislature. This, however, is the first time it has been introduced on an initiative petition. The constitution provides that after an initiative petition bearing 20,000 signatures is submitted, heard and reported upon, the committee to which it is referred must report in writing its opinion as to whether or not it should be enacted. In this instance there was a majority report against and two minority reports in favor. Under the constitution, the petition, now that it has been refused by the entire Legislature, may be placed on the ballot at the next State election if the petitioners obtain 5000 additional signatures. There is no question but these signatures will be filed. Therefore, the voters will decide for themselves whether they wish to recognize and make legal the practice of chiropractic.

The attempt to modify the provisions of the anti-steel trap law has failed. The House and later the Senate accepted the adverse report of the Committee on Conservation on the petition that setting of traps for protection against vermin may be permitted if such traps are maintained within 5000 yards from any building or cultivated plot of land. The present distance, as specified by the anti-steel trap law is 50 yards. The action of this year's General Court allows the law to remain as decreed by the voters at the 1930 State election when the initiative petition was adopted by the voters after having been rejected by the Legislature of that year.

Legislation for the taxation of chain stores has been rejected by both branches and referred "to the next annual session." There were five bills of similar purport and each had been adversely reported by the Committee on Taxation. In both the Senate and House attempts were made to have one of the bills substituted for the adverse committee report. The Senate refused to substitute 15 to 11 and the House 65 to 65.

Measures signed this week by Gov. Ely include a bill providing for the continuance of the special commission created by the 1931 Legislature to revise the laws relating to savings and cooperative banks. Another provides for an investigation into the advisability of additional hospital accommodations for the criminal insane while a third authorizes the Mount Tom State Reservation Commission to acquire additional land.

The Legislature lost no time in providing legislation for a special commission to take over the financial affairs of the town of Mashpee. An investigation was made by legislative direction by the Secretary of State, Attorney General and Director of the Division of Accounts who reported that the muddle needs straightening out and that a special commission should be created to take over the functions of the town's financial officers for a few years.

Chairman Murphy of the Newton Assessors, City Solicitor Bartlett and City Treasurer Newhall appeared Tuesday before the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in opposition to the bill reported by the Committee on Taxation to authorize the payment of taxes twice a year, July 1 and October 1. The Newton speakers declared that there would be no advantage gained and that the city of Newton would be enbarrassed in the matter of collections.

There was much discussion in the Senate over a bill to change the name of Metropolitan Transit District to that of the Boston Metropolitan District. The change was recommended by Gov. Ely to facilitate the sale of the district's bonds and notes. In spite of the opposition the measure went through by a large majority. The Senate broke a rule and held a session Friday morning in order to expedite the enactment of the measure. After both branches had enacted it the bill was taken by a special messenger to Gov. Ely's home in Westfield where it was signed.

After a bill to license motor boats of 16 feet or over had been substituted in the House it was agreed that it should be withdrawn in favor of a newly drafted bill to give the police and harbor masters regulatory powers over motor boats. The chief end desired is to prevent motor boats from plowing through a group of bathers and performing other stunts to the danger and annoyance of persons and property. It is likely such legislation will be finally enacted.

The sessions Wednesday were shortened to give the members opportunity to witness the opening game of the baseball season.

Romances of Furniture

NO. 1

Chippendale, 1754, was the first great cabinet maker of the Georgian period. A designer and manufacturer governed by popular demand, his pieces varied widely.

His first efforts were of severe Gothic reproductions, not so widely known. The important feature of this influence was the structural solidity, learned then, that typifies all Chippendale work.

His second influence was French, in it he combined the effeminate delicacy of Louis XV period with Gothic solidity and British simplicity. These pieces resulted in his finest creations.

The third influence capitalized the craze for Chinese art, still of rectangular line but with intricate Chinese fretwork and carved motifs.

Chippendale was the first to use mahogany extensively. His chairs won him his greatest renown, strongly built, requiring no underbracing—in three series, splat-back, ribband-back and ladder-back. His chests of drawers (forefathers of bureaus and dressers) are characterized by graceful swelled fronts and sides. Carving was pre-eminent Chippendale ornament being delicate and intricate or bold and lavish; he ever used inlay, painting or applied ornament. Chippendale's book entitled, "The Gentleman and Cabinet Maker's Directory," in 1754 did much toward spreading his ideas and style.

"Bide-a-Wee"

Bide is an English word from the Anglo-Saxon "bidan." It has several meanings—one of which is to remain, abide, stay. The word "wee" is Scotch, meaning a little time or distance. The whole word "bide-a-wee" means "stay a little time" and is used to express hospitality or welcome.

Athletics

The indoor track meet for the ninth grade boys will be held on Friday, April 15. Sixty boys have signed up for the events, which will include a 25 yard dash, a two-lap race, a relay race, high jump, and broad jump.

The baseball season has started in earnest. Already the Baseball Squad has had seven practice sessions, and 94 boys have signed up for this sport. There will be twenty-six class teams in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade leagues.

Assembly

At the Wednesday morning assembly, the school was entertained by the girls of the Physical Education Department. Hilda Warshaw, who announced the program, told of the differences between the type of physical education that was formerly taught and that offered to the boys and girls of today. The program consisted of an exhibition of tap dancing, both solo and group, and a demonstration by the Tumbling Team in clown costumes.

Display Cases

One of the display cases this week contains samples of the work done by the Business Club. It includes such business forms as Orders, Cash Accounts, Change Form, a page from a Check-Book, and papers used by the Receiving Clerk. In addition there is an old-fashioned typewriter, a miniature filing cabinet, and an exhibit of artificial money which is used in the activities of the Club.

The other case contains a display which is attracting much attention. Here may be found fishing rods, reels flies, weights, knives—in fact, everything dear to the hearts of anglers. The articles in the exhibit were loaned by Barbara Fowler and Hugh Harwood.

During the seventh period on Tuesday, pupils in the French and General Language classes enjoyed an illustrated talk on France given by Mlle. Leonie Chandonnet.

A distinguished visitor at the school during the past week was Dr. Francis E. Spaulding, formerly superintendent of the Newton schools and now a member of the faculty at the Yale School of Education.

Rice School

In a stage setting of flags, with a large portrait of George Washington against a blue background, and ferns and windows boxes, the pupils of Rice School and Kindergarten entertained parents and friends in observance of the 200th anniversary of George Washington's birthday.

One of the most impressive and delightful of the offerings was a march and minuet by the kindergarteners, each costumed in the mode of olden days. A play of "Betsy Ross and—the First Flag" was given by members of the first grade and there was a cradle song with an old-fashioned wooden cradle on rockers, adding a picturesque touch. A flag drill was well carried out by one group, poems were recited by others, including one by a boy and girl in beautiful costumes, representing Martha and George Washington.

Causes of Weather Changes

It has long been known to farmers and sailors and those who live in close touch with nature that changes of weather are closely related to changes of wind, and changes of wind to changes in the distribution of atmospheric pressure.

FRANCES PURPLE
An Appreciation

On Friday, April 8, Frances Purple laid her head back upon her pillows and went to sleep. Her busy fingers still held her knitting. In spite of ill health her life was full to the end—interests, work, friends—but especially friends. It would be hard to tell just how much she meant to her friends, but she has written what they meant to her.

"It would be so easy to rest by the side of the road, but there is a tryst I must keep, so I'm on my way. Just when the sun seems to have left my sky for always, when I seem so terribly alone, and the fight seems too futile to care, God sends a Friend—to cheer my heart and take my arm—a Friend for me! The darkness fades away, my weariness has gone, and with a heart full of gladness to face that hill and walk along together—my Friend and I. Life can never hold a fear for me because when the dark hour comes, I know there will be a Friend to hold my hand and lead me. February 20, '32."

Frances Purple was the Friend, loving and true, that she prayed God to make of her. (K. C. S. C.)

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held April 7th at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville.

The President reported that on the 31st of March a group of ladies from the Union visited the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Chelsea and made a generous donation of magazines', fruit, candy and two wool afghans.

"Going Forward" was the subject of the address given by the County President, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton.

She said that, "Before Prohibition the saloon keeper often remarked that ten cents spent to treat a boy would bring large returns. There was a licensed saloon to about every five hundred inhabitants. The present situation with the bootlegging problem, as bad as it is, can hardly compete with conditions as they were before Prohibition."

License, Local option and States rights have been tried without solving the problem and education is now the great need of the hour.

The words of Francis Willard are even more effective now than when they were first spoken, "Agitate, Educate and Legislate."

THIS energetic little messenger is bringing you an invitation. It reads—Won't you visit the newly opened Edison Friendly Service Kitchen, at 39 Boylston Street, next time you're in town.....

We don't believe there's a more interesting "Model Kitchen" anywhere—and the Laundry, which has been opened in conjunction with it, is positively beguiling. The walls are apple green—the ceiling a sunshine yellow. Both rooms are equipped with the latest electrical devices that save you time and energy—and you'll see them all in action. And the Home Service Specialists who are on hand (they look too cute in their yellow uniforms!) will be delighted to answer questions and show you round.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday, April 8th, Miss Helena B. Shipman, State chairman of International Relations, addressed the Educational Club and answered many questions regarding the work of her committee.

Mrs. E. A. Dockstader, a member of the Club, gave several readings which were enthusiastically received. Her reading of Dr. Van Dyke's "The Lost Word" was particularly well done, and gave much pleasure to the Club and its guests.

Keen disappointment was felt when the president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, announced that Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner of Boston, was unable to be present to address the Club. The program substituted, however, was both instructive and entertaining, and expressions of appreciation and thanks were extended to Miss Shipman and Mrs. Dockstader.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George D. Thomas and her committee. Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield and Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald presided at the tea table.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The last Drama Reading Class of this season for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was held Friday afternoon, April 8th, in the Club Workshop. Dr. Miriam Skirball lectured to the Class on the life and plays of John Millington Sing, reading parts from several of his plays, and especially from "The Play Boy of the Western World". Dr. Skirball is very popular with the Class and an unusually large and interested group enjoyed the lecture, after which tea was served.

On Sunday evening, April 10th, the Music committee and the Club Chorus entertained their friends with an informal musical program in the Workshop.

The Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas G. Ginn, did "Bendemeer's Stream", "Country Gardens", "Betterfly-Butterfly", "Song of the Sun", and "Lally-hoe".

Mr. Emery Leonard played very artistically a Minuet, "Estrillita", "Widmung", and "Rondino", with Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Raymond A. Simonds did several piano selections with her usual perfect touch; "Mendelssohn's Prelude", and a Pantomime, and "Dance of Fire" by the Spanish composer DeFalle.

The program was ended with the "Rose of Avontown", by the Club Chorus, with Mrs. John F. Wostrel, soloist.

Miss Madeline W. Cobb, hostess, extended greetings to the guests, and invited all to remain for refreshments and a social hour.

Waban Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Woman's Club was held at the Neighborhood Club House on Monday afternoon, April 11th. Under the able direction of Mrs. Irving G. Clark, chairman of the Hospitality committee, and of Mrs. Walter P. Bloecher, chairman of the Art committee, the stage and hall were arranged as a garden scene, and a feeling of spring pervaded the afternoon despite the gloomy weather outside. At 1:30 o'clock over two hundred members were served a delicious desert by Mrs. Samuel La Rhette and her Social committee, whose untiring efforts throughout the year have contributed so much to the pleasure and success of each meeting.

This was followed by the business meeting which opened with a song, sung by Mrs., Dorothy M. Waite, expressing in some slight measure the feeling of love and affection existing throughout the Club for its retiring president, Mrs. J. Earl Parker. The words of this song were written by Mrs. Frederick G. Marsh, the recording secretary, and the music was the well-known Grace Morrison Poole Victory March, used through the kind permission of Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, its composer.

The reports of the various committee chairmen were this year most skilfully combined in one comprehensive report, written and read by Mrs. Marsh, the recording secretary. This report covered the Club work of the whole year, touching the important events in the work of the several committees and so saved the endless repetition necessitated by individual reports.

Mrs. James D. Dow, the treasurer, read her splendid report telling of the large amount given to various charities, especially to the Mayor's Relief Fund; of the expenses of running the Club, and finally of the substantial balance on deposit at the bank.

The Scholarship Fund committee reported that the Scholarship had been awarded this year to Miss Elisabeth Barber, who plans to attend the George Vesper School of Art, in Boston.

Several notices, including one of the State Federation Annual Meeting at Swampscott in May, were read by Mrs. H. Woods, the corresponding secretary.

Election of officers for the coming year followed, and the meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, the newly-elected president, who invited the members to remain for Bridge, and adjourned the business meeting. The following officers were elected to serve for the next year: President, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller; vice-presidents, Mrs. Wellington Rindge and Mrs. Solomon Townsend; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward H. Woods; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Horace W. Shepard; treasurer, Mrs. George E. May; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Russell Burnett; new director, Mrs. James D. Dow; Nominating committee for 1933-1934, Mrs. Frederick G. Marsh, Mrs. Philip B. Bourne, Mrs. Henry W. Robbins, and Mrs. Henry D. Arnold.

NEWTON PEOPLE INSPECT MILK PLANT

An experience of absorbing interest was enjoyed by a group of Newton people recently when, under the leadership of Mrs. M. E. Seaver, 112 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, they were shown through the Charlestown plant of H. P. Hood & Sons, the dairy experts. This plant is conceded to be one of the best equipped in the United States.

The whole process of handling the milk was shown them. They saw several of the company's fleet of 37 glass-lined tank cars, in which the milk is conveyed from the country receiving stations to the central plant. These cars, it was explained, are in reality huge thermos bottles, the milk being chilled to about 40 degrees before being put into them. It arrives at the plant at about the same temperature and is then pumped into similar containers where it is examined and tested for purity and quality. After meeting the rigid requirements set by the company, the milk flows into the regenerator and from there passes into the pasteurizing apparatus, where it is made absolutely safe for consumption.

In the bottling room, the visitors marvelled at the almost-human ingenuity of the filling and capping devices. They saw the clean shiny bottles pass along on an endless belt, receive their measured contents from automatically opening and closing spigots; saw each bottle capped deftly by machine and then resume its place in the procession to the racks. Every man employed about the plant is examined regularly by a physician.

One other feature stressed on the trip through this ultra-modern milk plant was the bottle-washing department, with separate units for the family milk and the Grade A. Each machine in the family milk division has a capacity of 180 bottles per minute; in the Grade A, 120 per minute. Each bottle is automatically brushed inside and out, passing through eight distinct processes and taking 22 minutes, during which it is sterilized to the n'th degree. The bottles are then cooled to the same temperature as the milk that is to go into them, 40 degrees Fahr.

The visitors were impressed with the laboratory cleanliness of the plant throughout, not only as regards apparatus and methods employed in the handling of the milk, but in the facilities afforded the employees as well. Eternal vigilance over every detail of machine and personnel, they were told, is the price of a fresh, pure and wholesome milk supply.

K. OF C.

Wm. J. Geegan to Speak

Next Friday evening the Newton Council of the K. of C. will confer the Honorary Degree upon a group of twenty-one men who have been members of the Council for more than twenty-five years and who have attained the age of sixty-five or over.

The following men will receive the honor: Robert Bourke, Thomas A. Brady, John E. Buckley, John T. Burns, Sr., James M. Cannon, James R. Condrin, Wm. A. Cormier, George M. Cranitch, John Crowley, Edward J. Healy, Frank J. Hewett, Frank Hurley, Dennis Linnehan, Patrick Linnehan, Dr. Wm. H. McOwen, Martin P. Murphy, Thomas J. Nolan, Dr. Francis M. O'Donnell, Thomas F. Reynolds, John E. Riley, James F. Sheehan.

Reddin of Denver, Colorado who is Supreme Master of the Fourth Degree. The ritual is most beautiful and dignified.

The speaker selected for the evening, Mr. Wm. J. Geegan, will deliver a talk similar to the address he recently delivered at Buffalo, N. Y., and which was commented upon so favorably by the press in that city.

Only members of the Order will be permitted to attend. Many neighboring Councils are planning to send delegations in honor of the splendid loyalty and devotion manifested by this group of honor Knights throughout the years.

A short business session will be conducted by the Council before the Degree at its meeting hall on Centre street, Newton.

"Short Recess" Lasting Over An Hour Features Meeting of Aldermen

Auburndale Residents Protest Petition For Repair Shop—Several Hearings on Road Improvements

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. Six members were absent—Harte, Howlett, Holden, Floyd, Murray and Smith. The meeting was called to order at 7:55; a "short recess" was taken from 9:05 to 10:30 and the meeting adjourned at 10:45. Thus, it can be observed that the meeting, in common with most meetings of the Aldermen had more time occupied with the Aldermen out of the aldermanic chamber than in it. The "short recesses" are taken to permit committees to hold meetings, which, according to the rules of the Board of Aldermen, are supposed to be held on nights preceding the regular meetings. Also, to allow the Aldermen to meet as a committee of the whole when anything important is to be discussed, when such matters usually could, and should be discussed in open meeting. Although the Aldermen are elected as representatives of the people, Boards of Aldermen in recent years have become obsessed with the idea ahat the public must be kept in ignorance of much of their deliberations. Hence the secret meetings as "a committee of the whole."

The first matter on the docket at the Monday meeting was a hearing on the petition of William O'Brien to increase the capacity of his gasoline station at 104 Needham street by installing another 1000 gallon tank and a pump. No one appeared to favor or oppose this petition. The second matter on the docket was the hearing on the petition of Martin Witmyer for a permit to conduct an automobile repair shop at 169 Lexington street, Auburndale. Witmyer told the Aldermen that he needs the permit to enable him to earn a livelihood, as he cannot buy a job. He said he had operated a shop at this location for years and before the zoning act went into effect. He claimed that his business was pulled from under him after he had favored the gun club activities in his neighborhood and that those objecting did so because of personal grudges. John F. Connelly of 281 Lexington street, a carrier at the Auburndale postoffice, objected to Witmyer's petition. Connelly told the Aldermen that Witmyer's place has been one of the worst eyesores in Auburndale. The yard had been filled with old, rusty automobiles and junk and hammering was going on there incessantly. According to Connelly, Witmyer had no respect for anyone else residing in the neighborhood and had proved this, not alone by the way he kept his property, but by his support of the gun club when the neighborhood sought to end this nuisance. Connelly told the Aldermen that Witmyer, although claiming to be hard up, had offered to pay $200 in fines placed on officers of the gun club when they were found guilty in court of maintaining a nuisance.

William Cullen of 251 Lexington street said that Witmyer had operated the shop illegally for several years and that the place was a detriment to the whole neighborhood. William Birrell of 285 Lexington street refuted Witmyer's contention that those opposing him are actuated by personal grudges. Mr. Birrell said he had never seen Witmyer before. He said that he had purchased his home because it is in a residential district and that to permit Witmyer to conduct such a business will ruin the values of all nearby properties.

Residents of Bernard street, Newton Highlands asked the Aldermen to improve and accept this street. W. C. Brown of 44 Bernard street said he could not operate his car over the street until 3 weeks ago because it was impassable; the milkman could not get into the street, and his cellar is filled with water. Joseph Romaszkiewski of 3 Bernard street said a brook flows through one end of the street the whole year, doctors can't drive their cars onto the street; trucks will not be driven in to supply necessities and he had to pull the car of the district nurse out of the mud on the street. Mr. Hoyt of 30 Bernard street and Mrs. Bailey of Charles River terrace also urged the improvement.

Residents of Mossfield road, Waban and adjoining streets, asked that this road be improved. Thomas I. Taylor stated that the road is dangerous for both automobile and pedestrian travel. He said that a person walking along this street had to pick his way "like a blinking tom-cat." Mr. Taylor thought this is an opportune time to improve the street as it will provide employment for city laborers. R. J. Cram of 287 Waban avenue said that Mossfield road, opposite his house is but 9 feet wide because of trees located there and automobiles must travel on the sidewalk or on private land. He stated that 27 persons have signed the petition in favor of the improvement. Austin Bourne of 45 Mossfield road, said that if the Aldermen would go and view the road, no argument will be necessary to convince them that it needs improving. Joseph Congdon, Waban real estate expert, said that the road is a disgrace to the city and persons cannot sell houses on it because of its condition.

Lucius Pond of 46 Mossfield road differed from his neighbors and opposed the petition. He said he has

Favors Newest Hammond Pond Parkway Plan

Chestnut Hill Resident Says Glen Ave. Route Cheapest

To the Editor:

A point that seems to have been forgotten in the present discussion of the position of the projected Hammond's Pond Parkway seems to be the fact that the main purpose of the proposed road is that it shall form a link in the circumferential artery around the city of Boston which will connect the Blue Hill, Stony Brook and West Roxbury Parkways through Hammond's Woods with Watertown.

This link is designed to take the traffic which centers on Watertown Square going west and south. The problem which now confronts the taxpayers of Newton is, how is the Hammond's Pond Parkway to be extended from the point where it reaches Beacon street to Watertown? This is an important problem, and one where the tax-payer's pocket book will be directly involved, for the extension of the through route, after it leaves Beacon street, must be paid for not by the State of Massachusetts, but by the City of Newton.

There are two possible routes which the new boulevard may take: 1, Hobart road and Waverley avenue; 2, Centre street. It is of interest to every taxpayer to know which cross-town connection will be the cheaper. The Hobart road-Waverley avenue route is narrow, with houses built near the street. The land takings necessary to extend the boulevard by this route would therefore be extremely costly. Furthermore, if this route is followed, there will be no way of getting round Nonantum square to Watertown other than passing directly through the congested traffic of the square itself.

The Center street route, on the other hand, is already wider, and the houses are not so close to the roadway. The land takings on this route would therefore not be so costly as on Waverley avenue, and there is already a well designed plan for encircling Nonantum square to the westward, avoiding the congested traffic conditions therein, and reaching the Watertown bridge without passing directly through the square.

Every tax-payer in the City of Newton should take a vital interest in this discussion of the cross-country artery, as he or she will be the one to pay the bill. Tax payers are crying for economy in municipal expenditures today. Therefore why should they encourage the ending of the Hammond's Pond Parkway at a point which aims directly at the most expensive route through the remainder of the town?

If Center street is to be chosen as a cross town artery, the ending of the Hammond's Pond Parkway at Hobart road is a gross mistake in city planning, as it is neither the straightest line through the woods, nor does it come within a half mile of the point from which it is to be extended. One glance at a map will show that the logical approach to Center street is through the west side of Hammond's woods and thence either through Glen avenue or Langley road.

There has been a quite evident misunderstanding as to the cost of the present proposed route of the parkway through Hammond's woods. It has been stated frequently that the present proposed route following the borders of Hammond's Pond was the cheapest of the possible routes through the woodland between Newton street and Beacon street. The contrary is the fact. The route chosen by the Metropolitan District Commission and the Legislature is not the cheapest, but the most expensive route that could have been chosen. In fact the estimates made by state engineers for the Metropolitan District Commission in 1928 show the estimated cost of the Langley road route to be $363,000; the estimated cost of the Glen avenue route to be $346,000 and the estimated cost of the present proposed route, ending at Hobart road, to be $425,000. Obviously, should the Glen avenue route be substituted for the present plan, there will be a saving to the state of at least $79,000, while at the lowered building costs which obtain at the present time the saving will undoubtedly be very much greater than that shown in the estimates of 1928. In the days when state and municipal economy is a matter of vital importance to every taxpayer, it would seem that this is a sum of money which it is worth while to save. The present discussion of the problem is a sign that the taxpayers do not propose to have their money spent on projects which are more expensive than they actually need to be.

The Glen avenue route not only follows the more logical and straighter course through the woods. It would be less expensive for the State of Massachusetts to construct at the present time, and less expensive for the City of Newton to extend to Watertown in the future.

Yours very truly,
AUGUSTUS THORNDIKE, JR., M.D.
537 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill.

The much coveted buttons, symbolic of this distinct fraternal honor, will be bestowed on Friday evening, April 22, in the lodge rooms at Elks Hall, Newton. Preparations for the evening are in charge of Past Grand Knight Wm. J. Gerity and a committee composed of Past Grand Knights.

Grand Knight Walter J. Connor has received authority to confer the Degree from the Supreme Council and will be assisted by Deputy Grand Knight James P. Akins, Chancellor Austin Morgan and Warden Edward White. The meeting will be conducted in full session and many neighboring Councils are sending representatives to witness the event.

Immediately following the Degree at which Advocate Wm. J. Geegan will be the speaker, the Council will listen to a talk to be given by Mr. Joseph Dineen of the staff of the Boston Globe. Mr. Dineen is a member of Needham Council and has traveled all over the country for his newspaper. He has a host of interesting stories and will tell of his many experiences obtaining the news.

Alderman Lauds Automobile Police Patrol Methods

Gets Quick Response To Telephone Call for Aid

Alderman Thomas Gallagher of Ward 1 extolled the motorized Newton police at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. He told how last Sunday morning at 5 he was awakened when his daughter yelled to him that a man was in her room. The alderman rushed into his daughter's room, thinking she might be dreaming. He found her awake, however, and she told him the intruder had gone down the stairs. Dr. Gallagher told the Board that he went to the telephone and called police headquarters. Before he could dress, in 3 minutes, four policemen arrived at his home, and in 4 1-4 minutes 12 policemen were at his house. The effect on him, he said, was electrical; the efficiency displayed by the police is a great tribute to the motorized method of patrolling. He stated the police caught the intruder and the culprit, a young man residing nearby, was tried in court on Monday and found guilty. Incidentally, the intruder, who also had entered another house, was charged only with drunkenness, and placed on probation.

Alderman Bail added his praise of the new police system by relating that following a recent meeting of the Board, he was going home when an alarm was sounded from a fire alarm box at Newton Centre. Simultaneously with the arrival of the fire apparatus three of the police cruising cars arrived.

POLITICAL MEETING AT NONANTUM

The Newton Citizens Club held an open meeting at Columbus Hall, Nonantum on Wednesday night. About 200 were present and listened to speeches by adherents of Smith, Roosevelt, dry Hooverites and wet Hooverites. Mayor Weeks and Representative Luitweiler, candidates for delegate to the Republican National Convention addressed the gathering which was presided over by John Finelli. The cause of Gov. Roosevelt was urged by Joseph Santosuosso and Alfred Morelli. Those who spoke in favor of former Gov. Smith included Daniel Coakley and Leo Birmingham of Brighton, John S. Derhum of Uxbridge, Paul Dever of Cambridge, Edward S. Kelly of Worcester, Daniel J. Gallagher of Dorchester, Aldermen Bernard Farrell and William Sproat, James P. Gallagher and James A. Waters.

4-H CLUB PRIZE WINNERS

Helen Calarino and Frances Pallogero of West Newton were second and third prize winners in the young girls' athletic contests at the meeting of the 4-H Club, all-Middlesex county rally, held at Concord April 15. The athletic contests were part of a general program of sports, and exhibits of the domestic science and farming projects of the club members. The athletics were under the supervision of Gertrude MacCallum of Newton and John Kimball of Waltham.

Luitwieler Charges City Committee With Steam-Roller Tactics and Unfairness

Contends Committee Exceeded Rights—Committee Upholds Action Endorsing Weeks-Bigelow Slate

At the meeting of the Republican City Committee last evening at West Newton, Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler, a candidate for district delegate to the Republican National Convention, charged the committee with steam-roller tactics, unfairness, and without right in endorsing the Weeks-Bigelow slate. Such action had been taken at a previous meeting of the committee two weeks ago. Mr. Luitwieler also protested against the mailing of post cards to Republican voters of the city on which this endorsement was noted unless the cards contained the names of all Republican candidates. He moved that the committee rescind its action of endorsement unless all the Republican candidates were endorsed. Mr. Hatfield stated that the cards had already been mailed but, no other person having seconded the motion, that he would second Mr. Luitwieler's motion in order that the committee might have the chance to vote upon the question. No voice was heard when the request for the affirmative was presented but a chorus of "noes" replied to the negative and the committee was recorded as unanimous against rescinding its previous endorsement.

The committee was called to order by Chairman Hatfield with more than thirty in attendance. Shortly after the meeting began Mr. Hatfield spoke of Mr. Luitwieler's protests of the committee's action and offered Mr. Luitwieler the opportunity to speak.

Mr. Luitwieler told of his decision to become a candidate for district delegate several months ago when he learned that some delegates from other states were going to the convention opposed to the renomination of Pres. Hoover. He stated that his advocacy of Pres. Hoover dated back as far as that of any other person in the state. He termed him the greatest man in the country since Pres. Roosevelt. Late in February he went to John Richardson, a close friend of Pres. Hoover, and told the latter of his desire to become a delegate pledged to Hoover. On March 14th Mr. Luitwieler filed his nomination papers bearing the required number of signatures with the Secretary of State. At that time no other papers had been filed. Later the same day he saw Mr. Louis K. Liggett, Republican State Committeeman, in order to get his approval, Mr. Liggett having the power of attorney of the President to select delegates pledged to his re-nomination. Mr. Liggett did not refuse Mr. Luitwieler's request but stated that he would talk with Republican leaders. The next day, March 15th, Mr. Liggett notified Mr. Luitwieler that his slate could carry the official designation of Herbert Hoover. Mr. Luitwieler claimed that the standing of his slate was as good as that of the Weeks-Bigelow slate in having the official recognition of Mr. Liggett.

He further stated that there was no reason why the City Committee should choose between the two slates when all were Republicans. He claimed the right to insist that the post cards not be sent out unless all Republican candidates were named upon it. It was not fair procedure—it was steam-roller tactics. He also claimed that these methods were among the reasons why there was no Republican leadership today and that it was time someone took a stand against such methods. He then made his motion to have the committee rescind its action of endorsement.

Mr. Hatfield stated that the committee had a right to take any vote it saw fit and that the postcards had already been mailed. Mr. George Rawson, chairman of he Ward 7 committee, stated that he was a Republican and proud of it, a member of the committee and proud of that fact, and also that he was proud of the action the committee had taken. He felt that a leader worthy of endorsement had appeared in Mayor Sinclair Weeks and that he hoped the motion to rescind the action would be defeated. He also stated that if the Republicans of the the State had taken a similar stand in 1930 that there would have been a Republican Governor and other Republican officials in office today. "It is a new day and there should be a new deal . . . I believe in Sinclair Weeks and in the job he has done."

Mr. Hatfield read a memorandum from Mayor Weeks telling of Mr. Liggett's request that he (Weeks) and Mr. Bigelow be the selected candidates from the ninth district. Later, at a conference between Mayor Weeks, Mr. Bigelow, Mr. Liggett and Speaker Saltonstall, it was agreed that the Luitwieler-Carver slate be permitted to use the designation as candidates for Hoover. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINS FROM QUINCY

With Jimmie McAdams keeping the Quincy High players off of the basepaths the Newton High baseball team chalked up an 8 to 1 victory last Friday afternoon in its second game of the season. McAdams held the visitors to six scattered hits and it was a difficult task for them to even put over the solitary run that saved a shut-out.

On the first play of the game Flagg speared a hot liner off Howard's bat to rob the latter of at least a double. Bill McArron hit a high fly to right field that Bill Terry lost in the sun and the ball fell safe for a two-base hit. McCarron took third while MacAdams was throwing out Shangold at first but Clancy fanned to leave his mate stranded. Newton went down in order in its half.

Huston threw low on Eddie McCarron's grounder and was charged with an error. The Quincy centrefielder never left the initial sack and his three successors were easily taken care of by Huston and Houghton. Newton opened the scoring in the last of the second with Houghton leading off with a solid single to right field and stealing second. Waters fanned but Hudson singled to centre to score Houghton. Hudson stole second and went to third on Flaggs out at first but Champagne's high fly was taken by shortstop McCarron to end the inning.

Flagg's error on Shearer's roller allowed the latter to reach second and when Howard singled to right the Quincy pitcher scored with the tying run. The next three batters were easy outs. Newton countered with three tallies in its half of the third. MacAdams beat out an infield single. Mullen laid down a bunt for a sacrifice but beat the throw to first and MacAdams went all the way to third on the play to score after Terry's long fly to centre. Mullen stole second and third and came home when Shangold booted Huston's roller.

Huston stole second. Houghton drew a pass and after Huston reached third Waters laid down a bunt and Huston scored.

Both teams went down in order in the fourth. In the fifth inning Quincy threatened. Swartz led off with a two-base hit to right field and moved along on Shearer's sacrifice but was left when Howard popped to Waters and McCarron fanned. Newton picked up a tally in its half on a pass to Huston, a steal of second and Houghton's single to centre.

Although Flagg booted one to put Clancy on base in the sixth Quincy failed to come through again. In the last of the frame Newton scored three times to sew the game up for certain. With one down Champagne drew a pass and went to second on MacAdams single to left. Mullen laid down a bunt and beat out the throw to first. Champagne tried to get home on the play but was cut down on the return throw. MacAdams meanwhile went to third. Mullen promptly stole second and Terry hit to the second baseman. MacAdams scored, Mullen moved to third and Terry was safe as the ball got away from Rhinhalter. Huston hit to right centre for two bases to score Mullen and Terry who had stolen second. Houghton flied out to short to end the scoring for the day.

Late in the game Coach Jones of Newton gave some of his reserves a chance to get into the game with Johnson and Patterson subbing at third base, Carvelli relieving Hudson in left field, Murphy and Giles each taking a short turn in the pitcher's box and Kevorkian and Malkasin taking over Champagne's duties on the receiving end.

Because of vacation week the Newton squad was given a week off from practice but they will be out again on Monday in earnest preparation for the future games. Newton will entertain Braintree and Dorchester High School teams on Wednesday and Friday of next week at Claflin Field as the final tune-up for the opening of the Suburban league season. Newton's opening league contest will be staged at Somerville the following Wednesday, May 3.

SPORT NOTES

Gallagher Stems Tide

Herbert Gallagher, local Northeastern sophomore, took over the pitching duties in the Huskies game with Upsala College at East Orange, New Jersey, on Monday in the middle of the third inning and stemmed an opposing threat. Gallagher held Upsala to two hits during the remainder of the game, fanned five and passed but one, although four runs were scored while he was in the box, largely through his teammates' errors. The Huskies won the game 10 to 7 by tallying five runs in the fifth frame.

Scores Tying Run

Yale defeated Columbia last Friday in an intercollegiate league game, 2 to 1. Columbia scored first in the fourth and it was not until the eighth that the Blue evened the count. Allie Fletcher was on base when the Columbia third baseman uncorked a wild throw to let Fletcher score the tying run. In the ninth another wild throw enabled the Yale's catcher to score the winning run.

Wins Second Place

Natalie Welch of Broadway, Newtonville, won second place in the 40-yard Class B dash at the women's track meet at the Boston Y last Saturday.

Wins 300-Yard Run

Dick Jarrell, former Newton High track star, won the 300-yard run in the M. I. T. handicap track meet last Saturday. Douglas Chalmers, another local youth on the M. I. T. squad, placed third on the 600. Both Jarrell and Chalmers are freshmen and are expected to do well in the coming outdoor season.

OUR LADY HIGH WINS TWO GAMES

Our Lady High School's baseball team opened the 1932 Greater Boston Catholic High School league season with two victories this week to get off to a fine start in defence of its 1931 championship. In the opening game last week Friday at Victory Field the local school won a 9 to 6 victory over St. Mary's high of Waltham. The game was called at the end of the seventh because of the cold weather which resulted in loose playing.

Jimmy Murphy, leading league twirler, pitched for Our Lady High and was touched for seven hits, one a triple. Lombardi, Gallagher and Moran led the local batters with two hits each with Joyce making the only extra base hit for the Newton team with a two-bagger.

Our Lady scored twice in the first, one each in the second and third, two more in the fourth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh to hang up its winning margin. The visitors tallied once in the third, once again in the fourth and tied the score with a four-run rally in the fifth.

In other games St. John's of Cambridge won from Cathedral High of the South End, 15 to 9, St. Mary's of Brookline defeated St. Clement's of Medford, 16 to 4, and Immaculate Conception of Revere topped St. Charles of Waltham, 2 to 1.

Games on the holiday saw Our Lady downing Cathedral, 8 to 5 at the latter's field; Immaculate Conception winning from St. John's 6 to 3; St. Clement's topping Mission High of Roxbury 8 to 5 and St. Charles defeating its Waltham rival, St. Mary's, 5 to 2.

Jimmy Moran was on the mound for Our Lady against Cathedral and he fanned 13. Nine passes and seven hits figured in most of the losers runs. Cathedral High played loosely in the field to give Our Lady several opportunities to cash in. Eight hits with O'Connell getting two aided in Our Lady's victory.

SPORT NOTES

Country Day Wins

Country Day School swamped St. George's of Newport, R. I., last Saturday on the latter's diamond, 18 to 5. The Newton school players pounded out 15 hits. Jenkins hit two home runs, and Waldinger and White one each while Brickley of Country Day got a triple. Eight St. George's errors aided the local private school. White pitched for Country Day and was touched for nine hits. With the game well in hand White coasted along and the home team finally scored four times in the last inning to save a worse beating.

Third in Discus Throw

Third place in the discus throw of the annual spring handicap meet at Harvard last Saturday went to Harold Ham of Newtonville.

Noble Wins Squash Title

Arthur D. Noble of Newton Centre won the Dartmouth undergraduate squash championship on Tuesday defeating John Clark of Connecticut.

Wilson Hits Homer

In B. U.'s 8 to 7 victory over Clark University on Tuesday in the Terriers opening home game at Nickerson Field, Arthur Wilson of Auburndale connected for a home run.

On Eligibility Committee

Charles Monohan of Newton and Arthur Chamberlain of Auburndale have been named members of the Boston University Student Athletic Council eligibility committee. Monohan, a Law School student, is president of the Council.

Decathlon Favorite

Fred Klauer of Newton is one of two outstanding contenders for the decathlon championship to be held at the Penn Relay Carnival next Friday and Saturday. Klauer is a Colgate athlete who formerly competed for Belmont High School but later moved to Newton. He placed second to Bernard Berlinger, three time winner, last year. George Munger of Penn is the other leading contender. Klauer and Munger staged a great battle for second place last year with Klauer winning by less than 1½ points.

Newton League Bowling

The Newton league wound up its Boston pin season Wednesday night with the four leading teams each taking four points from their respective opponents with no change in the standing other than to dissolve the fourth place tie between Hunnewell and University and allowing the former to take fourth place. Maugus set a new season record of 1738 for a team total in winning from Waban to take the 1932 championship. The highlights of the match were Kavanagh's 155 and Willis' 148. The Newton Club took four from University with Silk hitting 137—125—110—372 as the feature and Hunnewell took four from Weston with Greene's 135 the high single of the match. In the other match Middlesex retained second place by taking four from Commercial. The final standing:

	Won	Lost
Maugus	42	14
Middlesex	38	18
Newton	36	20
Hunnewell	30	26
University	26	30
Weston	21	35
Commercial	19	37

lived on the road for 21 years, has the largest frontage on it, would have to pay the largest assessment for the improvement and had expended more money and effort in keeping the road in condition than anyone else. He asserted that the condition of the street had been misrepresented. He contended that if the other residents on the street would stop knocking it and help him in fixing it, the street would be in much better condition and satisfactory for the present. He said that this is no time to place added burdens on tax payers and he is not able to meet the assessment which the grading and accepting of the road would entail. Alderman Chandler asked Mr. Pond if he thinks the road is in good condition. Pond replied that the street is not in good condition, but there are lots of other streets in Waban in similar condition. William Lamb of Mossfield road agreed with Mr. Pond that this is no time to spend people's money improving streets. Alderman Bail said he has received letters from four persons who favor postponing the improvement until next year, when they hope times will be better.

Joseph Congdon, Waban realtor favored the improving and accepting of Varick road, Dwinda road and Waban avenue because such improvements will enable a large area to be developed for attractive home sites.

The Licenses Committee split on the matter of recommending the renewal of the license to the Norumbega Park Company, including the dance hall. Aldermen Hawkins, Sproat, Farrell and Hill voted in favor; Aldermen Holden and Temperley voted against; Alderman Smith was absent when this vote was taken. Alderman Hawkins said that the committee had received complaints from persons residing near the park about the noise made by automobiles leaving after the dance hall closed after midnight. He said the park management had promised to try and induce the patrons of the dance hall to park their cars either at the parking space or on the reservation on Commonwealth avenue. President Collins asked Chief of Police Hughes if the city or the park management will pay for the police who will be on duty near the park. The Chief answered that the city will pay for the police outside the park and the park for the special policemen on duty inside. So, the granting of this license means that the taxpayers of Newton must pay for policemen to perform traffic duty in the vicinity of the park each night, or else policemen will be withdrawn from patrol duty in other sections to be on duty near the park after the dances are over. Alderman Temperley stated that Holden and he had voted against the dance hall permit because of protests received from Auburndale residents. Alderman Gallagher admitted he is not a dancer, but he has been told the dance hall at the park is conducted on a high scale. Chief Hughes said no complaints have been made against the dance hall. Alderman Gordon admitted he is a dancer and stated that people residing near the dance hall don't object to it.

CITY COMMITTEE MEETING

ing for position on the ballot the Luitwieler-Carver slate was drawn first and is designated as group 1. The Weeks-Bigelow slate will appear as Group 2.

Mr. Hatfield then seconded Mr. Luitwieler's motion and the vote was taken as described.

Aldermen Charles Floyd and Sylvanus Smith, members of the committee from Ward 4 expressed their approval of the judgment of the committee. Mr. Floyd inquired of Mr. Luitwieler as to his grounds for stating that the committee had no right to take the action it had. Mr. Luitwieler replied that in all his years as a member of the committee he had never known the committee to choose between candidates of the same party designation. Mr. Floyd said that the committee was not obliged to follow a precedent. Mr. Smith, after Mr. Hatfield had offered to assume responsibility for the action of the committee, stated that the people look to the committee for advice and that if Mr. Luitwieler questioned the judgment of the committee he had the opportunity to see that other committeemen be chosen.

Before the meeting adjourned other matters regarding the establishment of Republican headquarters in Newtonville, for the national election in the fall, the matter of registration of new voters and of requesting the Registrars to set dates for such registration were discussed.

Start the day right — Real Cream for your coffee. In the majority of houses in the land, "top of the bottle" of the morning's milk is used for breakfast coffee, and it has always left something lacking because the "top of the bottle" has heretofore always contained so much milk. To bring out the rich deliciousness of well-made coffee rich Cream is necessary. And now it is yours at no greater cost than what you have been paying for your milk. Cream Top Bottles do the separating of the Cream from the Milk for you. The process is so simple and so easy. Real Cream at no extra cost.

REPUBLICAN UNITY

VOTERS of the Ninth Congressional District of Massachusetts, of which Newton is a substantial part, will go to the polls next Tuesday to settle a contest between two groups of district candidates to the Republican National Convention. In previous primaries a light vote has usually been cast, but the local contest this year and the activity of the candidates involved indicates an increased interest among the voters.

ON the ballot which will be given to the voters next Tuesday will appear "Group 1" and "Group 2" in addition to the delegates at large. Group 1 is comprised of Clarence S. Luitwieler of Newton Highlands and Thomas N. Carver of Cambridge. Group 2 is Sinclair Weeks of Newton and Albert F. Bigelow of Brookline. The former is our Mayor and the latter is a Representative and House Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Mr. Luitwieler is a Representative from the fifth district and his running mate is a professor at Harvard.

THE Weeks-Bigelow slate was announced by Louis K. Liggett, National Republican Committeeman from Massachusetts. Candidates on this slate are pledged to the renomination of President Hoover. The Luitwieler-Carver team has also announced their intention of endorsing Pres. Hoover. It is a practical certainty that the Republican nominee for President at the national election in the fall will be President Hoover.

ELECTION of the delegates to the convention, therefore does not mean a choice as to whom the voter desires as the party nominee for president. If the Republican party is to retain control of the administrative branch of the government and to regain control of Congress there is a need for unity in the Republican ranks. We believe that the Weeks-Bigelow slate can do more to bring about this unity and consequently urge the voters of Newton to cast their votes for the GROUP 2 candidates.

Daylight Saving Time begins Sunday at 2 A.M. Don't forget to set your watch and clocks ahead an hour Saturday night.

Under The Gilded Dome

This has been a short week as far as the handling of legislation was concerned. Last week Thursday it was agreed to hold only informal sessions last Friday and Monday. With the holiday Tuesday, practically no business was done until last Wednesday. The agreement was made that no debatable matters should be taken up in order that rights of absent members might be protected. In consequence the Senators and Representatives had a five-day vacation. All this has further put off prorogation and it now seems probable that the final adjournment cannot come until well into May and possibly not until the last week of next month.

Both branches have rejected the bill of the Public Franchise League for an investigation by the Attorney General of the capitalization and sale of securities of public utility holding companies. Other measures rejected by both branches include the recommendations of the State Tax Commissioner relating to the definition of "net income" in connection with the taxation of banks, trust companies and certain other corporations and the petition of the Massachusetts Tax Collectors and Treasurers' Association for legislation to facilitate the sale of property taken for non-payment of taxes.

The passing this week of Representative Howard S. Shepard of Shrewsbury makes a total of six deaths among the House membership since the 1931-1932 General Court entered upon its duties in January one year ago. In addition there have been three resignations among House members, making a total of nine gone out of the 240 members.

The adverse report of the Committee on Taxation on the bill that distributors of motor vehicle fuel be reimbursed for services and expenses involved in respect to the tax on gasoline has been accepted by both the Senate and House.

Legislation has been passed and signed by the Governor extending until Dec. 31, 1935, the law under which justices of District Courts may sit in the Superior Court in the disposition of criminal cases. This plan was adopted some years ago in order to relieve the congestion in the dockets of the Superior Court and has met with success. It would have expired the end of this year had not an act been passed to further extend the system for three years.

The Governor has signed the bill to include "physically handicapped" children in the provisions of the existing statutes which authorize cities and towns to furnish educational facilities to children forced to remain at home because of their crippled condition. The phrase "physically handicapped" was added to liberalize the application of this law.

Under the provisions of a measure which has been enacted and approved by the Governor, the use without charge of State armories is permitted for drill purposes to band and drum corps of organizations of war veterans.

Senator Hollis sought to have substituted for an adverse committee report a bill to provide for the payment of annuities to dependents of policemen or firemen fatally injured in the performance of their duties whether or not death occurs within a year. The Senator argued that such a measure was only justice and said that failure to have such a provision in the law had caused suffering in certain cases. The Senate, however, voted, 12 to 6, against substitution.

The House rejected two proposed amendments to the minimum wage law. One of them was debated at length, Representative Luitwieler arguing for the measure. This would have authorized the Minimum Wage Commission to revise wage decrees without the convening of a wage board.

A favorable report has been made by the Senate Ways and Means Committee on the bill to increase the powers of the State Auditor and to gations of State activities.

Without debate the Senate killed the House Bill to require tanneries and leather factories to post in their establishments the wage schedules paid by such concerns.

In place of the House bill granting one day's rest in seven to watchmen, the Senate has adopted a resolve for an investigation of the subject by the State Department of Labor and Industries.

Legislation has been advanced to extend for aonther year the special commission created in 1931 to study the laws relating to town planning, zoning and the regulation of billboards.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The open season on ballots begins next Tuesday, with the bag limit one group of delegates to each voter.

Something Seldom Seen

The question is, "What has become of the Prince Albert coat?" No, I do not refer to any particular garment so you need not ask, "What Prince Albert coat?" Neither is it true that this column has suddenly taken over the functions of the "Lost and Found" Department.

This is purely a quest for knowledge and an honest effort to learn of the changes in the styles of men's clothing. If you should care to make a search, I question if you would encounter a "Prince Albert" (the word "coat" was dropped long ago as superfluous) without much difficulty. You would have to do a lot of plodding and hear repeated many times, "We don't carry them because we never have any call for them."

How often do you see them worn? On the stage or in the "talkies" maybe, but seldon if ever on the back of a citizen. Of course, I am thinking more of cities and suburbs. Possibly in the country they may still have the call, but that is doubtful and if they should be found the owner would probably turn out to be an old gentleman and his coat only a few years younger.

The cutaway, which has crowded out the Prince Albert, is smart and natty, but the other has always possessed a grandeur which the cutaway can never expect to attain. Look at the paintings, engravings, lithographs, etc., of our illustrious men of the past and how many will you see wearing a Prince Albert? All pictures of President McKinley would lead you to believe he never wore anything else—at least not before the camera.

Back in the days when men wore silk hats to church every Sunday you would see many a Prince Albert. It was part of the wardrobe of the average citizen. Not always to be worn with a silk hat to be sure but at formal occasions where plenty of dignity was demanded. Some men wore a white lawn necktie, thus encroaching upon the rights of the ministers. One of the best purposes served by the Prince Albert was to afford opportunity to thrust the right hand out of sight between the first and second buttonholes. That was the gesture of an orator and gave warning of something ponderous to come.

But finally this picturesque garment became more and more uncommon, unless you include undertakers in action. They were the last to abandon Prince Alberts and when they did and adopted cutaways the tailors threw up both hands. If you should want to glimpse a Prince Albert just permit him to make complete investi- for the sake of old times or some highly sentimental reason—you needn't tell me or anybody else why—you may find them worn by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Legislature and his assistants. That's the formal dress prescribed long, long ago for these officials and conscientiously maintained to this day. Silk hats, too, with a cockade, not to mention the mace to be carried in the right hand as emblem of authority.

That Jewel, "Consistency"

The subject of law-breaking is never old. Today the temptation to discuss it in public has become almost irresistible. In fact, you will find that few exercise the necessary restraint that fairness demands. Speakers and writers use it as a text for some vigorous utterances. With the "big shots' at it the less important individuals canot be expected to remain silent.

That fact caused me to listen with no surprise to a friend in a nearby city upon whom I called the other day at his place of business. He was vehement, almost reckless in some of his statements. He denounced gangsters, criticized the authorities and bordered on the unpatriotic in his claims and charges against American institutions.

My call having ended, I proceeded to the sidewalk, escorted by my loquacious friend. He was still freeing his mind as we stood on the curb. I observed that an automobile, a new one, was parked against the curbing.

"Fine car," I observed with sincerity and at the same time hoping to switch the conversation.

"Like it?" said he. "That's one I bought a few weeks ago. I think it's pretty wonderful myself."

As I glanced up I saw a "No Parking on This Side" sign. The car had been placed in its very shadow.

"How do you get away with that?" I asked, pointing to the official warning against law-breaking.

"Oh, that's easy," replied the upholder of law order, "I stand in with the cops."

You've Been There, Too

One of life's little irritations is the period of waiting that follows the assurance of your companion, "Wait here, I'll be right back." There may be all sorts of occasions in as wide a variety of places where this experience may be encountered. Shopping tours usually produce more of such incidents. It isn't that the women are any more to blame than are the men. Both have erred.

I wandered the other day with a friend who had induced me to accompany him to a store where he was to make a purchase. The weather was such that I preferred to remain outdoors so I agreed to hang around and look at the window displays while he did his errand. If you have ever let yourself in for that kind of a friendly act you will know, without my telling, exactly what happened. He couldn't readily find what he wanted and consequently he was twice as long at the counter as he expected to be. Then—and I learned this only after a rigid cross-examination—he unexpectedly encountered a young woman of his acquaintance and they had a nice long chat. Meanwhile I was cooling my heels, although my collar was hotter. Finally, he came out and explained everything to his satisfaction, if not to mine.

If you and I were talking at this very moment you would have a similar tale to tell me, I am sure. It happens every day and I haven't any suggestion except to refer the problem to The What Are You Going To Do About It Department.

17th Century Wisdom

How well they understood in Colonial times. The founders of Massachusetts were wise. With foresight they moulded for the present and the future. You think today perhaps that "Be Kind to Animals' Week," which ends tomorrow, is something new. Intelligent people, whether they are fond of pets and delight in their companionship or not, agree that justice should be administered to the dumb beasts. A just man will deal justly with his fellow beings and with the creatures of the animal kingdom.

The humane societies do well to ask for reflective consideration of the problem that is found in every community — fair treatment of animals. But those long-headed men who gave this State its first laws knew and understood. Examples are frequently found in a study of the Colonial laws of the sagacity of the founders of Massachusetts Bay.

They did not forget the animals. With a directness that permitted no waste of words they wrote in the sachusetts Bay," promulgated by the General Court in 1641, thus:

"It is ordered by this court that no man shall exercise tyranny or cruelty toward any brute creatures which are kept for use of man." There is the whole story told hundreds of years ago, with a simplicity that permits no argument.

Birds of Newton

Birds Along the Charles

Newton is fortunate, birdwise, that one of its boundaries is the winding Charles, not only because of the land birds to be found in the woods and thickets along the river banks, but on account of the various water birds attracted to it. The American Merganser and the Black Duck may be expected on this stream, and the latter undoubtedly breeds near its shore. With good luck, the beautiful Wood Duck may be found on it, and as these birds are now increasing to some degree in Massachusetts, we may cherish the hope that it will breed here.

The Belted Kingfisher is certain to choose feeding grounds along the Charles and the small lakes near it. This brilliant bird prefers no trespassers on its domains, each pair insisting on their own fishing rights and driving away all poachers. For at least fifteen years one pair, perhaps not the same pair, have ranged the waters near Hemlock Gorge and Echo Bridge. The Kingfisher's nest is a tunnel made in a bluff or sandbank, the entrance hole about four inches in diameter, and the tunnel running from four to fifteen feet inward, often with a bend near the inner end. Imagine excavating all that with only a bird's beak and claws for tools!

The Woodcock, American Bittern, and Black-crowned Night-heron undoubtedly breed near the Charles, but it is likely that they will choose the western side as less populous. It is probable that the Little Green Heron breeds in the woods near. All one autumn a Little Green Heron and an American Bittern kept one another company at the small ponds in the Newton Cemetery.

Within the possibilities on the Charles are visits from the Great Blue Heron, Grebes, Gulls, Loons, the White Heron, and Egrets, the latter in August. Altogether this river and the region immediately adjacent to it present more fascinating opportunities for the birdlover, with or without a canoe. Forest Grove Road, off Islington road, will be a delightful bird walk in early morning all through May. From Riverside to Lower Falls along the river bank used to be a rich bird country before the new golf course worked such desolation among the trees, but some of the birds will return this spring. The more lonely upper stretches of the river near Kendrick's Bridge have been favorite resorts for Bittern for many years.

The birds whose arrival may be expected this week include the Virginia and Sora Rails, both of which might be found along the Charles, as they breed in fresh water marshes as well as near the sea, the Broad-winged Hawk, long since driven from Newton, the Pigeon Hawk, which may be seen in migration, leaving about the first of May. The White-throated Sparrow and the Yellow Palm Warbler, the one with the nervously twitching tail, are now due, to stay about a month.

CLOSE SEASON WITH "TORCH-BEARERS"

The Auburndale Club Players will present for their third and last play of this season "The Torch-Bearers" by George Kelly, on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 22nd and 23rd, at the Auburndale Club House.

The play is under the direction of Ernest Law Johnson and the cast includes Miss Geraldine Fisher, Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Herman Kreuger, Mrs. Henry Fortescue, Miss Dorothy DeWitt, Mrs. John Holmes, Robert Hayes, Alan Dunlop, Ernest Braithwaite, Kimball Ufford, Wendell Burbank and Joel Nichols. Mrs. Thomas Brown is chairman of the Auburndale Club Players.

Other plays that the Auburndale group have staged are "The Guardsman" by Molnar, "Sun-Up" by Vollmer, "The Show-Off" by George Kelly, "Pygmalion" and "Candida" by Shaw, "The Circle" by Maugham, and "On Approval" by Lonsdale.

THOSE WHO HAVE LOST

The years 1929, 1930, and 1931 have produced a fellowship of those who have lost through investments.

Together we can review our mutual misfortunes, exchange sympathies, and make vows and resolutions as to our future course of action. But will we always choose the right course or will there be a repetition?

At this particular time many people have found in the Annuity the solution to their financial problems. It has provided the real and unfailing protection they seek—they have become life recipients of a guaranteed income, and have made financial security certain.

My concise pamphlet "ANNUITIES DESCRIBED" tells the story in a few words. A copy will be sent on request.

Newton Federation

The last of the Executive Board meetings for the present Club year of the Newton Federation will be held on Monday, April 25th, at 2:45 p. m., in the Library of the Technical High School. In addition to the usual business, the proposed changes in the By-Laws, which were discussed at the March meeting, will be voted upon, and a large attendance of representatives from different Clubs in the Federation is desired.

By invitation of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Federation will be held May 2nd at their Clubhouse. Notices of this meeting, with luncheon tickets, have been mailed to those actively engaged in the Federation work, anticipating that they will plan to be present. Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, 53 South Gate park, West Newton, Tel. W. N. 0335-W, who is chairman for the luncheon, will be glad to hear as early as possible from those having received tickets as to whether or not they wish reservations made for them. These tickets are only fifty cents, the same as those for the Fall Meeting when Mrs. Lippincott's committee was so successful. Any club members may procure tickets from Mrs. Lippincott on or before April 29th.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newtonville Woman's Club, will be held on Tuesday, April 26th, at 1:00 p. m., in the Central Congregational Church.

The meeting this year will be of slightly different character. The reports which the chairmen of the various committees will hand in to be placed on file will be condensed into one report to be read at this meeting.

The business meeting will be followed by a delightful program, which is also a new procedure. Mrs. Susan Bartlett, dressed in a gorgeous Chinese costume of the period portrayed, will give a reading, "The Twilight Hour of Yang Kuei Fei." Of Mrs. Bartlett, who has lived in China for several years as an instructor in the University of Peking, it is said that she reads this play with a charm and grace that is most appealing.

The Glee Club, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Curtis, will also be a part of this annual meeting program.

The arrangements for the luncheon are under the supervision of Mrs. A. William Krause and the Social committee. Any member wishing to entertain guests at the luncheon may obtain tickets upon application to Mrs. Krause, Newton North 1297.

Maria Conde, Soprano, whose lovely voice has been enjoyed before in Newton Centre, and by Mr. James Houghton, Baritone. Mr. Houghton has sung in many European cities, where he was most favorably received, and he is also very popular in New York and Boston. He is now Professor of Music at Boston University. Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, composer-pianist and chairman of the Club Music committee, and Mrs. H. A. Nissen, accompanist, will be at the piano.

Through the American Home committee, arrangements have been made to visit Newton houses of architectural and artistic interest. Owners of Early and Late Colonial, English, and Italian homes, will graciously open them on April 29th, from 10 a. m., to 12:30 p. m., in order that groups may study these varying types. A strip-ticket will be available, with a ticket to be given up at each designated house, the last one to be used at the Clubhouse for luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. For further details, those wishing to go should call Mrs. P. E. Whelden, Cen. New. 0835-R before April 27th. Transportation is something of a problem as the houses are widely scattered, and the offer of any automobiles would be very acceptable.

On Friday, also the 29th, at 2 p. m., the Club will hold its monthly business meeting, followed by a most interesting talk by Mrs. Katherine Osborne on "The Romance of Fabrics". Mrs. Osborne has spent a great deal of time in the Orient, and is a recognized authority on fabrics and oriental art. She will show rare and beautiful fabrics from India, Burma, and Java, and at the same time speak on the customs and manners of these countries. Tea will be served.

The Annual Meeting of the Club will be held on Friday, May 6th. This occasion will be one of festivity and of unusual interest, as, in order to make the routine business more interesting the reading of reports will be interspersed with entertaining features on the stage. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m., in the main auditorium, to be followed by the meeting at 2 p. m.

"Ireland and the Irish Theatre" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Miriam Franc Skirball, to be given at the home of Mrs. Montague P. Ford, 112 Institution avenue, on Saturday evening, April 23rd, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Literature committee.

The Irish Renaissance, one of the most interesting literary movements of our day, produced a group of remarkable dramatists, whose works are essentially national in subject matter, dealing with the political struggles of Ireland in recent years. These plays were presented at the little Abbey Theatre in Dublin, by that company of talented actors who are at present playing in Boston.

For several years Mrs. Skirball studied at the University of Pennsylvania with Dr. Cornelius Weygandt, America's foremost critic and historian of the drama of Ireland. Mrs. Skirball spent some time in Ireland studying at first hand its people and their literature. Her lecture is especially timely.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

Miss Katherine Swenarton is in charge of the Junior Tea-Dance to be held on Thursday, April 28th, from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. She will be assisted by Alice Parkin, Ellen Weston, and Carolyn Raye. Hostesses for the occasion are Mrs. John R. Capron, Mrs. George Squier, Mrs. William H. Raye and Mrs. Fred Bond. Refreshments will be in charge of Miss Marjory Gould, and tickets may be obtained from Miss Martha Wight. Music will be furnished by "The Commanders" Orchestra.

A great deal of interest centers around the Junior Pop Concert to be given at the Boston Y. W. C. A. Building on Saturday evening, May 7th. This is a joint concert in which many Junior Clubs throughout the State are participating, and the Newton Centre group is rehearsing at present the numbers it will present. The proceeds from this concert will be used to send a Junior delegate to the General Federation convention at Seattle in June. A Massachusetts girl will be chosen to represent this State and each Junior Club will have a candidate to present.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, April 28th, the Newton Community Club will hold its last meeting of the year, with reports and election of officers. Members of the Club and guests will have the pleasure of hearing the Haydn Harp Duo, which is comprised of Cynthia Haydn, Soprano and harpist; Gladys Crockford, solo harpist and accompanist; and Florence King, Reader. A delightful afternoon is promised.

In the interest of the Newton Girl Scouts a group of hooked rugs and chair seats will be on display. The proceeds will go for Camperships. Any who are interested in buying these articles can talk with Mrs. M. W. Tyler before or after the meeting.

State Federation

RADIO. Junior Clubwomen will take the microphone at WBZ, Saturday morning, April 23rd, at 11:30 o'clock, for the weekly broadcast of the State Federation. Miss Wilhelmina Johnson, of the Junior Philergians of Braintree, and Miss Monda Fapiano, of the Junior Women's Italian Club of Boston, will be heard in piano solos. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett of Cliftondale, Junior adviser, and Mrs. I. William Crowell, of Winthrop, Junior chairman, will discuss activities among the Juniors. Mrs. Stewart A. Colpitts, director, will give news of the clubs in the Fourth District, covering the Brookline, Roxbury, and Dorchester area.

On the 30th, Grace Morrison Poole, first vice-president of the General Federation will speak on "Carry Your Cargo and Make Your Port".

Editor's Note: Clubwomen who realize that the time is fast approaching when opportunity to hear the logical and wise words that their energetic leader has given them in the past few years, will no longer be theirs—since June at Seattle without doubt will bring to her national responsibilities and honors that will make her gifts to Massachusetts necessarily more infrequent—will listen in to their former president with eagerness, and with, too, regret that high honors bring unpleasant partings. We have journeyed many pleasant years together in Club life, always finding Mrs. Poole's judgment safe, sane, and inspiring; we have appreciated her qualities and leadership; loved her for her friendliness and courtesy to all; and taken her continued service for granted. And now it is borne in upon us that these pleasant days and ways are changing; that we are losing that delightful intimacy which has seemed to be ours forever, because the greater opportunities to which she has built, have inevitably come. We must share her with a nation! We are glad to do it; proud to do it; and we sincerely wish her every joy and success. But there is the lump in the throat for the vanishing of the old, quietly contented days when she was ours alone so intimately!

On the same program of Saturday, the 30th, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, chairman of the State Division of Mothercraft, is scheduled to present her topic under the title "These Are My Jewels". Always has there been a thrill over the delightful words of the famous mother who so rebuked worldly boastings, and Mrs. Kimball has chosen cleverly an appealing topic under which to present her work in Mothercraft. But, too, however unintentional it may have been, this topic holds significance for Clubwomen that is even more worthy of consideration for this program. Massachusetts bids the United States behold the jewel she presents—Grace Morrison Poole for president of the General Federation.

DELEGATES' MEETING. A meeting of delegates who will attend the Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, June 9th to 18th, in Seattle, has been called by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, "Poole Special" chairman, for Saturday, April 23rd, at 10 a. m., at the Boston Y. W. C. A.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

A large and enthusiastic audience greatly enjoyed the last Community Musical Hour of the season on Sunday, April 10th, given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Miss Patricia Gray, Soprano, sang charmingly, in a group of descriptive songs with Italian, Irish, and Dutch impersonations. Her clever and artistic interpretations delighted the audience. The Chorus also gave a great deal of pleasure with its well-chosen selections. Among these particularly popular numbers were "The Creole Love Song", by E. B. Smith, and "Good-bye Sweet Day", by Kate Vannah.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole delivered her farewell address, called "Around the World", at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Thursday. Mrs. John F. Capron, president, presented her with a gift of gold and a bouquet of flowers from the Club, saying that the beauty and fragrance of the flowers represented the love and good wishes that would follow and support her as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The Newton Centre Choral Club sang two selections written especially for Mrs. Poole, a "Greeting Song" and "Our Leader".

Educational Club was held on Tuesday evening, April 12th, and the occasion was a gala one.

Dinner was served at the Oriole Restaurant in Wellesley, in a private room, and the table was most attractive with its flowers and special menus.

The meeting was in order after dinner, with the president, Miss Barbara Lester, presiding. The honor guest, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, president of the Senior Club, extended felicitations, as did also, the Junior directors, Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg and Mrs. John S. Franklin. The Club presented the directors with flowers in appreciation of their efforts for the success of the Club year.

Reports of the year's activities were given by Miss Bernice MacDowell, recording secretary; Miss Harriet Hadd, corresponding secretary; and Miss Eleanor Rhodes, treasurer. The president delighted everyone with a resumé in the form of a poem, in which nothing was overlooked.

The election of the Club's new officers then took place and the Juniors will have the following leaders next year: President, Kate Black; factotum, Eleanor Rhodes; recording secretary, Harriet Hadd; corresponding secretary, Elizabeth Benks; treasurer, Virginia MacAleer; press correspondent, Betty Harris; auditor, Betty Mills; keeper of Scrap Book, Doris Ratzburg; and program committee: Phoebe Giles and Virginia Collins.

The meeting was adjourned by the new president with pleasant wishes for the vacation season.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Harry P. Forte, president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, gave a reception and tea to the officers, executive board and committees at the Workshop on Friday afternoon, April 15th, from 3:30 to 5 o'clock.

A short musical program was given by Miss Irene Forte, Violinist; Mrs. John F. Worstel, Soprano soloist, and Mrs. Raymond A. Simonds, accompanist. Mrs. James S. Gove gave a reading from the "Idylls of the King", by Tennyson.

Mrs. Forte, with her usual charming manner and hospitality, made it a delightful afternoon for all guests.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club held its President's Day program on Thursday, April 14th, with Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the president, presiding. The three honorary guests were Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, first vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. Selden E. James, director of the Twelfth District; and Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation. Thirty-five Clubs were represented either by their presidents or her delegates. The auditorium was filled to capacity with four hundred present.

A delightful musical program was given by Jesees Maria Sanroma.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by Mrs. David Black, Mrs. Clarence Colby, Mrs. Rollin Jones, and Mrs. J. W. Crowley, who were assisted by the Social committee.

SALON AT BACHRACH'S

A Salon of Children's and Family Group Portraits will be held at the Bachrach Studio in Newton between three and five o'clock on the afternoons of Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week.

The Salon is the culmination of months of planning and of photographing prominent families in this city.

While the parents entered will probably comprise the main part of the attendance, this Salon will interest even the casual observer, for it gives an extremely comprehensive view of America's family life from babes of a few months and youths and maids in their teens to large family groups.

The Salon will be divided into three classes: One group consisting of babies up to and including six years, another of children from seven to thirteen years of age, and the third of family groups from mother and child studies to groups of five and six.

Prizes will be awarded for each class—a first prize of a beautiful framed Portrait in Color and a second prize of a lovely framed photograph.

Although invitations have been sent only to the parents of those whose portraits are to be hung in the Salon, the public is welcome to view this unusual and interesting collection.

Those who will judge the Salon are: Mr. Wilbur Fiske Noyes of Newton, nationally known portrait painter; Miss Helen Blair of West Newton, a sculptress of note, and Mrs. Albert W. Walker, art chairman, Newton Community Club.

Girl Scouts

"Strap your pack to your back, with a sandwich for a snack,
And we'll take to the woods with a song."

Sung to the familiar tune of the Caisson Song, these words may be heard along any woodland trail during these first days of spring.

"Through the brush, through the brake, when the day is first awake, then the Girl Scouts go hiking along."

The day-hike season is here for Girl Scouts.

A successful hike needs planning in advance, according to the Program Division at national Girl Scout headquarters, and, parents of the girls who are going should know the complete plans for the trip.

"The secret of a successful outing is to see how little one can take along and still be comfortable. An old camper is known by the simplicity and fitness of her equipment. She has learned how to fashion on the spot many substitutes for 'boughten' things that are considered so necessary in the home. Inexperienced hikers will probably burden themselves with a great deal of unnecessary equipment or an overabundance of food, unless it is suggested to them that they travel as light as possible. If the hands are free and the load light, the trip will be so much more enjoyable."

Other good advice in the Girl Scout program for day hikers is the suggestion that old comfortable clothing be worn. Wool hose, free from holes or darns are best. Comfortable, well broken-in shoes with broad toes and low heels are suggested in preference to the high topped heavy walking boot, which is usually stiff, hot and heavy.

A coat, sweater or rain togs should be worn or carried and a bandana or neckerchief is handy to have along. This may be worn as a hat or neckerchief. When the sun is hot and glaring it may be pulled up over the nose to protect the face. Tied to a stick it may be used as a signal flag, or it may be converted into a bag in which to carry food or treasures.

"So take your pack and strap it
For the Girl Scouts are hiking along."

This song will be hummed by many groups of Newton Girl Scouts as they spend the day or a weekend in the open at Camp Mary Day this spring. Already the hiking season has begun and a number of troops have enjoyed days in the open. "Weekends" are already being signed up for the camp. Troop 21, with Miss Sally Stickney, as their leader will be the first troop to spend a night at Camp Mary Day this season.

The "Pine Cone" Cabin put up by the Newton Highlands Committee especially for weekends, with its open fire place will be a warm, snug camp even if the night is cold.

SIXTH ANNUAL C. C. C. PLAY

The Sixth Annual C. C. C. plays was presented at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Friday evening, April 15th, 8 P. M. A comedy in 3 acts entitled "Katy Did."

Miss Alma Warner, president of the Club played the leading title role of Katy Winton with extreme cleverness and captivated her audience. Leighton, Harris and Philip Andress shared honors in a double lead.

The character parts were splendidly portrayed by Kenelm Winston, Ruth Andress, Phyllis Stafford and Howard Hasburgh, and furnished many a laugh for a most enthusiastic audience. Dorothy Schipper, Marjorie Brown, Fredice Littlefield and Elizabeth Campbell also did a finished piece of acting.

The play was coached by Miss Estelle G. Marsh of Newtonville, Stage Manager, Mrs. P. E. Woodward.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

With a complete cast of stars, "Shanghai Express" will be a treat for the movie fan at the Paramount next week, starting Sunday. The cast includes Marlene Dietrich, Clive Brook, Warner Oland, Anna May Wong and Eugene Pallette. On the same program Spencer Tracy and Sally Eilers will be seen in "Disorderly Conduct," a good clean story of a daughter of wealth always gettting away with breaking traffic rules until she finally comes within the toils of the law. For the last half of the week, Joe Brown will give 90 minutes of laughs in "Fireman Save My Child." Evelyn Knapp who plays opposite is a coming star of the younger set. The cofeature for the last half of the week will be Miriam Hopkins and Jack Oakie in "Dancers in the Dark." Cab Calloway and his orchestra will be heard in a Paramount short subject.

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A car driven by Dr. Frank L. Newton, 75, of 123 Highland avenue, Somerville and a truck operated by Abdo Shanshig, 21, of 101 Hudson street, Boston, collided last Friday afternoon at Homer and Walnut streets, Newton Centre. Both vehicles overturned. Dr. Newton received a possible fracture of the skull and cuts on the head. His nephew, Adrian Newton, 42, of Roslindale, who was riding with him, received a broken rib and internal injuries. Both were taken to the Newton Hospital. Shanshig escaped with minor injuries. He told the police that in order to avoid a collision with another car, he collided with Dr. Newton's automobile.

MAKE "RUSSIAN TOUR"

Members and friends of the Central Church Woman's Association who went on the "Russian Tour" on Wednesday, April 13, have been unanimous in their appreciation of the efforts of those who planned it. The tour was arranged by Mrs. H. S. Kimball, secretary of the Boston Friendship Tours. Miss Margaret McGill, president of the Boston Branch, American Association of University Women, acted as chairman.

The first part of the program was at Norfolk House Center in Roxbury. Here Mrs. Sherwood Eddy spoke very interestingly on several personalities in Russia and on some of her own observations there. Although the food of the Russians is very poor, the best of everything is reserved for the children and they are sturdy and robust. Many of the intelligentsia have now thrown in their lot with the Soviets as they recognize that the new order has come to stay. Liberty of speech, of conscience, and of the press have been taken away, and there is no freedom.

Professor Henry W. L. Dana, in speaking of the Russian Drama, on which he is an authority, said that the acid test of Russian culture was the ability to understand the culture of other lands. It is not fair to say that only Bolshevik plays are allowed, as they have kept the best of their old dramas, and in addition have become quite international in their presentation of plays. Greek plays are given and at least sixteen of Shakespeare's plays have been produced. The Russians are making an effort to liquidate illiteracy, and to make culture possible for more people. They feel they can not afford not to open libraries, art museums and theatres to people who love these things and demand them. The movies are not displacing theatres but are supplementary in districts where players can not go.

The second part of the program was given in the chapel of the Russian church on Dearborn street. Professor George A. Znamensky, who is studying at Harvard for his doctor's degree, gave a very illuminating comparison of educational methods in Russia and America. He especially emphasized the fact that there was no place for harmonious development of individual freedom in Russian education. In regard to the five year plan, he held that the aim is right, but the means are wrong, while in their education the means are right but the aim is wrong.

Serge Demidoff, a Russian refugee, now studying at Northeastern University, gave some of his adventures in reaching America. The long trek across Siberia, sojourn in Harbin, training in the Chinese army, escape from there and journey to San Francisco were all vividly described in fairly accurate English, acquired since landing in America three years ago.

The inspection of the church and explanation of the ritual by Rev. J. E. Grigorief constituted the last part of the program. It was all very colorful, but rather bewildering to the average person seeing it for the first time. The son of the Priest, Vladimir Grigorief, who seems very thoroughly Americanized, gave some very entertaining selections on the balalaika, the Russian national instrument.

NEWTON FIREMEN BUSY

The Newton firemen are having their annual spring rush with brush and grass fires. Many of these fires result from persons starting outside fires without permits and some of the offenders are apt to be brought into court. Even when one has a permit to start a fire in the open, such a permit is not supposed to be exercised on a windy day.

A barn at the rear of 160 Charlesbank road, Newton, owned by H. A. Harwood of Newtonville, and occupied by W. E. Wallace as a garage, caught fire from burning grass at 11:15 Wednesday morning. At 10:04 Wednesday night Box 7 was pulled for a fire in a sedan at the Beacon Garage, Newton Centre. The car was owned by Ralph Stetson of Waltham.

MIDDLESEX COURT M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold a Whist and Bridge party on Tuesday evening, April 26, at Elks' Hall, Centre street, Newton. The proceeds will be used to relieve members who have been unemployed. Miss Margaret Vahey is chairlady of the committee in charge, which is comprised of members of the Degree Staff of the Court.

Rotary Club

An interesting story of "the land down under" was told the members of the Newton Rotary Club at the weekly meeting on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club when Rodney Spiers, assistant executive of Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts of America, told of life in Australia. Australia is but a few hundred square miles less in area than the United States and Mexico combined. The population, largely white, increased through three different waves of development. English prisoners were sent there in large numbers as the first large influx of people. The second came with the gold rushes and the third through the land boom which burst in the early part of the present century and left many stranded there to eke out a living. The present population of nearly eight million is but slightly more than that of New York City and as they are spread out over a large area it still seems sparsely settled in many places.

Life on a sheep station, the shearing of sheep, the wool sales, and the trading in rams were some of the highlights of Australian life the speaker touched upon. Rabbits and kangaroos provide means of livelihood for many.

The towns are largely similar to those of America as much of the development of Australia is being done by Americans. The Australian policy in regard to immigration of the yellow and black races is somewhat of a handicap to the development of the country as the white man cannot stand the heat as well as the other races.

One of the interesting phases of community life is the service of neighbors. The speaker told of an occasion where a householder was laid up with a broken leg and his neighbors organized to harvest his crops and keep his farm running by working together Sundays.

In the churches in the outlying districts where people have to travel miles to attend all faiths join in the one service, each taking turns on successive Sundays but with persons of all faiths present at all.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution.

ENTERTAIN PATIENTS

On Friday evening, April 15, some of the star performers of the Nonantum Athletic Association's musical revue, which was presented two weeks ago, performed for the inmates of the Middlesex County Hospital, in Waltham.

Among those who did their bit for the amusement of the patients and nurses were, Frank Cerretti, who sang a few numbers and told humorous jokes; Carmen Collella with the accordion; John McGuiness and Sal Ceachella, a well-known song and joke team; Janette La Croix, a little miss who shows great promise as a dancer, Joe and Gil Champagne, dancers and singers; Joe Masse and George De Grasse and the two Champagne boys, a quartet who gave an excellent acrobatic exhibition. The orchestra consisted of Frank Kirby, violinist; Arthur Frechette pianist; Joe Capone, drummer, and George De Grasse with the banjo. Romeo Roy acted as master of ceremonies.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Walter Winchell is reported to have nervous prostration. With all due charity we have little sympathy for Walter. He has been raking in the shekels by broadcasting gossip at the expense of other persons' nerves. And he has certainly got on the nerves of thousands of radio listeners who tune-off when Walter starts to do his stuff. "O. K.," Walter.

With political wets supporting political drys, with personal wets shouting for the dry cause, and with political and personal drys supporting political wets, it seems to us that the political situation is "all wet."

Inasmuch as new plans keep cropping up regarding the Hammond Pond parkway, each plan aiming to route it further and further West, we feel impelled to offer a plan. Keep the parkway out of Hammond Woods altogether. Let the traffic follow the new Worcester turnpike to Route 128; thence southerly along this route to the new circumferential highway at Needham and along this highway to Wellesley and beyond. Of course, this will defeat the original intent of the parkway from West Roxbury, but so will the other changes proposed from the original plan. And our suggestion, besides giving the automobile public a longer ride for their money, would keep added traffic from intensifying already bad conditions at Newton Centre. And it would save the taxpayers of Newton from being compelled to pay heavy damages for the seizure of a number of parcels of property which would have to be taken in part or in whole if the Glen avenue and Willow street route were accepted. We'll admit our plan is absurd, but so are the other changes proposed.

School Committee Votes Not To Increase The Salaries of Teachers As Per Schedule

Some Members of Committee Favored Increases Followed By Flat Reduction Of All

The Newton School Committee held a special meeting on Tuesday night at which Mayor Weeks was present. The matter of granting increases in salaries to teachers in the Newton schools was discussed. It has been the practice in this city for a number of years to gradually increase the salaries of teachers each year until the maximum was reached. For the past two years, because of economic conditions, some of the Aldermen have objected to the granting of these increases. This year Mayor Weeks has been opposed to the increases and there has been considerable discussion over the question. Chairman George H. Tracy of the Committee has taken the stand that since the policemen and firemen of Newton were granted automatic increases this year, the school teachers should not be discriminated against. Especially since the financial condition of the city does not necessitate this economy.

Some weeks ago the School Committee voted 4 to 3 to ask for an appropriation of $7000 in this year's budget to allow the increases to be granted if the Committee decided to do so at a later date. The members voting in favor at that time were Butts, Church, Cornell and Mather. At the meeting on Tuesday night the members who had so voted changed their attitude, Chairman Tracy said that the financial condition of the city does not warrant taking this step, and to do so will violate a moral obligation with many teachers who have a right to expect that the city will keep faith with them. Some of the teachers referred to by Mr. Tracy gave up positions with higher salaries in other places to come to Newton on the supposition that the annual increases they would receive in this city would eventually bring their salaries to a higher level.

At the start of the meeting Mr. Tracy read a ruling from City Solicitor Bartlett which stated that the schedule of teachers' salaries adopted several years ago by the then School Committee, and observed since, is not mandatory, and can be suspended or changed at any time. At that time Mr. Bartlett also ruled that the automatic increases given members of the Newton Police and Fire Departments was mandatory. Subsequently the Supreme Court of Massachusetts in a case involving salaries of Boston police and firemen, ruled otherwise.

Supt. of Schools Wheeler submitted a list which showed that 142 teachers had been certified as eligible for $100 increases in salaries this year. Under the existing schedule 42 more teachers would have been eligible, but as these had nearly reached the maximum, Mr. Wheeler had omitted their names because of the prevailing economic conditions. He called attention to the fact that the city is being saved $20,000 in the coming year's school budget because of the services of 10 teachers will be dispensed with and additional teachers will not be appointed. This savings would offset the additional sum required to allow the increases. Mayor Weeks answered this argument by stating that $100,000 could be saved if more pupils be averaged to each teacher. He said that if the "teacher load" be restored to 32 pupils instead of 28, as at present, this savings can be affected.

Mr. Mather said: "I still feel as I did earlier that if it is necessary to save from $15,000 to $17,000 in teachers' salaries, the only fair way to do it is to make a percentage decrease, after granting the proposed increases. This would be fairer than to put the burden on one-third of the teachers and those who would find it heavier to bear.

"I talked today with a number of the teachers and principals. I find that the teachers themselves prefer the action Mrs. Cornell has indicated rather than a percentage decrease. If that is their desire, we should accede. We must take whatever action is the least blow to the morale of the teachers. They believe that a percentage decrease would be abandoning the schedule, while they would accept gracefully the ruling as Mrs. Cornell has moved. They would not accept happily any other method.

"Personally I am not yet convinced that the city should abandon its schedule to save $14,200. At the same time there is a widespread feeling throughout the city that there should be no increases. I will vote for the motion as proposed."

Committeeman Fernald of Ward 3 expressed the opinion that it is better to withhold increases than to make a flat reduction on all teachers salaries. He commented, "It is taking away a hope instead of a fact." Mayor Weeks then said:

"The sum of $14,200 is a drop in the bucket, only ten cents in the tax rate, but it is not the only $14,000 that we are saving. My objective

Would Have School Sessions Columbus Day

Committeeman Church to Seek Change in Rules

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee last Monday night, Elliott B. Church, member from Ward 1, started something. Mr. Church has for sometime been opposed to the schools in this city closing on certain holidays. When the school calendar for the coming school year came before the committee Monday night, Mr. Church advocated keeping the schools open on Columbus Day and Armistice Day. He asked Mr. Lund, newly elected Superintendent of Schools, who was present, what the practice is at Norwalk, Connecticut, where Mr. Lund now is in charge. Mr. Lund replied that the schools in that city have been kept open on these two holidays. He added that April 19th and June 17th, two other Massachusetts holidays are not observed in Connecticut. These are two other holidays which Mr. Church has wanted the Newton schools kept open on. Mr. Lund also commented that he believes that school children can better observe patriotic holidays in school than out of school.

Mr. Church replied that he was delighted to hear this sentiment from Mr. Lund, as it coincided with what he has contended. He made a motion that the Newton Public Schools be kept open on next Columbus Day. Mr. Mather, member of the committee from Ward 6, called attention to the fact that the rules of the Newton School Department state that the schools shall close on all legal holidays, so Chairman Tracy ruled Mr. Church's motion out of order. Mr. Church then announced that at the next regular meeting of the School Committee he will move to have the rules amended so that the schools will not close on Columbus Day. Mr. Tracy commented that if such a motion were passed, a larger portion of Newton's citizens will be offended. Mr. Church replied that he is willing to take the responsibility for such a result. Mr. Tracy inquired why Mr. Church singled out Columbus Day? The Ward 1 member replied that he desires to start with one holiday, that there is more sentiment attached to Armistice Day, that April 19 comes in a vacation period next year and June 17 will fall on a Saturday.

"T. N. T." Draws Large Audiences; Is Huge Success

Comedy for Benefit of Unemployed Well Managed

"T. N. T.!" Anything might happen when that is set in motion! So thought the audience that assembled in the Newton High School Auditorium, on Wednesday evening, April 27, to witness the premiere performance of the play with that explosive title. This production also given on the two successive evenings was under the efficient supervision of Miss Estelle G. Massa and a Special Committee who presented this play for the benefit of the Unemployed in Newton.

"T. N. T.," as the name suggests kept the audience in a constant state of expectancy, interspersed with sudden and startling revelations. This clever and up-to-the-minute Comedy in three acts is from the pen of Douglas Sloane, well-known in Newton for the number of plays that have appeared here under his name. Mr. Sloane, who wrote the play especially for this occasion also coached the production.

The scene takes place in the Jones' living room and portrays the trials and tribulations of a small town family, who besides all the ills that befall mortals, are also harassed with the problem of training a dumb and far-from beautiful Swedish maid. The young daughter of the house presents a problem to her parents. They hope to see her safely married to the scion of the small town's mightiest family. But, young love, which never runs smoothly, in this case meets many obstacles, none the least being met with the young son himself, who apparently cares more for chasing butterflies, and with Tilly, the maid, who insists upon giving her medicine, which she calls "T. N. T." to everyone, for all ills. The obstacles are, however, finally surmounted when the final curtain falls on the young lovers.

The cast included, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane as Miss Tichum. Mrs. Lane played an admirable character part and carried her portrayal of a cajoling and over-solicitous spinster to a fine degree of art. The audience again welcomed John A. Hiller who always gives just the right touch to his character parts. Mr. Hiller appeared as John Jones, the husband and father of the "House of Jones." Mr. Hiller, alert to every situation, always commands center stage when at the height of a scene. His acting when returning from the butterfly hunt and also when taking Tilly's T. N. T. was exceptionally well done. Tilly, of the indescribable hat, dress, and shoes was Mrs Sidney L. Sholley in an entirely new and different role. Mrs. Sholley with her acquired Swedish accent and loping walk was like a character come to life from a comic section. This part was a true test of Mrs. Sholley's versatility, and as in all other interpretations her talent carried her to still another dramatic triumph. The young daughter. Mary Jones, was perfected by Miss Dorothy DeWitt. Miss DeWitt created the part and at all times was in perfect accord with her character. It was a juvenile role for which she seemed especially suited, and she played it with a grace and charm of manner that was most appealing. There always has to be some sort of villain in every play, and T. N. T. was not slighted in this respect for Cushman Clapp as Vincent Tyler made the nearest approach to a villain that could be found in the cast of T. N. T. Mr. Clapp's poise and likable manner made him a very acceptable partner for Mary where she decided to leave home and family and elope with him. Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, always a favorite, was unusually good in the part of the mother, Elizabeth Jones. Mrs. Skelton has a way of knowing her character and being able to portray it with satisfaction. Her shading and interpretation of character shows much study, and her audience is always in sympathy with whatever part she is playing. Mrs. Harold C. Bond as "The" Mrs. Van Carter, was all that her high-sounding name implied. Mrs. Bond is always delightful and makes the most of her lines at all times as she is perfectly at home on the stage. Sam Tuthill entered into his part as Percival Van Carter with such enthusiasm that he won the au-

Weeks-Bigelow Slate Carries Ninth District Nearly Two to One; Pile Up Lead in Newton

Record Vote For Primary Election In Newton As 32% Cast Ballots—Smith Sweeps City on Democratic Ticket

The unusual interest in the Presidential Primary was manifested on Tuesday by the fact that a much larger number than usually votes at such an election went to the polls; 32% of the registered voters cast ballots. These included 6969 Republicans and 1839 Democrats. The vote was brought out by the contests between Mayor Weeks and Representative Luitweiler on the Republican side and the Roosevelt-Smith contest on the Democrat side.

The issue between Weeks and Luitweiler was based largely on the Prohibition question and when it became evident that Mr. Luitweiler and his supporters were making a determined campaign, Mayor Weeks and his friends left no stone unturned to prevent his defeat as delegate. Much literature, including many pledge cards were sent out in Weeks' interest, house to house visits were made by his workers and many automobiles were out on Tuesday in his aid. The Luitweiler forces held many house meetings and appeals were made by the "dry" advocates in his behalf.

While no concerted efforts were made by the Smith adherents in the city the quiet work performed by his admirers was evidenced in the majority he received in the Newtons. A tabulated report of the vote in the Newtons and the Weeks-Luitweiler vote in the 9th District follows.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TO HAVE INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET IN 1933

In the spring of 1933 the annual outdoor interscholastic track meet staged by the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association will be held at the Newton High School outdoor track. Such was the vote of the association at its regular spring meeting this week at the Framingham Normal School. This year, as in the past several years the state championships will be held in conjunction with the Harvard interscholastic meet early in May. Until this year it has been impossible to hold the meet independently because of lack of a suitable place where the athletes could be accommodated.

At the meeting of the association the suggestion was made by Dr. Oscar Martin, Newton faculty manager and chairman of the association track meet committee. It is somewhat the general opinion that the Harvard meet is held too early for the coaches of the schoolboy teams to prepare them for championship races. The suggestion was made that the meet, when held at Newton, be put off until June.

The annual State championship public school relay carnival is always held at Fitchburg on the first Saturday in June and in order to avoid a conflict the meet to be held at Newton will be held on some other Saturday in the month. The vote on the motion to such effect was passed unanimously.

The association voted not to reconsider its vote of last December regarding the eligibility of athletes despite the fact that some effort was made to clarify the ruling. The present ruling requires an athlete to be passing in fourteen prepared periods. With some schools having longer periods than other schools there was felt that there might be some injustice. The question of what constituted a sophomore was another troublesome point. The object of the rule is to prevent athletes from returning to school for another try at athletics. The change in the former so-called "three year rule" will not go into effect until Dec. 15th.

In brief the new rule means that any student who has reached his junior year may not compete in any athletics after his regular senior year. A freshman or a sophomore may change to a five-year course (or a four-year course in a high school having the junior high system) and still be eligible for athletics.

GILES PITCHES NEWTON TO 9-3 WIN OVER BRAINTREE

Phil Giles pitched Newton High to a 9 to 3 victory over the Braintree High School baseball team on Wednesday at Claflin Field. Giles limited the visiting batters to six scattered hits and was only in difficulty when his teammates started tossing the ball around. Once in a hole the team pulled itself together to help Giles out. While Giles was turning back the visitors his teammates pounded the offerings of Kelland for fifteen bingles which with an error now and then permitted nine tallies to cross the plate.

Bob Hudson, Newton left fielder, led the attack with three hits in three times at bat. Huston and Waters each hit a two-bagger.

Giles started out by setting the first three Braintree batters down in a row on infield grounders to second, the pitcher and to short. Newton also went down one, two, three in its half.

Henley flied to right to open the second and Milton and Reilo were thrown out at first. Newton opened the scoring in its half. With one down Waters hit to left field for two bases and reached third when Milton let the ball get away from him. Hudson singled to centre to score Waters. Sarni's error on Flagg's rap put Hudson on third. Flagg stole second but both Kevorkian and Giles fanned.

In the first of the third Braintree again went down in order on three infield rollers. The head of the Newton batting order did likewise.

Braintree tied the score in the fourth without a hit. With one down Sward flied to left centre. Mullen, running with the sun in his eyes, caught the ball but dropped it. A passed ball put Sward on second and after Gaskin fanned he scored on Henley's fly to left which Hudson dropped. Milton singled to left to put Henley on third but Flagg tossed out Reilo. In Newton's half three runs crossed the plate. Houghton beat out an infield rap. Waters singled to left. Hudson dumped a Texas leaguer in left to fill the bases. Flagg hit to second and Houghton beat the throw to the plate and the sacks were still populated. Kevorkian singled to centre to score two more and Flagg was run down between second and third. Giles fanned. Mullen walked. Terry flied to centre for the third out.

Braintree tallied twice in the fifth. Sarni led off with a single and reached second on Waters' error. Norgons singled to score Sarni and went to second on the throw-in. Later Norgons scored when Kevorkian left the plate uncovered to back up third. Newton added another in its half of the inning. Huston led off with a double to left and reached third when Milton booted the ball. While Houghton was being thrown out at first Huston tallied. Waters flied to left and Hudson singled, only to be thrown out stealing.

Giles set Braintree back in order. With two down in the last of the inning Newton filled the sacks but failed to score. Giles got an by an error at first, Mullen walked and Terry beat out an infield rap. Huston hit to third and Henley stepped on the bag to force Mullen.

Reilo singled to open the seventh, took second on a wild pitch and was out at third on Sarni's rap to Giles. Sarni reached second on the play but was run down between second and third on Norgon's rap. Huston threw out Kelland at first. Newton chalked up four more tallies in its half. Houghton singled and moved along on Waters' sacrifice. Hudson was hit by a pitched ball and both moved along on a passed ball. Flagg's Texas leaguer scored them both. Flagg stole, second while Kevorkian was striking out. Giles beat out an infield rap. Flagg scored and Giles went to second on a balk. Mullen's single put Giles across. Mullen later reached third but was cut down at the plate by Caskin who picked up the ball which Kelland dropped on Terry's pop fly.

Huston was charged with an error on Reynolds' rap. Cronin, batting for Sward, sacrificed. Gaskin drew a free ticket. Henley dropped one in front of the plate and Reynolds was cut down between third and home. Garland fanned to end the inning. In Newton's half Huston beat out an infield hit but was forced at second by Rhodes who replaced Houghton at first base. Killion, batting for Waters, and Carvelli, batting for Hudson, both fanned.

With one down Braintree got a man on in the ninth on Killion's error but Patterson, playing third in place of Flagg, made a pretty catch of a foul fly near the Braintree bench. Kelland hit to the pitcher and was thrown out at first. Coach Jones of Newton sent Paul Andres and Murphy to the box in the ninth with the game tucked away. Andres pitched to the first three batters and Murphy to the other.

This afternoon Newton meets Dorchester High at Claflin Field and next week Wednesday goes to Somerville to open the Suburban league season. Next week Friday afternoon Rindge Tech plays at Newton in the first League game at home.

OUR LADY HIGH WINS BUT IS HALF-GAME DOWN

The Our Lady High School baseball team won its only game of the week last week Friday in the Greater Boston Catholic High School league race but is a half-game from first place. This unusual occurrence is due to the fact that Immaculate Conception High of Revere got in its fourth game yesterday and by a victory moved a half-game ahead of the local school. Our Lady High had no league game scheduled the first of this week but will resume this afternoon. Immaculate Conception also plays this afternoon and should both win the standing will remain the same. Our Lady can regain first place only only through the defeat of the Revere nine by St. Clement's of Medford.

The Our Lady victory was gained at the expense of St. Clement's high by a 12 to 1 score on the latter's playground last Friday. Jimmy Murphy held St. Clement's to two hits and no runs until the last of the ninth when Powers slammed out a home run to save a shutout. Louis Tabaldi, Our Lady shortstop, turned in a great day's work.

Our Lady clinched the game in the first frame with a four-run rally. This was followed with three more in the fifth, two in the seventh, one in the eighth and the final two in the ninth.

Games this afternoon will have St. John's of Cambridge at Newton in the game with Our Lady, Cathedral at St. Charles of Waltham, Immaculate Conception at St. Clement's and St. Mary's of Brookline at Roxbury against Mission High.

Greene Comes Through

The annual roll-off of the Newton Bowling League was held Wednesday night at the University Club with the Hunnewell Club pair of E. W. Greene and Ed. Loring winning with a total of 1084. University Club finished second with 1083 with Weston, Newton, Commercial, Maugus, Middlesex, and Waban following in that order. The feature of the roll-off was the battle between the Hunnewell Club pair and the University Club bowlers, Hawkridge and Stanley. Both Greene and Loring got off to a slow start but in the latter stages of the match crept upon the leaders. The high light of the match came on the last ball of the string. Greene had taken seven pins on the first two balls of his final box when the climax came. The remaining three pins were bunched and Hunnewell was two pins behind the University pair which had finished bowling. Greene's last ball was perfect to take the three pins and the match. The summary of the strings rolled by members of the three local clubs in the league follows:

Norman Appleyard, third baseman on last year's Newton high nine, played third for Worcester.

Nearly two hundred letters and numerals awards were made at Harvard the last of last week with several local youths among those receiving recognition for the activity in winter sports. Francis Gleason received a minor H as a member of the second varsity hockey team and Donald Gleason earned his numerals with the freshman sextet.

Scott Wins High Jump

New Hampshire defeated Northeastern University on the track last Saturday, 69 to 66. Curtis Scott of Newtonville won first place for the Huskies in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet.

Gallagher Wins Another

Herb Gallagher, local youth and star athlete at Northeastern University, pitched the Huskies varsity baseball team to another victory on Tuesday defeating Colby, 11 to 6. Gallagher fanned ten visiting batsmen and allowed but five hits. The Newton youth also starred at bat with a double and a triple.

Place in Tech Meet

In the final handicap track meet at Tech last Saturday in preparation for the dual meet with Bowdoin tomorrow local youths took several places. Bob Kinraide tied for second with three others in the 100-yard dash which was won by Dick Bell who gave 5 and 6 yards to his competitors. Douglas Chalmers, one of the stars of last year's great Newton high team, and now a Tech freshman, took second in the half-mile and third in the mile while Dick Jarrell a teammate of Chalmers at Newton won fourth in the 440.

Silver Lake Loses

The Silver Lake A. C. lost to the Roche Club of Everett by the score of 6 to 3 in a baseball game at Cabot Park diamond last Sunday. DiAngelo and Lupo pitched for the local nine with Bill Annese, former Newton high catcher, on the receiving end.

Second in High Jump

Norman Grist of Newton Centre won second place in the high jump at the annual Boston University field day on Tuesday at Nickerson Field.

Gleason on First

U. the latter part of last week Gleason got two hits, one of which went for the circuit. Against Syracuse on Saturday Gleason got one hit. This single was a timely one, coming in the middle of a rally, to aid in Harvard's three run splurge in the first inning that clinched the game.

Wins Two Firsts

Bob McGuire of Chestnut Hill, a freshman at Norwich University, captured two first places for the Cadets varsity track team in its dual meet with Trinity College last Saturday which the latter won. McGuire won both the discus throw and the 16-lb. shotput. McGuire's heave in the discus was 122 ft. 1-2 inch to break the Trinity College record for the event.

Rotary Club

Father Louis J. Gallagher, new president of the Boston College, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. He was introduced by George J. Martin, who told of Fr. Gallagher's interest in the Russian situation, which was to be the subject of the address. Father Gallagher spent six years in Russia with the American Relief organization and since his return has kept in touch with the situation there through close study. His knowledge of conditions was evidenced by the close attention of his audience which found the address of great interest.

Having been greatly interested in education the speaker mentioned his intention of dealing with the Russian situation on that subject in particular. He told of the effect of the closing of the schools at the time of the war with the result that millions of children were allowed to shift for themselves. The feeding and care of these homeless children was one of the chief concerns of the relief organizations.

In 1923 and 1924 the government began to re-open the schools but with the avowed purpose of educating the children in Communism. Religion had been removed. The Russian attitude maintained that everything was material and nothing was spiritual. "There is enough trouble in this world why bother about the next." All teachers were required to take an atheistic oath. Every lesson that was taught contained some Communistic philosophy. Cultural subjects were discarded, at least for the present.

The next generation, or at least the generation to follow, will be the generation that will be a menace to the world. Unless something happens to make a change in the system that generation will have no idea of religion and will result in the greatest danger that Christianity has ever faced.

Fr. Gallagher referred to previous occasions when Christianity has been threatened and that it had come through. Russia must first be uneducated in order to be retaught the right way of life.

Our first thought should be to provide our own educational system with whatever may be lacking. There can be no economics, no industry, without morality. Can we teach morality without some regard to religion? Might it help if we turn to God? That is a serious question.

Among the several guests who were present at the meeting were Superintendent of Schools Ulyses G. Wheeler and Mr. John Lund, Superintendent-elect who will succeed Mr. Wheeler when the latter retires in September.

Charles Ansley, chairman, gave the report of the nominating committee for the directors for the coming year as follows: Walter McCammon, Harry Hanson, Fred Teele, Will Rice, James Melcher, and Malcolm Whipple.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution entertained a large number of guests, the mothers and other members of the families of the Nathan Fuller Chapter girls, at their April meeting, which was held on Wednesday afternoon, the 13th, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook graciously opened her home on Beechcroft road, Newton, for the event, when Mr. Warren Bishop, District Attorney for Middlesex County, whom Mrs. Estabrook, as chairman of the Program committee for the past year had secured for the occasion, was presented by the regent as speaker of the afternoon.

Mr. Bishop, in his introduction, made clear his pleasure in appearing before the organization, and before a Newton audience, this city having supported him so splendidly during his campaign, and wherein he had made so many loyal friends. In speaking on his topic "The Administration of Justice", he made plain how great is the responsibility of a District Attorney who has in his keeping the security and happiness of a million people, saying that in population and acreage his trust of Middlesex County is the largest county in the United States.

Before Mr. Bishop's speech, and following it, Dora Cappuccio, gowned in quaint costume of bright colors of the peasant maid, which added greatly to the charm of her feature, gave many beautiful selections upon the accordion.

During the business session, the regent, Mrs. John F. Dunton, presided. She reported the outstanding events of the last State meeting, held on March 19th, at which it was voted to hold the fund raised toward the Washington Memorial Church at Valley Forge, until it was needed for the pulpit which was to be the gift of the Daughters of the Revolution. She also reminded of the delightful outing planned for Friday, the 22nd, at Shrewsbury, as guests of Bancroft Chapter, D. R.

Mrs. Dunton asked members to make suggestions for programs for next year to the new chairman, Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson. She also announced that the Rummage Sale would have to be postponed from the last of April to May, probably the 6th and 7th, and urged members to save articles for this sale.

Mrs. Ellen P. Harris, chairman of War Veteran Work, read letters from the several Hospitals for Veterans, in which the thanks expressed for gifts, including afghans, guitars, and zithers, proved how gratefully are such remembrances received.

The regent read, quite appropriately, a leaflet that exposed the methods and aims of the communists, and showing the excellent work being done by patriotic organizations in combating these.

The Chapter voted their annual gifts to the John A. Andrew Home, Pine Mountain School in Kentucky, to Mrs. Anna Tillinghast, Commissioner of Immigration, for her splendid immigration work; and also funds to Mrs. Harris for purchase of yarn to make gifts for the soldiers; and a gift to the State Society, Daughters of the Revolution, for upkeep of headquarters.

After the program, refreshments were served. The pourers were Mrs. J. Albert Cole, and Miss Emma Downing Coolidge. Mrs. C. M. Henry was Councillor of the Day, and the hostesses were Mrs. J. Henry Bacon, Mrs. Charles A. Durant, Miss A. Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Mrs. Charles E. Morrow, and Mrs. Charles L. Pearson, who assisted in serving.

LUITWIELER AND CARVER THANK VOTERS

We wish to thank the group of workers in our behalf of the Primaries on Tuesday. The result was really a victory. Without proper organization we carried Cambridge, Brighton, Watertown and Wellesley and split even on Waltham. Of course Newton Mr. Week's home town, went for him and he made desperate and successful efforts to win it, and Mr. Bigelow naturally carried Brookline.

Gravel Co. Wants Long Extension

George S. Wilbur who operates a large sand and gravel pit near the West Roxbury line at Oak Hill has a petition before the Board of Aldermen for a 3 years' extension to operate a sand and gravel business at this place under the non-conforming clause in the zoning ordinance. The land where the pit is located is in a single residence zone. In 1928 former Buildings Commissioner Chadwick granted Wilbur permits to erect structures at the location to be used in connection with the sand and gravel business. The following year Wilbur petitioned, in accordance with the Zoning Law, for an extension of this permit. He made the unusual request that the extension be for a 5 year period. Mindful of the protests which had arisen due to the operation of heavy trucks over streets in other parts of the city, where gravel pits had been established in residence zones, former Alderman Powers objected to such a long extension and had the permit restricted to one year. He called attention to the protests made by the New England Peabody Home and residents on Brookline street because of the hundreds of heavy gravel trucks travelling over this narrow, winding street, to and from the pit. At that time Mr. Wilbur stated that he would not object to the closing of Brookline street to heavy trucks. In succeeding years the petitions for the extension of the permit to operate the pit have been called for longer terms than one year and despite the fact that each permit has been restricted to one year, the petition this year asks for a 3 years' extension.

During the past two years petitions have been presented by residents on Brookline street and vicinity asking that heavy trucking be prohibited on this street. For some reason no public hearing was accorded those who entered these petitions. Public Buildings Commissioner Hageman properly recommends to the Aldermen that the extension be limited to one year. When Mr Wilbur asked for the extension in 1929 he stated that it would take about 5 years to excavate all the sand and gravel at the pit down to the level which was specified by the City Engineer. The pit was not to be excavated below a level which would bring it lower than nearby streets and thus create another unsightly hole, such as can be seen in other parts of the city where gravel pits were dug that became eyesores and health menaces.

CONCORD PLAYERS TO GIVE "LITTLE WOMEN"

The Concord Players will give their production of "Little Women" in Arlington on the afternoon and evening of May 7. This celebrated story by Mary Louise Alcott is produced in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of her birth. It is unique and fitting that the producing organization should be the outgrowth of a circle who, under Miss Alcott's inspiration, first acted in her home and later in the Concord Town Hall. The cast includes members of the Alcott family, which adds interest to the production of this story which has been a popular seller for seventy-five years.

The Newton High School and The Community

By Robert V. Spencer

It is difficult for one who as a student of education years ago found that Newton had at that time gone further than most other cities in correlating the work of its high school system with the needs of its community, to write a descriptive article on this subject without having it read like an oration in praise of the institution. On the other hand, it would be difficult to say anything by way of criticism without discussing problems which apply with equal pertinence to secondary and college education over the country as a whole, and tendencies against which many leaders in education, including those of the Newton High School, have been struggling for years.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the students who graduate from the Newton High School, like those who are prepared for college in the other best high schools of the country, achieve success in their scholastic records at higher institutions of learning equal to, and even a bit above, those who have been prepared at private schools. In February, 1931, a survey was made of the class standings of the 102 members of the Class of 1930 who were registered at the higher grade colleges in the East. It was found that 40.6 percent of the 613 marks so far given were of honor grade and 97.6 were of passing.

The college preparatory work of the Newton High School is steadily growing in importance. During the school year 1931-32 the registration of students who were being prepared for college entrance examinations showed an increase of 25 percent over those of the previous year, while the figures for the country as a whole showed a decrease of 4 percent. This shows that there is an ever-increasing desire on the part of the people of the city that their children shall have the advantage of a college education.

The general registration figures show that this increased interest in high school education is not confined to the group whose children aspire to a higher education. From 1920 to 1930 there was an increase in high school registration of 45.5 per cent while the increase in the elementary school registration of the city was but 22.3 per cent.

Superintendent Wheeler is right when he says, "Newton is a city of educationally minded people." Probably no community in the United States, unless it be some small university town, has a higher percentage of professional and other college trained people than our own city. Ask the new families who are moving into Newton at the rate of over two a day why they selected Newton as the place in which to live and, aside from their preference for the city because of its convenient transportation facilities, they will answer, "We moved into Newton because we knew that it had an excellent school system," and when they say that a good percentage are thinking of the reputation of our high school. In placing such emphasis on the college preparatory work, our school department is backed by the strongest kind of community demand.

As important and successful as the college preparatory work of our high school is, it would be tragic if it were limited to this special field. With the rapid development of public secondary education in this country, starting in the latter part of the 19th century, a new problem arose. No longer were the boys and girls receiving educational training beyond the grammar grades confined to those from the few select families who expected their children to enter the learned professions and the higher levels of business. High school education had become democratic and presented a wholly new set of problems. The educational world woke up to the fact that the biggest problem facing high school administration was not to train the leaders of society, as important as that was, but that from that time on it must prepare the masses which it found entering the doors of our high schools for successful living. The Newton High School was one of the first to visualize this new responsibility and to set about energetically to find a solution.

Newton's answer to this challenge was the Vocational High School established in 1909. A business course of study had been established in 1903, and this became the business division of the new school. An important advance step was taken in 1924 when the high school system was unified, making the business and trade schools an integral part of the central system, and displacing the old plan of having those who were taking practical training in an entirely separate school where they were given an inferiority complex because they were not enrolled among the favored classes who were being trained according to the old English idea of cultural education for the gentry.

It is impossible within the brief space of this article to describe in detail the great variety of courses offered by a highly trained faculty in each division of the high school. The business and trade schools, music, domestic science, athletics and extra curricular activities would each require special articles for anything like complete description. It is enough here, perhaps, to say that the varied and enriched curriculum offered today by our high school is given with the purpose of preparing all the pupils who attend for useful and happy lives in a modern world.

The results following vocational training are not as spectacular as those of the boys who lead their athletic teams at Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale, but they none the less deserve recognition. Upwards of 65 percent of the boys who graduate from the Technical school secure positions directly in the trades for which they have been trained.

The following is characteristic of the facts usually disclosed by the follow-up each year of those who have graduated from the business and trade divisions of the school. A study was made covering the three years following graduation of the 96 girls from the business division in the class of 1926. At that time 65 held office positions, 6 were registered in higher positions of learning and largely financing themselves, 5 were in training as nurses, 8 were married and 2 were caring for the family at home. All of the 65 girls in office positions had secured employment and promotion directly as the result of their high school training, and 51 of the number had been working for the same firm upwards of two years.

The following case is also interesting. After graduating from the Vocational School seven years ago, a certain boy decided to prepare for the priesthood, a long hard pull. His mother recently received a letter from George Washington University saying that this boy who had nearly completed his course of study had made a very creditable record and had largely financed himself by supervising the electrical work in several of the college buildings. Even in this case his training for electrical work had not been lost. Many of the graduates of this department are directly employed by the General Electric, Telephone and other large corporations.

In no direction has education made greater strides in recent years than in the ability to determine with scientific accuracy the grades of a child's mental abilities and the fields in which he is naturally most promising. While so-called intelligence tests are used largely in elementary school work, the results of this new attitude in education, to base pedagogical treatment on scientifically determined facts, is carried over into the guidance of high school students. In the Newton High School the selection of courses of study is under a special Guidance Committee of the faculty. As the junior high schools are becoming better organized, this committee is coming to have the benefit of their experience with the students. Through the work of this committee in studying the needs of those who are making failures in one or more subjects, a high percentage of student inefficiency is being eliminated. Better still, advice by the faculty advisor based on the elementary school experience is tending to eliminate subject failure by the choice of courses to which the student is adapted.

The time has passed when John is considered fodder for the educational scrap heap because he does not like Latin, and Mary is thought to be good for nothing except a second-rate housewife because she cannot readily master the formal logic of geometry. John may drop his Latin, provided his parents will consent, and concentrate upon the mechanical things which he understands and likes, and Mary may drop her geometry and study shorthand and typewriting and prepare herself for a useful independent life.

The Newton High School is administered upon the belief that it is an institution established by the people, supported by the people and exists for the benefit of all their children who enter its doors. The work of our high school is an acknowledgment of the principle that every student enrolled has a right to the best educational training it has to offer, whether upon graduation he expects to continue his studies or immediately to take up the stern battle of life.

Girl Scouts

Camp Mary Day was a busy place Friday and Saturday of last week. It was spring cleaning time and on Friday 220 girls from the junior troops with their leaders went to camp and besides cleaning up underbrush, washing windows and doing many of the necessary things to make the camp look "ship-shape" after the winter, they had a glorious day in the open. Work was the program for the morning, then dinner. Those who had brought "weenies", steak, or other food to cook gathered in the Council Bowl and judging by the fragrant odors and sounds of merriment, their cooking was most successful. Other girls gathered down by the water, in the woodland theatre, or on the "singing rock."

After a rest, the girls had an exciting game of Capture the Flag. Then they divided into groups according to the month in which they were born and each group acted out a charade—everyone going to the woodland theatre for this part of the program.

On Saturday the senior girls were at camp. The trees which they expected to plant failed to arrive, but they made themselves useful cleaning main camp house, the porches, and building some outdoor fire places.

Each year the girls look forward to this spring cleaning at Camp Mary Day and each year the number of girls who take the opportunity of spending the day at camp gets larger.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Newton was very largely represented in the roster of ladies actively interested in the bridge party given at the Commonwealth Country Club on Monday afternoon, April 25, including Mrs. Albion M. Boothby and Mrs. Frank H. Chamberlain who directed the affair, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence E. Blood, D. Earl Brackett, Roy F. Chamberlain, Perry S. Fay and Marshall B. Hall. An afternoon Tea followed the bridge party.

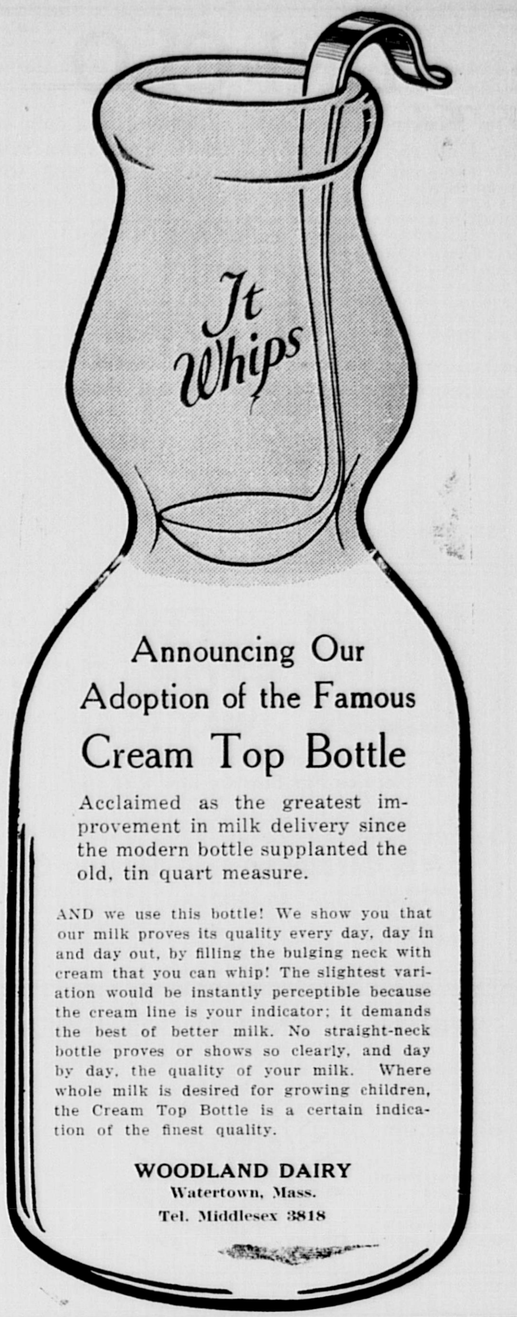
DiCicco received a cut on the forehead; Ambrose Perry, 16, of Charlesbank road, Newton, who was riding with him, received a head injury; Peter Anesse, 12, of Hawthorne street, Nonantum, another passenger on the truck driven by DiCicco, received a cut on the chin.



Announcing Our Adoption of the Famous Cream Top Bottle

Acclaimed as the greatest improvement in milk delivery since the modern bottle supplanted the old, tin quart measure.

AND we use this bottle! We show you that our milk proves its quality every day, day in and day out, by filling the bulging neck with cream that you can whip! The slightest variation would be instantly perceptible because the cream line is your indicator; it demands the best of better milk. No straight-neck bottle proves or shows so clearly, and day by day, the quality of your milk. Where whole milk is desired for growing children, the Cream Top Bottle is a certain indication of the finest quality.

Plan Unusual Cabaret Dance

On May 14 an unusual cabaret dance will be given by the Newton Dramatic Club at Longwood Towers, Brookline. There will be general dancing in addition to the many features of the cabaret which are to be given by the various actors of the club. The cast of "The Marquise" are to give a group program. Mrs. Dunkle will sing in her inimitable way, "The Jewels of the Madonna." Mr. Cosman who played "Esteban" will give impersonations. Mr. Hamlin and Miss Wilbar will sing. Other groups are preparing notable offerings of specialty dancing and skits. Outstanding is the human Contract Bridge Game. Fifty two actors, each representing a card in a deck will enter as the accompaniment of a grand march and take their places about a central square in the order of the hand which Mrs. Prescott Warren has selected. Mrs. Warren will be one of the players. As each card is "played" he will step into the centre and then the trick will take their places behind the successful player. The actors each wear a huge card designating their number on front and the whole "pack" wear the same card on their backs. The Kings, queens and jacks have the traditional headgear besides. A Spanish episode is also to be offered, beautiful in its music and dance.

There have been ninety-two who have acted for the club the past two years, almost all from Newton. They have given acting of high excellence. The board and the members of the club are proud of their achievements.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Federation

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs this year will hold its Annual Meeting at the Clubhouse of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Monday, May 2nd, by invitation of that Club. At one o'clock, a luncheon will be served by Mrs. C. H. Lippincott and her Social committee, tickets for which may be obtained at 50 cents, from Mrs. Lippincott, West Newton 0335-W, up to April 29th.

A reception to the retiring officers will be held at 2 o'clock, and at 2:30 the business meeting will be called to order. The many reports this year will be condensed and combined into three comprehensive ones, to be read by the following officers: Mrs. Harold Moore, reports o fthe Federation officers and chairmen of committees; Mrs. Alden H. Speare, reports of the presidents of the different Clubs; and Mrs. George F. Reinhardt those of the Associate Organizations. Following the reading of these reports will be the disposition of any business which may be in order, including action on the proposed amendments to the Constitution. These amendments affect articles on Membership, Officers, and Representation and Amendments, which were discussed at the March meeting, and in view of the interest shown then, this meeting, when these questions are to be voted upon, should have a good attendance. The election of officers for the ensuing year will follow.

The music will consist of violin selections by Miss Ruth Posselt, accompanied by Miss Gladys Posselt.

Juniors in the Newton Junior Clubs are looking forward to the State Junior May Festival, scheduled for May 7th, at 8 p. m., in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A. It is hoped, also, that the senior Clubwomen will attend this affair, and enjoy the Juniors' talented members.

Mrs. Charles C. Willson, of Auburndale, is one of the committee assisting in the interesting plans for this Festival. Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will play her own composition, "The Victory Song", written especially for Mrs. Poole.

Details of the event will be found in this Column under State Federation items.

Auburndale Woman's Club

An innovation for the Auburndale Woman's Club is in the meeting place for the coming Annual Meeting on Tuesday, May 3rd, which is to be the Charles River Country Club instead of the Auburndale Club House as has been customary. That all members may have an opportunity to cast their ballots, whether attending the meeting or not, the Club Room will be open from 10:15 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.

Transportation for all who desire to ride will be furnished, and the cars will leave at 12:15 o'clock for the Country Club, where luncheon will be served at 12:45. The Annual Meeting, which will include the usual business and election of officers, will follow immediately after the luncheon.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Friday, May 6th, will be a gala occasion for members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, as they plan many entertaining features to be staged between items of the business of Annual Meeting. There will also be a luncheon, scheduled for one o'clock, in the main auditorium, with the meeting following at 2 o'clock.

Newton Community Club
Social Science Club
And Newton Garden Club

Under the joint auspices of three Newton Clubs a delightful affair is being arranged for the 10th of May, in Channing Church, from 2 to 7 p. m., in a Flower Show, entries for which must be made before May 7th, to Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, chairman in charge, 226 Park street, Newton, telephone New. No. 0442-R.

There are six classes of exhibits, with corresponding list of points upon which they will be judged for prizes, which points will be decided by popular vote for the most outstanding exhibit.

Members of the three Clubs arranging the Exhibit are invited to enter their arrangements of flowers. Only one entry in each class is allowed, by one person. These must be accompanied by a card bearing the exhibitor's name, enclosed in an envelope, on which shall appear the Class number only. Exhibits must be in place in the exhibiting hall by 12 noon on Tuesday, the 10th. Any exhibit not in place at that hour will be disqualified. No exhibitor will be allowed to remain in the hall during the judging of Classes. All exhibits must be removed before 10 o'clock, on Wednesday, the 11th. All containers for the exhibits must be marked with the owner's name.

Class I. is Arrangement of Flowers for Living Room; A. Antique; B. Modern. Flowers to be grown by exhibitor. Judging points to be color harmony, proportion, relation of flowers to container, and distinction.

Class II. is Arrangement of Tulips in Metal Container (copper, brass, pewter, or silver). Judging points to be relation of flowers to container, individuality, color harmony, and perfection of arrangement.

Class III. is Arrangement of Flowering Shrubs or Trees (wild or cultivated) in Pottery Container. Judging points to be the same as for Class I.

Class IV. is "Tea for Two"—Tray set with dishes, flowers, but no flat silver. Judging points to be general effect, color scheme, and arrangement of flowers.

Class V. is Arrangement of Flowers in Common Container, Flowers not to cost more than $1.00. Judging points to be individuality, appropriateness, and color harmony.

Class VI. is Flat Arrangement of Flowers; A. Floating; B. Standing. Judging points to be the same as for Class II.

Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland, chairman of the Conservation committee of the Newton Community Club, and the eleven members of her committee, many of whom are also members of the Social Science Club, are completing a year of many decidedly attractive events in their work, and this Exhibit, in conjunction with the Garden Club, of which Mr. Herbert Frazier is president, is a culmination that is most attractive.

The public is cordially invited to attend this Flower Show and enjoy the display of flowers. There is no admission fee. Tea will be served to those who may wish it, for the small fee of 25 cents.

State Federation

MAY FESTIVAL. Mrs I. William Crowell, chairman of Junior Membership of the State Federation, is arranging for a delightful affair for the Juniors by which funds will be raised to send a Junior delegate to the Bicentennial at Seattle in June. She is to be known as the Grace Morrison Poole Junior Delegate, with voting power. On the evening of Saturday, May 7th, in the Boston Y. W. C. A. auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock, an entertainment by Junior talent, music, and dancing will be enjoyed, not only by the Juniors, but by many members of the Senior Clubs. There will be a playlet given by the Old Colony Juniors of South Weymouth among the special features.

As there are only one hundred reserved seats, order for these at 75 cents should be given at once. There are also about five hundred seats at fifty cents each.

It is expected that Mrs. Poole will honor the occasion, returning from a trip to Ohio to be present.

Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, of Newton Centre, will play her own composition, for a soloist, the stirring "Victory Song," written especially for Mrs. Poole. Another Newton Clubwoman, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, former president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, is assisting on the committee making plans for this event.

JUNIORS AT SWAMPSCOTT. Mrs. Crowell is also making interesting plans for the Juniors in their own Convention to be held in conjunction with that of the Senior Clubwomen, at Swampscott, at the New Ocean House on May 21st, these including a supper for Junior presidents, a pageant of flowers, a Junior Luncheon, and an exclusive Junior program for entertainment.

MRS. SCHRADER TO ENTERTAIN. Cards are out for an afternoon with the president of the State Federation, on Friday, May 6th, when Mrs. Carl L. Schrader will entertain her Executive Board, past and present members, and other honor guests, at the Belmont Woman's Club House, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

ARTS AND CRAFTS EXHIBIT. Unique among the displays to be shown at Swampscott during the Annual Meeting of the State Federation will be the Arts and Crafts Exhibit, sponsored by the Art Division, of which Mrs. Roy C. Baker, of Clinton, is chairman. Each of the 390 affiliated Clubs has been requested to send one choice piece of handicraft, officially approved. Among the treasures which will be exhibited, it is understood that Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president, will display some handwrought silver, in which craft she excels.

RADIO. "Carry your Cargo and Make your Port," which is to be the keynote of the Biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at Seattle, in June, will be the broadcast theme of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, speaking over WBZ, on Saturday, April 30th, at 11:30 o'clock, in the State Federation hour. With Mrs. Poole as unopposed candidate for National president, the occasion takes on added significence.

Mrs. Ernest P. Carr, of Marlboro, of the Mothercraft Division, will speak for Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, founder and chairman, on the topic "These are my Jewels." There will be music by Margery McCleave, Soprano, and Blanche Pickering, pianist, both of Brockton.

For the radio program of Saturday, May 7th, at 11:30 o'clock, the State Federation will welcome a clubwoman from New Hampshire, who will bring greetings from her State to Massachusetts Clubwomen, Mrs. George F. Boutwell, of Portsmouth, who is chairman of Press and Publicity of the New Hampshire State Federation of Women's Clubs. Rounding out the program, Mrs. Harold P. Johnson, of Woburn, director of the Eighth District, will speak on "Utilizing Leisure" in her district, and Joseph Levote will give violin selections, accompanied by Frances P. Boleman.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The 52nd Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, held Friday, April 22nd, was a most delightful occasion. Luncheon was served at the Commonwealth Country Club, with the tables beautifully decorated with spring flowers and roses. Mrs. Seldon E. James, Twelfth District director; Mrs. George E. Phipps, a charter member of the Club and founder of the Newton Federation; and Mrs. Ella Mason were honor guests.

After luncheon the Club was privileged to hear Madam Maria Conde, a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. The lyrics of two of her selections were her own compositions. Mrs. Mary Humphrey Tower accompanied Madam Conde, and later pleased the audience with several piano selections.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the Day, was assisted by a committee composed of Mrs. Louise Filene, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, and Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent.

The president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, called the business meeting to order, and many interesting reports of the year's work and achievements were read by the secretaries and the various committee chairmen.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Frederick A. Cole, who is retiring from the office of auditor, in appreciation of her services.

The following were elected to office for the coming year: President, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett; first vice-president, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay; second vice-president, Mrs. John S. Franklin; recording secretary, Mrs. Roy A. Stinson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Howard Frost; treasurer, Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent; auditor, Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren; directors for three years: Mrs. E. A. Dockstader, Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson, and Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer; and Nominating committee: Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, chairman; Mrs. J. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Alvah Jordan, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, Mrs. C. A. Stimets, Mrs. Fred L. Trask, and Mrs. Everett L. Upham.

In conclusion, the Club members joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," an annual custom, after which the president declared the last meeting of the 52nd year adjourned.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Annual Luncheon of the Community Service Club of West Newton, held on Wednesday, April 20th, in the Unitarian Parish House, and followed by the Annual Meeting and election of officers, brought to a close a year of progress under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Weston, who during her two years as president has stressed friendliness and neighborliness as the keynote in her aims for the Club. Her success in accomplishment is gratefully and universally acknowledged by all members of the Club.

Mrs. Weston spoke in gracious appreciation of what the co-operative spirit of the Club had meant to her as its president, and bespoke for Mrs. Tower, whom the Club is pleased to welcome as its new president, devotion and the same spirit of co-operation.

Mrs. R. F. Koops, secretary, read an interesting and extremely well-prepared report of the Club activities for the year, and Mrs. Ethel P. Leach gave a gratifying account of the Club treasury, specifying generous donations to Newton philanthropies.

Mrs. Weston called to the attention of Club members a sale on April 21st at the home of Mrs. Sinclair Weeks for the benefit of Disabled Veterans, and the Benefit Play, T. N. T., to be staged at the Newton High School in aid of the unemployed in Newton.

The afternoon program of entertainment opened with selections by the Club Chorus under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, with Mrs. Frank S. Tower and Mrs. Stanley Bolster as accompanists. The following numbers were given: "Morning in Spring," by Matthews; "Bird of Air" and "A Pretty Little Bird," by Brahm, "Two Little Clocks" by James Rogers, and the concluding number "Lullaby from Jocelyn," by Godart, in which there was the delightful feature of the retiring president, Mrs. Thomas Weston, playing a violin obligato, and Mrs. Tower, newly-elected president, presiding at the piano.

The Club Chorus was inaugurated as a new activity this winter and received warm applause for its excellent work. The membership of the chorus includes Mrs. Elbert Allen,

Plans For Annual Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Monday evening, April 25th, at the home of Mr. H. W. Orr, 258 Mill st., Newtonville.

One of the principal subjects of discussion was the proposed plan of organization to maintain and enlarge the membership of the Association. In each neighborhood a representative of the Association will be selected, to have charge of a small district in which he can acquaint each householder with the purposes of the Association and the splendid work for the good of Newtonville that the Association is constantly doing. It is expected that there will be about forty of these neighborhood representatives.

The removal of objectionable bill boards in certain localities was discussed and the marking of direction signs at strategic spots, pointing to Newtonville square.

The tentative date of the Annual Meeting was set for Monday, May 16th. It is expected that a distinguished speaker will be present to speak on present civic developments in Newtonville. The public is cordially invited to this annual meeting, definite announcement of which will be made shortly.

The officers and executive committee of the Association for next year will be elected at this meeting.

dience at once and evoked much laughter when he was being used as a mannequin, while Tilly performed major operations with a large pair of scissors on his masquerade costume. His boyishness and youth put much animation into the part he admirably played. Miss Mariada Comer, well known to Newton audiences, again appeared as a sophisticated young lady in the part of Henrietta Smith. Miss Comer enacted her part with a fineness of manner and a feeling of security in herself that delighted and charmed the audience. Mr. William Fawcett typified the professional man in the role of Dr. Brown, and as always Mr. Fawcett studies his character with a deep insight and lives the life and experience of the man he is portraying. His lines with Mary were the most serious in the entire play. Donald Tarbell, as another physician, Dr. Mainn, also played a fine part and although he came on near the final curtain, he entered at just the right time to make a fitting climax to the embrace of the re-united lovers.

This finished production was the result of much time and effort on the part of the performers and those who so generously gave their services on the Mayor's Relief Fund Committee. Much credit is due the American Legion Band that played before the curtain and between the acts; and to those who made of the stage an artistic and colorful background upon which to present the snappy and laughable comedy, "T. N. T."

NEWTON MAN HONORED

At the regular quarterly meeting of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association the portrait of Capt. Frank L. Nagle of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, was unveiled and placed on the walls of the Memorial room among the other Past Presidents. Captain Nage recently retired as president of the Association of which Paul Revere was the first president in 1794. Mrs. Caroline Thurber was the artist.

JOHN AND LIONEL BARRYMORE AT THE PARAMOUNT

The Barrymore brothers, John and Lionel, will be seen together in their first joint appearance in a motion picture in "Arsene Lupin," starting Sunday. The play is founded on a mystery story by Maurice Le Blanc which was successfully produced on the Paris stage. The supporting cast is worthy to be associated with these two illustrious members of the celebrated Barrymore family.

Lionel's role as the detective is said to outshine his work in a "Free Soul" and "Mati Hari." The romance of the play is provided by the love affair between John Barrymore as the waster thief and Miss Morley as the police spy.

Birds of Newton

Eleanor Mellen

"The time of the singing of birds has come." Horticulturists say that this season is two weeks behind in their business but the warm sunshine of at least part of the last ten days has brought the birds very nearly even with their regular calendar. One morning last week at four a. m., just as the eastern sky was tinting with dawn, the robins, always the early birds, began their cry of "kill 'im, cure 'im, give him physic"; a few minutes later the bluejays sounded their music-box call, but somewhat listlessly, as if they had been wakened too early. Later still, as befits birds who dwell in holes, the starlings started to chatter. By the way, when the note of any bird is heard, and that bird cannot be seen, suspect the starling. They are fine mimics.

As the sun rose, the purple finches poured out their beautiful song, and the chipping sparrows, who have been silent during most of the ten days since their arrival, thrilled their sweet and monotonous notes over and over again. By that time the listener had been sung to sleep, but when breakfast time arrived, so had the chickadee, shouting a merry "Hello! Chickadee-dee-dee!" from the window feeding tray.

The home birds, those of the door-yard, orchard, shade trees and shrubbery, are here in fair numbers now, while others will arrive almost daily for several weeks to come. Whether they stay in our door-yards depends largely upon what we offer them. Food, water, shelter are our three inducements as they are their chief needs.

If the bird-boxes have not been put up or the old ones cleaned from last year's litter, this should be done without delay. Bird-boxes need not be expensive. Two door-yards were adorned with attractive and rather costly bird-houses but the white-breasted nuthatches, which had fed there all winter, went a block distant to nest in a salt-box with a hole cut in one end, that a school-girl had nailed to a tree. Nesting places should be provided if we would be friendly to the birds, for home-sites and building materials are more and more difficult for them to obtain. Lawns, and even roadsides, are so tidy these days, that small straws and other litter are hard to find.

Common white string, cut into pieces about a foot long, will take to itself wings and fly away nearly as fast as it can be supplied. Scattered on the lawn in the afternoon it is usually gone in the morning, our morning, that is, not at four-thirty a. m. Robins and grackles will gather it into beakfuls almost as large as themselves. The robins need mud with which to plaster the inside of their nests. A dripping faucet or a pan of water near freshly spaded earth is much appreciated. Tufts of white fluffy cotton will be snatched at, literally, by kingbirds, tree swallows, and some of the warblers, to be used for nest lining. It is said that egg-shells on the lawn will attract tree swallows, but I cannot vouch for it.

A wave of ruby-crowned kinglets passed through Newton dooryards on Monday, scattering music all the way. Usually migrating birds while feeding move in the general direction of their migration but these were ranging south, perhaps discouraged by the dark sky and chill wind.

The birds due to arrive this week include Chimney Swifts, saying "Scissors" high overhead and often flying in threes, Towhees also called Ground Robin, birds of the woods, scratching Brown Thrashers, called by some better singers than the Mocking-bird, one of which came ahead of time and was seen by the Newton Highlands Bird Class last week, Black and White Warblers, and the Cliff, Bank, and Barn Swallows. Everyone of these birds breed here, most of them within our city limits.

Vocational School To Be Trade School

A regular meeting of the Newton School Committee was held on Monday night. All members were present and John Lund of Norwalk, Connecticut, who will succeed Mr. Wheeler as Superintendent of Schools, was also present. A subcommittee composed of Messrs. Church, Butts and Fernald which had been studying the relations between the High and Vocational Schools made the following recommendations:

"Your committee with the assistance of Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Palmer and Mr. Forbes has carefully considered the various questions incident to the recommendations of the State Department of Education that the vocational work now carried on under the name of Vocational Division of the Newton High School be separated as fully as possible from the high school administration and in the future be carried on by the director, Mr. Forbes, in accordance with the suggestion often received and frequently repeated from the Vocational Division of the State Board of Education.

"1. The committee recommends that the vocational training be separate from the high school for the following reasons: The practical benefits derived from the organization of the vocational work as part of the Newton High School are very small and are more than offset by the disadvantages. The length of the vocational school day being seven hours as compared with the five hours of the high school prevents the vocational school board from participating in any high school activities taking place in the afternoon. If the vocational boys are excused to participate in sports at 2:15 their school work is interrupted and can with difficulty be made up. The vocational graduates should receive a trade certificate or diploma and not a high school diploma. It is now more difficult for the vocational graduates to obtain jobs because of the fact that they are classed with all high school graduates instead of having a trade school diploma, which is more significant of the kind and quality of their school work. There is a great waste in keeping duplicate records at the vocational office and the high school office under the present system. This involves records relative to attendance, the educational cards, vocational reports or ranking cards and the guidance cards.

"We recommend that upon establishment of the new school the principal of the high school still retain authority and responsibility for the vocational group in connection with its use of lunch room and gymnasium and whenever in the high school building or on its grounds.

"2. We recommend that the new school so established remain in its present quarters under the administration of a director and that it be given the official title of the Newton Trade School. We find the word trade is correctly descriptive of the work done and is customarily used by the State educational authorities, and is property significant to the public. A trade school may, if desirable, be more easily 'tied up' with industry than a vocational division of a high school. Important developments in this respect may be accomplished with the return of business activity."

Supt. Wheeler stated that he believes the superintendent of schools should have authority to decide who shall be admitted to the Trade School. Otherwise some ambitious director might restrict admissions to pupils who had gone through the elementary grades. Mr. Lund observed that a superintendent has this prerogative. He inquired regarding pupils in the High School taking courses in the Trade School and was informed that this is not permitted by the State Board of Education.

Mr. Butts inquired regarding the $14,000 recommended to obtain needed new equipment and replacements for the school. He was told that Mayor Weeks had refused to recommend this appropriation until he ascertains what the tax rate will be for this year, and what the amount of the State and County taxes will be.

Under The Gilded Dome

The fact that a large number of members of the Legislature were interested in the Presidential primaries last Tuesday disturbed somewhat the legislative routine this week. Monday and Tuesday saw little business done. This was because certain members desired to remain in their districts in order to help "get out the vote." Some of them were candidates for delegates and they and others were making speeches and otherwise advancing the interests of their candidates and themselves. The contests on the Democratic side were far more numerous but nevertheless many Republicans felt there was need for their presence "back home." The excitement was great in both camps and in consequence it was felt necessary to let legislative matters slide for a few days.

It took a vote of the Senate to kill a resolve for an investigation of the price of gas in Hyde Park by the Public Utilities Commission. The House has been pretty easy-going in favoring all sorts of investigations and it has been necessary for the Senate to act the stern elder brother and check some of these things. Those who succeeded in killing the bill in the Senate showed that nothing could be accomplished beyond what the Public Utilities Commission may now do under the statutes. Furthermore, it was revealed that the Public Utilities Commission has before it a petition for a reduction of rates of the company which serves Hyde Park.

The Governor has has his way in the matter of payment on the loans he recommended in 1931. When the general appropriation bill for this year was reported, the House Ways and Means Committee made provision for the payment of $764,750. The Governor contended that the money had not yet been borrowed and if provision for payment were made it would increase the burden of the 1932 taxpayer. The Legislature, however, decided to follow the Ways and Means Committee. Therefore, when the bill reached the Governor he vetoed these particular items. The question then came on passing the bill notwithstanding his veto. It was argued by members of the Ways and Means Committee that in 1931 the State launched a 2-year program and agreed at the time that a suitable amount of the loan should be paid off each year. There was a majority, 105 to 92, in favor of overriding the Governor but as two-thirds is required there were 25 lacking and in consequence the Governor was sustained. The Newton Representatives supported the Ways and Means Committee.

The meetings of the Governor's Council have been far livelier than those of the Legislature. However, the Council meets in private and consequently the happenings cannot be reported in full. Almost every week sees a clash between the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor and as Mr. Ely and Mr. Youngman are expected to be rivals for the office of Governor at the State election next November their utterances and differences are followed with closer interest.

It looks as if the Public Utilities Commission has at last straightened out the matter of the $24,000,000 bond issue by the Boston Metropolitan District. The people were not much interested, from all indications, although they should have been, for the finances of the transportation district are of vital concern to all taxpayers.

Both branches of the Legislature have accepted the adverse report of the Committee on Banks and Banking on the petition for legislation to prohibit the taking or receipt by banks or their officers of certain fees, commissions and other considerations for or on account of loans made by or on behalf of such banks.

The Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety has been severely criticised by Morgan T. Ryan, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, who contends that it has served no useful purpose as far as the Registry of Motor Vehicles was concerned. The committee has replied that it sees no reason for changing its course or policies. Whether the committee will be able to obtain an appropriation for the continuance of its existence is one of those questions concerning which there is much talk.

Both branches have enacted and sent to the Governor for approval the bill to further extend the preference provided under the classified labor service to applicants with dependents.

There are only about 200 matters not yet reported upon by the various committees. A large part of these are before the Ways and Means Committees of the Senate and House while the Rules Committees of the two branches have considerable before them. The present Legislature has had to take up a total of 1742 bills and has reported upon at least 88 per cent of them. This might indicate a fairly early date for prorogation but so many things may happen that few legislators or observers are prepared to set a possible date.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

The art of job-finding existed long before the depression, according to husbands, brothers and sons who have to mind what the lady boss at home says.

How One Game Started

As delightful and informing a volume as I have found among the biographical writings available on the shelves of the Newton Free Library is "Aubrey's Brief Lives." Far from ponderous or heavy it provides excellent reading. Moreover, there is much to be learned. The bit of knowledge which I seek through this column to impart has to do with that playful nonsense that is practiced even today when a company of merry folk are seated in a circle. "Pass it along," or something like that is the phrase used when the person next to you gives you a slap on the back, a dig in the ribs or whatever it may be. Not so funny, eh; rather trifling. But please read on.

John Aubrey "set down," between 1669 and 1696, sketches, as we would call them today, of the lives of his contemporaries. They disclose sidelights on the characters and doings of the great and lesser great of English history. Until I opened this fascinating book, Sir Walter Raleigh was to me the man who introduced tobacco into England and once sat smoking peacefully when a servant suddenly discovered him. Fearing his master was on fire the faithful serving man threw a basin of water on Sir Walter. The other tale that has fixed itself in my memory was of Sir Walter spreading his cloak in the path of a beautiful lady in order that her dainty feet might be protected from the mud-puddle that confronted her. These ancient yarns belong to the days of school-going. John Aubrey does not tell them.

However, Aubrey does tell of Sir Walter having been invited to dinner given by "some great person". One of his sons was invited, too, and Sir Walter informed him of the honor thus, "Thou art expected today at dinner to go along with me, but thou art such a quarrelsome, affronting—that I am ashamed to have such a beare in my company." It appears that the father's opinion of his son was not without foundation for the son, who "sate next to his father and was very demure during at least halfe dinner time" suddenly astounded the guests with, "I, this morning, not having the feare of God before my eies but by the instignation of the devill—".

The son did not finish that sentence, according to Aubrey, for "Sir Walter, being strangely surprised and put out of his countenance at so great a table, gives his son a damned blow over the face. His son, as rude as he was, would not strike his father, by strikes over the face the gentleman that sate next to him and sayd, 'Box about; twill come to my father anon.' 'Tis now a common used proverb."

Putting Words on Paper

Now that there is a brief lull in politics—the Presidential Primaries last Tuesday having determined the will of a majority of the voters of both parties—we can discuss matters more calmly. It isn't that I desire to talk of politics but of that which is a part—and a most important one—of a campaign. You and I may have our differences about candidates and lots of other things but I have a non-controversial subject to offer and hope you'll be interested.

Incidental to every "battle of ballots," as somebody once called it and thereby started a metaphorical crime wave, there are speeches, the giving out of statements, interviews, forecasts and a lot of other things that are typewritten and for which a large quantity of nice, clean stationery is sacrificed. Has it ever been your lot to have witnessed the preparation of all this campaign material? You really have got to be in the newspaper field to appreciate how much labor it means for many people.

Every candidate has an organization. Some are extensive and include a battery of typewriters, people grinding machines that make many copies of typewritten manuscripts, answering telephones, taking dictation, making up lists of dates of rallies. Such a hubbub and apparently no sense to it. People running round in circles, at least you'd think so. Well, that's the atmosphere in which some of the grand, high-sounding speeches are turned out. Maybe the candidate tries to think them out himself or possibly the job is turned over to his secretary or public relations adviser or somebody called in for the particular purpose.

No matter who writes the first draft, whether from notes, dictation or "suggestions", it is hardly ever the final. And you should see what happens before the speech is "ready to give out". First the originator runs through it, line by line, and makes a series of changes, then it is re-typewritten and brought back to him. After that it is submitted to the candidate and he goes over it with care, wondering no doubt whether such ideas ever occurred to him and if so why. Maybe he gets a hunch that it would be bad policy to refer to a certain topic and immediately marks are drawn through the copy and back it goes to be "copied over". Meanwhile the newspapermen are hanging around, waiting for the final draft. Usually they have a long wait. Possibly there is so much delay that word is sent out, "We'll send it to your office as soon as it's finished."

What I am coming to is this—the speech is eventually put together. Everything done "on the way" has seemed to improve it. When it finds its place on the printed page you and I read it and say very promptly whether we like it or not. If we take sides that shows it has "gotten over", which is all a candidate can ask. It has often struck me that these speech-makers, their advisers, assistants, typists and press agents must feel pretty sore if after all their struggles a newspaper uses only a few lines of 800 word address. But that's politics, which is just the same as war if you know what I mean.

Catching Smugglers

It appears that a large number of people resort to the oldest and most easily detected schemes in seeking to defraud the U. S. Government of a few cents in postage. I do not refer to those who thoughtlessly, fail to place enough stamps on their bundles but to such as try to mail stuff under the guise of parcel post which should be paid for at a higher rate.

The other day I met an official from Washington who told me that within a few days the clerks at the dead letter office had found 60 sacks of newspapers and periodicals intended for foreign countries on which sufficient postage was not paid. More than 30 per cent of these bundles, he said, contained merchandise of nearly every description, including hose, handkerchiefs, dress goods and gloves.

My informant said that the transient rate on second class matter to foreign countries was increased April 1, this year, from one cent for each two ounces to one and one-half cents for each two ounces. A quantity of newspapers intended for recipients abroad were mailed in New York and vicinity with the old rate of postage attached. Because of this latter fact they were held up and eventually reached the dead letter office. It was there discovered that the senders had not only neglected to pay the proper postage but had, at the same time, endeavored to avoid the payment of customs duties required under the law for goods mailed to foreign countries.

There is a regular routine which the department follows in these matters. The newspapers will be destroyed after holding them a certain time. An official notice on which payment will be made by the department will be sent to the addressee in the case of the merchandise held at the dead letter office, asking for the name and address of the sender. If this is obtained the person mailing the merchandise will be notified and on payment of the necessary postage, it will be returned to him. If no such information is obtainable, then the merchandise now held at the dead letter office will be sold at one of the regular sales conducted semi-annually by the Postoffice Department.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen Alderman Gallagher paid tribute to the new method in use in the Newton Police Department—the patrolling of the city by policemen in automobiles equipped with radio. He told how an intruder had entered his home early last Sunday morning and how he had telephoned police headquarters. He stated that in 3 minutes four policemen were at his home and within 4 1-2 minutes twelve policemen had arrived at his house. He waxed enthusiastic at this rapid mobilization of so many cops. Then, Alderman Bail praised the motorization of the Newton police department, citing as an example of its efficiency the fact that he had observed three police cruising cars arrive at the scene of a small fire recently, almost as soon as the fire apparatus.

We did not enthuse over such wholesale assembling of police. The thought occurred to us—"what protection is a large part of the city receiving when so many policemen gather at one spot to round up a drunk or because an alarm is sounded for a small fire?" If burglars got wise that such a practice obtains in Newton, why couldn't they pull a false alarm to lure the police to one end of the city, and then pull a job at some other section of the city? Upon inquiring of a policeman who was present at the alderman's house, we were told that only seven officers answered the doctor's telephone call, and that three of these men came from headquarters. We don't know whether the alderman counted some of the policemen twice, or whether a second squad of bluecoats arrived after the first squad departed, but, if half the cruising cars of the police answer any first alarm of fire, we don't believe such action necessary, or that it affords proper protection to the rest of the city.

The riots recently staged by "M. I. T." and Harvard students at Cambridge indicate that higher education produces culture. If so-called roughneck youths staged these riots they would get jail sentences.

How preposterous to accuse the big time brokers of Wall street of conspiracy to retard the return of prosperity by "selling short." These men are high-minded citizens, free from undue greed, solicitious of the welfare of their country and fellow men. And this country prohibits even honestly conducted lotteries.

Talking about "Leo the Lion" jumping through the plate glass window at the broadcasting station, without being catty it would please us if other radio performers would do likewise, including the "da-de-da" crooners, all singers of "blues" songs, spreaders of scandal stuff, and the bozos with saccharine voices who serve as master of ceremonies on cigarette company huey programs.

We have been informed through the Division of State Highways of the Department of Public Works that work on resurfacing Washington street between Newton Corner and West Newton will commence in about three weeks. So, those of you who for years have suffered physical discomfort and had your automobiles wracked and ruined can cheer up with the expectation that within a few months you can travel over our main street with some degree of comfort. The only possible fly in the ointment may be that some of those who have had the vibratory treatment for years may have to resort to electric horses or partake of yeast to maintain that physical condition obtained by Gene Tunney, according to the advertisements which he used to be featured in.

APPOINTED FRIGIDAIRE DEALER

Announcement has been made that Mr. Ralph H. Somers of the Appliance Institute, at 293 Walnut street, Newtonville, has been granted a franchise, making him a Dealer for Frigidaire, the advanced Refrigeration—a product of General Motors. A beautiful display of the latest Frigidaire Models has already been arranged in this centrally located Show Room and you are cordially invited to visit there and investigate to the fullest extent the wonderful economic value and savings which this latest type of refrigeration can bring to your household.

In these times expenditures for comfort and convenience should be tempered by thrift and economy. Any representative of the Appliance Institute will be pleased to explain, without obligation what wonderful cash dividends this super-refrigeration can pay you.

According to Mr. Somers, the management of this new community organization, having especially in mind the necessity of building good will above all else, and the giving for every dollar, full measure and running over, have thoroughly investigated the entire electric refrigeration industry and from among the few good standard makes have come to the unanimous decision that Frigidaire, backed by General Motors, one of the strongest corporations in the entire world, is the one outstanding Mechanical Refrigerator that will enable the maintainance of high standard of value and ideal of quality. In fact, each and every thrift appliance which the Institute recommends must have more than usual merit and dependability before it receives approval.

Mr. Somers is to serve as a direct representative of the Frigidaire factory headquarters, the largest center of its kind in New England. In presenting the Frigidaire Advanced Refrigeration models, particular attention is called to the gleaming, white porcelain surfaces used on both the exterior and interior of the household cabinets. The striking and lasting beauty of this snow-white porcelain-on-steel offers a new standard for permanent refrigeration satisfaction, and now makes it possible for one investment to last a generation. There are many other interesting and attractive features which make these new cabinets truly "Advanced".

Frigidaire, one of the oldest companies manufacturing Mechanical Refrigeration, has pioneered many of the principal features of Electric Refrigerators, and is now offering its improved regular models at new reduced prices. Frigidaire has also just announced a popular priced line of "Moraine Models" at such low prices that people can no longer afford to be without a Frigidaire in their home—the economy and saving will soon pay for the investment.

In outlining his refrigeration plans for 1932, Mr. Somers makes the following statement, — "Modernization and beautification of the kitchen resulted in the sale of one million new automatic refrigerators during last year, making a total of more than three million five hundred thousand in use in American homes today. This overwhelming public approval is our greatest asset and statistics have proved Frigidaire to be a leader in the field. Perhaps you believe you can't afford to own a Frigidaire, but the truth is, you can't afford to be without one, and the old adage: 'The best is the cheapest in the long run' still rings true."

IS NEEDED

The Eastman Economy Funeral Plan provides a complete funeral service, including the use of our Funeral Home, for $175 —or less, if necessary.

Restricted space, sickness in the family, the work and worry of preparing a private home for services—these are some of the reasons why there is a tendency towards the use of the funeral home. • The Eastman Funeral Home, with its spacious, restful rooms, provides every facility for comfort and convenience. Accessibly located and non-sectarian. There is no charge for its use. • Visits of inspection are cordially welcomed—and incur no obligation.

Police News

Mrs. Dorothy Farrar of 151 Neshobe road, Waban was in the Newton court on Monday charged with keeping two barking dogs. According to a neighbor, these two dogs bark continuously. Mrs. Farrar had other neighbors to testify that her pets don't bark too much. The case was continued for a month. The same day Jacob Kamburian of 41 Cross street, West Newton was in court charged with keeping a barking and biting dog. The judge continued this case for two months on Mr. Kamburian's promise that he would train his pet to become a well behaved canine. The neighbor who was the complainant, while agreeing to the continuance, was skeptical that the animal, which is of that very gentle breed, known as German police dogs, can be evolved into a nice doggie.

Mrs. Roy Argersinger, Mrs. Clifford M. Brewer, Mrs. K. P. Cowin, Mrs. Shepherd Crain, Miss Theresa Cram, Mrs. W. W. Edwards, Mrs. Harry A. Hageman, Mrs. C. E. James, Miss Margaret Kilburn, Mrs. H. B. Patrick, Mrs. Frank S. Tower, Mrs. Gluyas Williams, and Mrs. W. C. Worth.

Following the selections by the Club Chorus, Hortense Creede Railsback opened a delightful program of dramatic readings with a monologue, "Nothing in Common," which afforded the audience much pleasure; an interesting and pathetic story of a society matron who learned much of the true values of life and of living, from one to whom she thought she was giving, instead of expecting to take, worthwhile ideas of value and importance in her own life. Mrs. Railsback is a charming and talented reader, and is always assured of a hearty welcome from her fellow Club members, and an appreciative audience, to whom her programs give real pleasure. Her other numbers were a charming fairy story, "The Giant's Garden," and in conclusion a clever amusing little skit, "Mud Pies."

The delicious luncheon was served under the able chairmanship of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott.

The election of officers for 1932-1933 resulted in the choice of Mrs. Frank Stanley Tower, president; Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. Edward P. Drew, Mrs. R. H. Koops, Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, and Mrs. Walter S. Railsback, vice-presidents; Mrs. Reuel W. Beach, recording secretary; Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jennie M. Thomson, clerk; Mrs. Kenneth Tiffin, auditor; Mrs. L. H. Tappan, Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, and Mrs. Edward Abbott, Federation delegates; and Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, Mrs. Henry F. Morse, Mrs. Thomas Weston, and Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., Nominating committee for 1933.

Newton Junior Community Club

The Newton Junior Community Club held its Annual Meeting at the Grace Episcopal Church in Newton on April 18th. The meeting was opened by the president, Phyllis Baker, and the election of officers for next year was held, the following being elected: Elizabeth Bell, president; Marion Hubberd, vice-president; Jane Black, secretary; Lucille Holmes, treasurer; and Elizabeth Barbara, chairman of Nominating Committee.

After the election, Mrs. I. William Crowell, chairman of Junior Membership of the State Federation, spoke to the Club about the Junior's Convention at Swampscott and also about the Biennial Convention to be held in June at Seattle when Grace Morrison Poole, will be candidate for the presidency. One girl is to be sent from the Junior Clubs in Massachusetts. Mrs. Charles Wilson, also of the Junior Committee of the State Federation, spoke about the conference at Swampscott more fully, and about the various poems and plays which are being submitted in competition by Junior Clubs all over the state. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, president of the Senior Club, and Mrs Philip Jamieson, Junior director, were guests of honor.

Janet Tuthill, Ann Cummings, and Virginia Partridge gave a clever skit on the stage, which was very well acted. Madeline Dunne read the lovely poem which she is submitting to the poetry contest. This poem was exceedingly well written and showed great talent.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the honor guests and the parents who were the guests of the Club and the Club members enjoyed refreshments and a social hour.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held its last meeting for the season on Monday afternoon in the Library of the Technical High School.

The president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, called the meeting to order, and stated her gratification that the Clubs had made it possible to send a delegate from the Federation to the Biennial Convention in June, and expressed pleasure that she was the representative chosen.

The resignation of Mrs. Charles C. Willson, as a director, to be effective at the next meeting, was read, Mrs. Willson having been nominated for the office of first vice-president for the coming year. The Board elected Mrs. Ethel P. Leach, of the Community Service Club of West Newton, to fill this vacancy.

The chairman of the Legislative committee, Mrs. Arthur W. C. Desoe, reported that about a dozen women availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Court House and Police Headquarters as planned by her committee. At each place they were welcomed most graciously and were shown over the buildings.

Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, chairman of the Nominating committee, read the ballot which will be voted upon at the Annual Meeting, May 2nd. The regulations of the Federation that these offices shall be distributed among the different affiliated Clubs makes the completion of the ballot a difficult matter, and the committee is to be complimented on the strong list it offers. The announcement that Mrs. Charles C. Cunningham, who has so ably filled the office of corresponding secretary, would be unable to accept re-election, was a disappointment to the members of the Board, and the president took occasion to mention the splendid work of Mrs. Cunningham and of Mrs. Harold Moore, the corresponding and recording secretaries, respectively, whose tenure of those offices will terminate next week.

Amendments to the By-Laws regarding meetings, nominations and quorum were voted upon and accepted.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held its Annual Meeting and banquet on Monday evening, April 25th, at Seiler's Restaurant in Wellesley. It was a joyous occasion for the fifty-eight Club members who attended. A bountiful dinner was served. It was followed by the business meeting, with reports of the year read by the officers and chairmen of their respective committes. The president, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, gave a very friendly talk on the work of the Club year, and expressed her sincere appreciation of the co-operation of the officers and members in their efforts to make it a success, both socially and financially. Mrs. Aiken was presented with a President's Club pin and a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, in behalf of the Club members.

For the year 1932-1933 the Club officers elected are as follows: President, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken; first vice-president, Mrs. Justin Starkie; second vice-president, Mrs. Albert Proctor; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter R. Evans; corresponding secretary, Miss Doris Hardy; treasurer, Mrs. William Dunham; auditor, Miss Ella A. Curtis; directors for one year: Mrs. Ross Folger and Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin; and directors for two years: Mrs. Elizabeth A. Burrows, Mrs. Percy Marden, and Mrs. Mary Wieczorik. The standing committees for the year 1932-1933 are: Community Service, Mrs. Justin Starkie, chairman; Mrs. G. Vaughn Shedd, and Mrs. John Temperley; Hospitality committee, Mrs. Percy Marden, chairman; Mrs. Carl Cedergren, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Elmer Atwell, Mrs. W. F. Tennihan, and Mrs. Frank Proctor; House committee, Mrs. Ross Folger, chairman; Miss Grace Hunt, and Mrs. Maurice Lacroix; Legislative committee, Mrs. Albert Proctor, chairman; Mrs. Walter Stevens and Mrs. James Hemphill; Membership committee, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, chairman; Mrs. Thomas E. Lees and Mrs. Schuyler Cutler; Printing, Mrs. Mary Wieczorek, chairman; Miss Katherine Sullivan and Mrs. Raymond Capobianco.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club closed its year on Tuesday, the 26th, with a luncheon and Annual Meeting at the Charles River Country Club in Needham. During the business meeting it was voted to add a representative to the Social Service committee of the State Federation; to place the name of Mrs. Charles Pickard on the list of Honorary Members; and a gift of $35 to the District Nursing Association and another of $15 to the Newton Welfare Committee.

After the Annual reports, the chairman of the Nominating committee, Mrs. N. L. Grant, submitted the following list of officers: President, Mrs. Stephen Wright; vice-president, Mrs. George F. Howland; secretary, Mrs. Thomas B. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Harold W. Knowlton; and Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, Mrs. William DeWitt, Mrs. Richard Walter, and Mrs. Otis Cary as the Executive Committee. Upon the election of these officers, the retiring president, Mrs. Ernest Drew, expressed her appreciation of the privileges she had enjoyed as president, and congratulated the Club on its new president, Mrs. Stephen Wright, who was a former president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, and is now chairman of the Social Welfare committee of the State Federation. Mrs. Drew then presented the gavel to Mrs. Wright, with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Wright gracefully accepted her office, and gave the rest of the day to the retiring president, who was then presented with flowers by the new vice-president, Mrs. Howland.

During the luncheon, each member responded to her name when called, with a short story or poem. A short skit arranged by the Program chairman, Mrs. Richard Walter, in which several Club members participated, showed an "Exchange where dissatisfied people came to get rid of their miseries and take others in their places," and the ludicrous results were very amusing. The Club then adjourned, each member already having drawn a topic on Current Literature on which to work during the summer.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Annual Meeting and election of officers of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands was held on Tuesday, April 26th, in the Congregational Parish House. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by the business meeting at 2 o'clock. The annual reports of the officers and chairmen of committees were read and approved, and the following officers for 1932-1933 were elected: President, Mrs. Theron B. Walker; first vice-president, Mrs. Edward H. Weeks; second vice-president, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; recording secretary, Mrs. Preble W. Blake; corersponding secretary, Mrs. Harry B. Bradford; treasurer, Mrs. Frederick T. McGill; auditor, Mrs. Malcolm Green; directors: Mrs. Francis A. Rugg, Mrs. William A. Camp, Mrs. Fred G. Sanford, and Mrs. Henry E. Williams; directors of the Workshop: Mrs. Harry R. Lamphere, Mrs. Hubert S. Dennie, Mrs. Albion H. Brown, and Mrs. Lawrence S. Smith; Nominating committee, 1933-1934: Mrs. Carl Kolb, chairman; Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, Mrs. Charles C. Brown, Mrs. Krickel K. Carrick, Mrs. James F. Cooper, Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, and Mrs. Anthony Warfield.

After a few words of appreciation and farewell by the popular retiring president, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, the new president, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, was introduced and she greeted the Club in her charming, efficient manner.

Mr. Thomas Smith, of the Bostonians, spoke to the Club for five minutes in the interests of the Romberg Opera Company which is at the Boston Opera House at the present time. Mr. Smith urged every member of the Club to attend at least one performance of the operettas.

Mrs. Viola Gordon Munro appeared in Colonial costume and read from Jane Cowl's repertoire.

"Mother Earth" and Her Children," a one-act comedy by Barbara Abel, was then presented by the Legislative committee with the following cast: Mrs. Luther W. Piper, Mrs. C. A. Thompson, Mrs. Preble W. Blake, Mrs. James E. Rayner, Mrs. Edward H. Weeks, Mrs. William E. Leonard, and Mrs. Lawrence B. Chapman.

Successful business and delightful entertainment made a very happy afternoon for all members present.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Current Club year of the Newtonville Woman's Club came to a close on Tuesday, April 26th, when the Club assembled in the Annual Meeting and luncheon, in the Central Congregational Church.

About 145 members and guests partook of a most delicious luncheon, the arrangements for which were under the capable management of Mrs. A. William Krause and the members of the Social committee. Mrs. Krause and her committee are to be congratulated for the splendid work they have done this year, culminating in the very efficient supervision of the Annual Luncheon.

The reading of the annual reports was given in somewhat different character this year. The chairman of each committee handed in a report to be kept on file, and the high-lights of each were incorporated into one report that was read by one of the vice-presidents, Mrs. Royal T. Lapham, in her clever and inimitable manner.

The reports of two Special committees were given, also; one by Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, chairman of the Housing committee, who reported plans concerning a building for the use of the Club; and Mrs. F. Spencer Aremp's report on the contract bridge tournament. The Newtonville Club claims the honor of winning this tournament through the efforts of a team composed of Mrs. F. Spencer Arend, Mrs. Sidney L. Sholley, Mrs. Norman Southworth, and Mrs. William J. Holter. A large silver cup was the reward for the Club, and individual silver cups were given to each member of the team. The large cup, if won another year will belong to the Newtonville Club permanently.

The ballot for the election of officers for the coming year was cast and election was announced, the ballot being as follows:

President, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair; vice-presidents, Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley and Mrs. Bion M. Weatherhead; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Morris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George H. Tracy; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney; assistant treasurer, Mrs. George W. Taylor; clerk, Mrs. Frank E. Winsor; chairman of finance, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard; chairman of Publicity, Mrs. Paul E. Elicker; directors: Mrs. Edward O. Woodward, chairman of American Home committee; Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, chairman of Drama committee; Mrs. George A. Edmands, chairman of Education committee; Mrs. Henry J. Baringer, chairman of Hospital committee; Mrs. Harold D. Billings, chairman of Social committee; and nominating committee: Mrs. Ralph W. Conant, chairman; Mrs. Arthur H. Burdick, Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, Mrs. Horace Kidger, and Miss Justina MacAdams.

A departure from the regular procedure usually followed at the Annual Meeting was the entertainment feature, arranged jointly by the Glee Club and the Program committee. The Glee Club has entertained several times this year, and their selections at this meeting were exceptionally well rendered, and received equally as well by the audience which responded with appreciative applause. Under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Curtis, who also accompanied at the piano, they sang "Salutation," by Samuel Richards Gaines; "Trees," arranged by Oscar Rasbach; and "Morning," by Oley Speaks. Miss Curtis, as leader, and Mrs. Clinton N. Kyle, as chairman, have put much time and effort into their work with the Glee Club this year, the results of which were evidenced in this recital.

Mrs. Susan Bartlett, dressed in a gorgeous Chinese costume of the Tong dynasty, then gave a most colorful and appealing reading "The Twilight Hour of Yang Knei Fei," which interpreted the fascinating and tragic story of the Cleopatra of China. Mrs. Bartlett has charm and grace, and these qualities, united with her experience of life in China, make a fitting background for her ability as a reader.

This program closed the most delightful series of programs which Mrs. R. Charles Thompson and her program committee have arranged for the Club this past year.

Social Science Club

The Annual Meeting of the Social Science Club was held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday, the 27th of April, at 10:45 o'clock followed by Luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. During the business session, reports of officers were accepted, and it was announced that the Club's Scholarship for this year had been awarded to Mary Harrington, who intends to study at the Perry Kindergarten Normal School. Also, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts chairman of the Program committee, gave a Reading List for members to consult during the summer, in connection with next year's program.

Officers re-elected to serve during the year 1932-1933 were Mrs. Everett E. Kent, president; Mrs. Lucius H. Thayer and Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., vice-presidents; Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison, recording secretary; Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, treasurer; Miss Caroline R. Braman, auditor; and Mrs. Henry O. Marcy, Jr., and Mrs. Ralph W. Angier, directors. Two officers newly-elected were Mrs Carlos T. Pierce, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, director.

Following the luncheon several Club members entertained by appearing in costume representing the title of some book, and the audience guessed what this title might be.

"Moving Days"

LESS TOPSY-TURVY

WHEN moving, there are a thousand-and-one things to think of—like getting the cat and canary safely settled! But there is one thing you don't have to bother about—your electric current. For once Edison current is "turned on" in a house or building, for our customers' convenience, we keep it "on" . . . All you need do is to tell us your new address and the date of your moving, so we can make the proper bookkeeping records—and when you arrive at your new home, you can depend on the current being there—awaiting you.

Obviously, if you're moving into a new house or apartment where Edison current has never been available, we'll have to ask you to notify us to make the wiring connections—and as long as possible in advance, if you please—for this work necessarily takes considerable time . . .

And perhaps you'll want a new appliance or two to take along to your new home? We have any number that would be honored to be chosen—not to mention the very fine stock carried by other nearby stores selling electric appliances.

TEACHERS' SALARIES NOT TO BE INCREASED

is to pick up a little here and there, thus adding up hundreds of thousands of dollars. I think I was responsible for quite a number of dollars turned back to the city treasury last year. This year, for example, I have taken the $25,000 appropriation for office expenses and have charged my secretary, Mr. Dempsey, with the task of turning back ten percept of that amount. All toll telephone calls made at city hall must be explained in writing. The first month that I put this rule into effect the telephone bill was one third of that of the previous month.

"I think we have the situation well in hand this year, but I am looking ahead to next year."

Mr. Mather and Secretary Kellar of the School Committee informed the Mayor that the School Committee also has been endeavoring to effect economies wherever possible.

Mr. Tracy, who had voted against the salary increases when the budget was being discussed some weeks ago, stated at that time that he had so voted because no appropriation was recommended for needed additional teachers. Since then he had advocated the granting of the increases. When the vote was taken Tuesday night, he alone held to his view on this matter. The other 6 members of the committee, and Mayor Weeks, voting as an ex-officio member, voted against the increases. The vote was then made unanimous, on motion of Mr. Amesbury.

CHANGES AT NEWTON CENTRE POSTOFFICE

M. John Barry, since 1920 superintendent at the Newton Center postoffice has been transferred to the position of Foreman of Carriers with headquarters at the Burlington avenue postoffice at Boston. Mr. Barry has been 34 years in the postal service; he was a letter carrier prior to being appointed superintendent. A man of intelligence, tact and dignity, he has acquired an enviable reputation among the people he served at Newton Centre and with his subordinates. As a testimonial of the esteem in which he was held, he was presented with a gold watch by the employees of the Newton Centre postoffice on Thursday. Mr. John Fay made the presentation speech. Mr. Barry will be succeeded by Joseph Nolan of Gardner street, Newton, as Superintendent at Newton Center. Mr. Nolan has been acting as foreman at Newton Center. Charles Laffie of West Newton has been transferred from the position of Foreman of Carriers to foreman at Newton Centre.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

The final luncheon conference of the season was held at The Hollis in Newton on Wednesday, April 20. The subject for discussion was "The Young Girl Problems in Newton from the Point of View of Leisure Time Activities".

Mrs. C. Douglas Mercer, President of the Boston Y. W. C. A. with which organization Newton is affiliated, outlined the activities of the Y. W. C. A. and suggested ways in which Newton girls may avail themselves of its privileges, and also may benefit from extension work, when needed. The Boston Y. W. C. A. has members from 147 communities of Metropolitan Boston, Newton alone has 487 girls registered for specific activities such as swimming or other sports; and this does not include girls who come in for general activities such as dancing, roller skating, etc.

The Boston Y. W. C. A. is glad to help in extension work in any community, but the request must come from the community, and eventually the support of the work must come from that community also. Advice is free. Newton should eventually have its own Y. W. C. A. as it did several years ago, but meantime extension work is necessary.

There are three difficulties in Newton:

1. Lack of homogeneity of the villages
2. Intense sectional feeling
3. Difficulty in getting together, geographically and financially.

Mrs. Steven B. Wilson, who is a member of the committee which has been sponsoring extension of Y. W. C. A. work in Newton, told of her experiences with a group of young girls in Newton. These girls are in two groups, ranging from babies to Junior High School age. They were taken in to keep them off the streets around Newton Corner when the Y. W. C. A. was functioning there as a separate organization, under the leadership of Miss Anne Leathers. In 1930 the Newton Y. W. C. A. joined with Boston, and for a year a paid worker was sent out from Boston to keep the groups together. Unfortunately there was no proper meetingplace available, volunteer workers could not be obtained to help, and most of the children needed individual case-work which the Y. M. C. A. could not give, so that the membership fell away almost entirely and the work has been given up. Mrs. Wilson feels, however, that there is a real need for it and the Y. W. C. A. will help if these difficulties can be overcome. A volunteer theological student can be obtained to take over the clubs, if there is help.

During the discussion of this problem various members of the conference offered advice and definite help. Mr. Bruce, Executive Secretary of the Boy Scouts in Newton, offered to find a proper meeting place. Miss Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, said that the Bureau will help as much as possible through their work with the families of the girls, although they are not equipped to do individual casework. Mrs. Spear, President of the Council, with Mrs. Mercer, and Mrs. Wilson, is to help in securing a group of volunteers to assist in the work of carrying on the club activities.

K. OF C.

Next Tuesday evening at the lodge rooms of Newton Council Knights of Columbus located in Elks Hall, Newton, Brother Fabian, C. F. X., Supt. of the Working Boys' Home will address the members of the Council.

Brother Fabian has been associated with the Congregation of Francis Xavier for a number of years and is considered one of the leading authorities on the training of boys. The splendid work being accomplished year after year at the Working Boys' Home in Newton Highlands is due to a large extent, to the executive ability of Brother Fabian and his associates and their knowledge of youths.

This Institution is known throughout the entire country for the remarkable work it is doing in caring for youngsters who have been deprived of a home of their own and without guidance of a father and mother. Each quarter of the year a little booklet, written by Brother Fabian, is sent to subscribers in every State in the Union.

In addition to the talk to be given by Brother Fabian, the Council will conduct a business meeting at which time nominations for Council Officers will be accepted for the 1932-33 term of administration. The importance of the meeting and the talk to be delivered will serve as a magnet for drawing many members to the Council on that evening. The meeting will commence at 8:00 p. m.

Election of Officers will be held at the first meeting in June.

On Sunday morning, May 8th, at 9:00 o'clock Mass in the Church of Our Lady on Washington street, Newton, hundreds of members of Newton Council K. of C. will assemble in annual public remembrance of their deceased Brother Knights. The annual reception of Holy Communion by the Council as a group is the most important activity of the year,—surpassing all events on the Council calendar regardless of their seeming importance.

Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, Chaplain of the K. of C., and pastor of the Newton Church will officiate at the Mass. Father Slattery is one of the oldest pastors in the Archdiocese in years of service and as Spiritual Director of the Council plays a most important part in the workings of the Council. He has proferred the facilities of his beautiful new school building for the breakfast which will follow the Mass.

Mr. Francis Frazier of Pearl street, Newton has been appointed by Grand Knight Walter J. Connor to handle all the details connected with this annual activity. Supervising a large Committee and making arrangements for the comfort of all attending is the important work of his Committee. Fr. Frazier is affiliated with the Boston Board of Education and is one of the prominent members of the Council. At the breakfast he will act as chairman.

The main speaker of the morning is Rev. George Smith, S. J., recently returned from Spain. Father Smith is a brilliant orator and will tell many of his experiences across the water.

Reservations for non-members should be made with Mr. Francis Frazier, Pearl street, Newton.
